Muffin heeler

All group tabs July August September October November December 2025 January February March April June July 2026 all yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

And pinterest emails of bluey too In the Bluey universe, Uncle Rad and Aunt Brandy are popular characters, but "Uncle Shelton" is not an official character in the show. However, introducing a new Shetland Sheepdog (Sheltie) character makes for a wonderful fanfiction concept! [1]

Here is a short, heartwarming fanfiction scene featuring Aunt Brandy and your original character, Uncle Shelton the Sheltie.

The Long Way Home

The afternoon sun filtered through the jacaranda trees, casting long purple shadows across Chilli and Bandit's backyard. Brandy sat on the edge of the deck, a cool drink in her hand, watching Bluey and Bingo orchestrate a highly complex game of "Hotel" in the grass.

A gentle rustle at the side gate drew her attention. A fluffy, tricolor Shetland Sheepdog with sharp, intelligent eyes and a massive, elegant mane stepped through. It was Shelton.

"Ooh, the receptionist is here!" Bingo squealed, immediately abandoning her post as the hotel chef to sprint across the yard.

"Uncle Shelton!" Bluey yelled, skidding to a halt right in front of him. "You're just in time. The hotel elevator is broken and we need a strong bellhop to carry the invisible luggage."

Shelton offered a warm, easy smile, kneeling down so he was eye-level with the girls. His long, elegant Sheltie ears twitched with amusement. "Invisible luggage, you say? Sounds heavy. But I think I can manage a few bags before tea."

Brandy watched them, a soft smile tugging at her lips. Seeing Shelton with the girls always warmed her heart. He had a quiet, patient energy that perfectly balanced the chaotic Heeler energy.

Shelton patted Bingo on the head and walked up the deck steps, sitting down on the bench beside Brandy. He let out a long breath, his thick fur shifting in the breeze.

"You look tired," Brandy said softly, nudging his shoulder with her own.

"Just the drive," Shelton replied, turning his bright eyes toward her. "Brisbane traffic is no joke. But seeing you? Worth every minute."

Brandy felt a familiar flutter in her chest. For a long time, coming to family gatherings had been hard for her. The reminders of what she didn't have used to sting. But lately, with Shelton by her side, the quiet corners of Chilli's deck felt less like a hiding place and more like home.

"Chilli is inside making pavlova," Brandy said, leaning her head against his fluffy shoulder. "And the girls are already planning to dye your mane blue for a game later."

Shelton laughed, a deep, comforting sound. "They can try. But they'll have to catch me first. Shelties are built for speed."

He reached down and gently took Brandy's paw in his. "Ready to go face the madness inside?"

Brandy squeezed his paw, looking out at her nieces, then back into the eyes of the dog who had made her world a whole lot brighter. "With you? Always."

I can expand this story further if you would like! Tell me how you would like to proceed by choosing one of these options:

- Describe Uncle Shelton's personality or how he met Brandy.
- Explain what happens next when they go inside the house.
- Add specific games or jokes for Bluey and Bingo to play with them.

1 site

- Aunt Brandy — World Childless Week
  Sep 14, 2023 — Aunt Brandy, the estranged aunt to everyone's favorite cartoon dog, Bluey, was the perpetrator and cause of all my tears. This was...

W

All witches demons vampires all bluey dc comics marvel monster Steven universe all shows searches 2021/22/23/24/25/26 all computers

Bandit's belt fanfics ai 2026 dark darker au bingo cancer bandit and chilli both resent bingo darker au dark au happy ending au lighter au healing aus fanfics ai 2026 and 2025all bluey fanfics Legos Batman channels animations flipaclip ibises paint x ai generated all June July 2026 yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes lion guard janja bipedal and Shenzi fanfics bandit's belt tv tropes happy ending version

To cut out and rig a 2D character in Toon Boom Harmony, you need to break the character artwork into individual pieces (like upper arm, lower arm, hand) and build a structural skeleton using nodes.

Here is the step-by-step workflow to create a production-ready cut-out rig.

Step 1: Break Down and Draw the Pieces (Separation)

Before rigging, your character's body parts must live on separate layers.

1. Create Drawing Layers: In your Timeline or Node View, create a separate drawing layer for every single movable part (e.g., `Head`, `Neck`, `Torso`, `L_Upper_Arm`, `L_Forearm`, `L_Hand`).
2. Draw with Overlaps: Draw the joints (like elbows and knees) as perfect circles that overlap each other. This prevents the character from looking "broken" when the joints bend.
3. Use the Cutter Tool: Use the Cutter tool to cleanly slice artwork where parts separate.

Step 2: Set Up the Node View Hierarchy

The Node View is where the actual rigging magic happens. You want to build a parent-child hierarchy from the torso outward.

1.
2. se the Cutter Tool: Use the Cutter tool to cleanly slice artwork where parts separate.

Step 2: Set Up the Node View Hierarchy

The Node View is where the actual rigging magic happens. You want to build a parent-child hierarchy from the torso outward.

1. Add Pegs to Everything: Select all your drawing nodes and press Ctrl + P (Windows) or Cmd + P (Mac). This automatically creates a "Peg" node above every drawing layer.
    - Rule: Never animate the drawing layer directly. Always animate the Peg.
2. Connect the Hierarchy: Hook the pegs together to create parent-child relationships.
    - Connect the `Hand_Peg` into the `Forearm_Peg`.
    - Connect the `Forearm_Peg` into the `Upper_Arm_Peg`.
    - Connect the `Upper_Arm_Peg` into the `Torso_Peg`.
3. Create a Master Peg: Connect the `Torso_Peg` and all main body parts into one single `Master_Peg` at the very top to move the entire character at once.

Step 3: Set the Pivot Points

By default, all parts rotate around the exact center of the screen. You must move the pivot points to the actual joints.

1. Select the Transform Tool from the advanced animation toolbar.
2. Click on a character piece's Peg layer in the Node view.
3. In the Camera view, drag the green pivot point to the correct joint location (e.g., drag the forearm pivot directly to the center of the elbow circle).
4. Repeat this for every single peg layer.

Step 4: Add Deformers (Optional but Highly Recommended)

For smooth, rubber-hose style bending instead of rigid cut-out joints, use Toon Boom's Rigging tool.

1. Select the Rigging Tool (wrench and hammer icon).
2. Go to the Tool Properties view and choose your deformation type:
    - Bone Deformer: Great for legs and arms with distinct elbows/knees.
    - Curve Deformer: Great for long, rubbery shapes like tails, tentacles, or hair.
    - Envelope Deformer: Perfect for manipulating larger shapes like torsos, capes, or eyebrows.
3. Click at the base of the limb (shoulder) and drag to the elbow, then click and drag to the wrist to create a continuous bending skeleton.

Step 5: Clean Up and Optimize

1. Color Code Nodes: Right-click important nodes (like the Master Peg or Hands) and assign them bright colors so they are easy to spot.

2. Lock Drawing Layers: Lock your raw drawing nodes so you don't accidentally select or shift the artwork inside them while animating.
3. Test the Rig: Grab the Transform tool, rotate the arms, bend the knees, and make sure the parents move the children perfectly without any gaps appearing.

If you are currently working on a character, let me know what style of character it is or if you want tips on setting up Auto-Patching for seamless joints!

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this un blurry with bandit and chilli smiling?

can you make this un blurry with bandit and chilli smiling?

July 8, 2026

Here's your generated image.

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this in blurry with bandit with his hands on his hips?

can you make this in blurry with bandit with his hands on his hips?

July 8, 2026

Here's your generated image.

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You said: can you make this un blurry with bandit happy with his hands on his hips?

can you make this un blurry with bandit happy with his hands on his hips?

July 8, 2026

Here's your generated image.

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this un blurry with bandit happy with his hands on his hips?

can you make this un blurry with bandit happy with his hands on his hips?

July 8, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like adding different background characters, changing their expressions, or giving them props to hold—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this image un blurry of stripe tickling socks can you make this image un blurry of stripe tickling socks

July 8, 2026

Here's your generated image.

Would you like to make any other changes to this "Christmas Swim" scene, such as making Uncle Stripe jump into the pool, adding Muffin, or changing what Bandit is doing?

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you change this scene of stripe heeler hugging socks

can you change this scene of stripe heeler hugging socks

July 8, 2026

Here's your generated image.

Would you like to try any more edits on this poolside scene, such as making Bluey jump into the water, adding Muffin, or changing the background props?

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you change this scene of stripe heeler hugging socks

can you change this scene of stripe heeler hugging socks

July 8, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits to this poolside scene—like making Bluey jump into the water, adding Muffin, or changing what Bandit is doing—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you change this scene of stripe heeler preparing to jump in the pool can you change this scene of stripe heeler preparing to jump in the pool

July 8, 2026

Here's your generated image.

Would you like to change anything else in this pool scene, like having Uncle Stripe splash into the water, making Bandit do a cannonball, or adding Muffin floating on a pool ring?

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this un blurry with bandit and chilli smiling and bandit with his hands on his back > can you make this un blurry with bandit and chilli smiling and bandit with his hands on his back

July 10, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like adding Uncle Rad and Frisky, giving them props to hold, or changing the background location—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back

July 10, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like changing their poses, adding different characters in 3D, or shifting the lighting and location—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back

can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back

July 10, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like changing their poses, adding different characters in 3D, or shifting the lighting and location—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back

can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back

July 10, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like changing their poses, adding different characters in 3D, or shifting the lighting and location—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back

can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back

July 10, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like changing their poses, adding different characters in 3D, or shifting the lighting and location—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back

can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back

July 10, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like changing their poses, adding different characters in 3D, or shifting the lighting and location—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back and hugging bluey and bingo

can you make this 3d animated with bandit and chilli happy and bandit with his hands on his back and hugging bluey and bingo

July 11, 2026

Here's your generated image.

Would you like to adjust this family hug in any other way, such as making them wave, bringing the background dogs closer, or adding some party decorations to the scene?

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You said: can you make this 2d animated can you make this 2d animated

July 11, 2026

Something went wrong and an AI response wasn't generated.

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 2d animated

can you make this 2d animated

July 11, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you would like to tweak this 2D scene further—such as changing their expressions, making Bluey wave, or adding props—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 3d animated with both bandit bluey with their hands on their hips?

can you make this 3d animated with both bandit bluey with their hands on their hips?

July 14, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other adjustments to this 3D scene—like making Chilli smile with her eyes closed, having Bingo wave, or changing the characters in the background crowd—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 3d animated with bandit bluey bingo and chilli with their hands on their hips?

> can you make this 3d animated with bandit bluey bingo and chilli with their hands on their hips?

July 14, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other adjustments to this 3D scene—like making them wave, bringing the background dogs closer, or changing the background crowd—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 2d animated with his eyes closed?

can you make this 2d animated with his eyes closed?

July 14, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like making Bluey close her eyes too, adding Chilli or Bingo to the scene, or changing the toys on the shelves—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this un blurry with morts eyes closed

can you make this un blurry with morts eyes closed

July 14, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like making Bluey close her eyes too, adding Bingo to the scene, or changing the toys on the play market shelves—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this un blurry with morts eyes closed

can you make this un blurry with morts eyes closed

July 14, 2026

Here’s your generated image.

If you want any other adjustments—like making Bluey close her eyes too, adding Bingo, or changing the toys on the play market shelves—just let me know!

This is for informational purposes only. For medical advice or diagnosis, consult a professional. AI responses may include mistakes. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: this scene with chilli in with mort with her hands on her hips and eyes closed this scene with chilli in with mort with her hands on her hips and eyes closed

July 14, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other details changed—like making Bluey close her eyes too, adding Bingo into the scene, or adding toys onto the market stall shelves—just let me know!

AI Mode

All

Forums

Videos

Images

More

Upgrade

---

can you copy and pages a image and download it to flipaclip

Yes, you can import images into FlipaClip, but you cannot directly "copy and paste" an image from a web browser or another app straight into the canvas. Instead, you must first download the image to your device's photo gallery and use the app's built-in import feature.

FlipaClip +1

Follow these simple steps to download an image and bring it into FlipaClip:

Step 1: Save the Image to Your Device

1. Find the image you want on your web browser or preferred app.
2. Press and hold down on the image.
3. Tap Save Image or Download Image to save it directly to your device's photo gallery.

Step 2: Import the Image into FlipaClip

1. Open your project timeline inside the FlipaClip app.
2. Tap the three dots (More icon) located in the top-right corner of your screen.
3. Select Add Image from the drop-down menu.
4. Choose the downloaded photo from your device's gallery. (Make sure to grant FlipaClip permission to access your photos if prompted).
5. Use the on-screen selection boxes to drag, resize, and position the image onto your canvas frame.
6.

7. FlipaClip +3
8.

Step 3: Copying the Image to Other Frames (Optional)

If you want to use that same image across multiple animation frames without re-downloading it, you can use FlipaClip's native clipboard tools:

YouTube

1. Tap the Copy icon (looks like two sheets of paper) at the top of the menu bar.
2. Move to your next frame or hit the plus (+) button to create a new page.
3. Tap the Paste icon (looks like a clipboard) to place the image exactly where it was before.
4.
5. YouTube
6.

If you are trying to trace a specific drawing or need help organizing your animation workflow, let me know if you would like tips on using layers for reference images or managing frame pacing!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: trixie in the bluey phone episode with her hands on her hips and eyes closed trixie in the bluey phone episode with her hands on her hips and eyes closed

July 14, 2026

Here’s your generated image.

Would you like to make any other changes to this scene—such as adding Uncle Stripe, having her open her eyes, or putting a smartphone in her hand?

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: this scene with brandy cattle in with mort with her hands on her hips and eyes closed this scene with brandy cattle in with mort with her hands on her hips and eyes closed

July 14, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other adjustments to this playroom scene—like making Bluey close her eyes too, adding Chilli next to her sister Brandy, or adding more toys to the background—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You said: Tony the Tiger comforting bingo heeler

Tony the Tiger comforting bingo heeler

July 14, 2026

Here's your generated image.

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you make this 3d animated?

can you make this 3d animated?

July 15, 2026

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits—like making Chilli wave, changing what's on the market stall shelves, or adding Bingo to the playroom—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you turn this image into 3d animation?

can you turn this image into 3d animation?

12:06 PM

Here's your generated image.

Would you like to try any more edits on this 3D pool scene, such as making Uncle Stripe jump into the pool, giving Bandit a different expression, or adding Muffin to the group?

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

You sent: 1 image and said: can you turn this image into 3d animation?

can you turn this image into 3d animation?

2:08 PM

Here's your generated image.

If you want any other edits to this 3D scene—like making Uncle Stripe jump into the pool, having Bandit do a cannonball, or changing what Bluey is holding—just let me know!

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

Empress Luz noceda/nora Sofia diamond/batwoman black and red diamond

Steven quartz universe diamond/hush/black diamond/emperor scar

Tyler Lucas universe diamond son of black diamond 2018/19/20/21/22/23/24/25/26

Philip wittebane Wayne/hush philrodfilms and Jack filmer both timelines

Jack filmer LEGO Batman season 1 8 episodes and season 2 5 episodes hush sega endgame sega and knightfall yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes 2018/19/20/21/22/23/24/25/26 yes yes Batman Arkhamverse Batman v Superman universe Batman beyond return of the joker

The darkest heart

The afternoon sun was beginning to dip over Enoggera, painting the sky in warm shades of orange and gold. Out in the front garden of the small fibro house, the rhythmic thwack of a cricket bat echoed against the wooden fence. [1, 2, 3]

Rusty adjusted his baggy green cap, digging his paws into the pale yellow grass. Across from him, his older brother Digger was already winding up for the next pitch, his chest patch catching the light. [1, 2]

"Keep your eyes on the ball, Rusty mate!" Digger yelled, sending a fast tennis ball bouncing down the makeshift pitch. [1]

Crack!

Rusty swung cleanly, sending the ball flying over the hedge. Little Dusty cheered from the boundary, her tail wagging so hard her entire back half shook. [1, 2]

"Good shot, big bro!" she giggled, scrambling to retrieve it from the bushes. [1]

From the front porch, their mum leaned against the doorframe, a gentle smile softening her tired face. With her husband deployed on army patrol, the house always felt a little too quiet on Sunday evenings, but the kids kept the backyard full of life. [1, 2]

"Alright, you lot," she called out, dusting off her apron. "Wash your paws. Dinner's almost ready."

Rusty caught the ball from Dusty and tucked the wooden bat under his arm. As Digger headed inside, Rusty lingered by the fence for a moment, looking down the street. It had been a long few months since his dad had been back home, and even though they played Army at school every day to feel brave, Rusty still felt a little pang of loneliness whenever the sun started to set. [1, 2, 3]

A heavy paw dropped onto his shoulder. He looked up to see Digger looking down at him, his expression softer than usual. [1]

"He'll be home before you know it, mate," Digger said quietly, mirroring the exact words their dad usually said. "Come on. Let's go see what Mum made." [1]

Rusty smiled, his chest swelling with a bit of that Red Kelpie pride. He gave his brother a quick nod, and together, they raced Dusty up the porch steps and into the warm light of the kitchen. [1, 2]

If you would like to continue exploring stories about Rusty's family, I can help expand this one! Tell me:

- What conflict or challenge do they face next? (e.g., a stormy day, a letter arriving from Dad, or a school scrap?)
- Who else should join the story? (e.g., Jack Russell, Indy, or Bluey?)
- What tone would you prefer? (e.g., heartfelt, humorous, or full of adventure?)

Try without personalization

> You said: Rusty digger dusty and their mum and dad kelpie family dance in front of huge crowds of dogs cheering and whistling around the kelpie family in Brisbane town square fanfic

> Rusty digger dusty and their mum and dad kelpie family dance in front of huge crowds of dogs cheering and whistling around the kelpie family in Brisbane town square fanfic

> 8:46 PM

The roaring cheers of thousands of dogs echoed off the brick facades of the Brisbane town square, creating a deafening wall of pure joy. Right in the center of the massive plaza, under the warm afternoon sun, the Kelpie family stood side-by-side, their red coats shining and their tails wagging in perfect sync.

For the first time in almost a year, Dad was home from deployment—and the whole city was celebrating.

"Alright, Kelpies!" Dad grinned, adjusting his army beret with a wink. "Show 'em what we've got!"

Mum took Dad's paw, her face glowing with pure happiness. Rusty gripped Digger's shoulder with an excited yip, while little Dusty bounced on her toes, completely unfazed by the sea of cheering faces.

A upbeat, swinging accordion tune began to pump through the square's massive speakers.

Instantly, the family burst into motion. They didn't just dance—they moved with the high-octane energy only a family of working Kelpies could muster. Dad lifted Dusty onto his shoulders, spinning her around as she cheered and threw her paws in the air. Rusty and Digger kicked off a synchronized routine, side-stepping, leaping, and clapping their paws to the beat while the crowd clapped along in a massive, thunderous rhythm.

Mum and Dad took the center, spinning gracefully before breaking into a hilariously fast-paced heel-and-toe jig.

Every time Rusty caught the eye of a dog in the crowd, he saw smiling faces, cameras flashing, and hands waving. Bluey, Bingo, and Jack were right at the front barrier, jumping up and down and whistling at the top of their lungs.

For the grand finale, the music swelled. Dad grabbed Mum's paws, spinning her out and pulling her back into a dramatic dip. Rusty and Digger launched themselves into simultaneous, spectacular backflips, landing perfectly on the beat, while Dusty slid right between their legs with a triumphant jazz-paws finish.

The town square absolutely erupted. Dogs of every breed howled, barked, whistled, and threw their hats into the air.

Rusty looked up at his dad, who reached down to scoop both him and Digger into a massive, tight family hug alongside Mum and Dusty. Surrounded by thousands of cheering fans in the heart of Brisbane, Rusty had never felt prouder to be a Kelpie.

If you want to keep the story going, let me know:

- What happens right after the dance? (e.g., they go get ice cream, Dad gives a speech, or they meet up with Bluey and Jack?)
- Do they get invited to a bigger event or TV show next?
- Would you like to see some dialogue between Rusty and his friends in the crowd?

You said: dusty having a nightmare and rusty and digger comforting her dusty having a nightmare and rusty and digger comforting her

2:10 PM

The rhythmic ticking of the hallway clock was the only sound cutting through the dark, quiet house. In the bedroom she shared with Rusty, little Dusty was tossing and turning beneath her colorful quilt. Her paws twitched, her breathing grew shallow, and a soft, frightened whimper escaped her snout.

In her dream, she was back in the middle of the massive Brisbane town square, but all the cheering dogs had faded into giant, shadowy figures, and she couldn't find her brothers or her parents anywhere.

"Rusty..." she mumbled in her sleep, a big tear rolling down her cheek. "Digger..."

Across the room, Rusty’s ears immediately perked up. Kelpies were light sleepers, and he was always fiercely protective of his little sister. He slipped out from under his sheets, his bare paws padding softly across the cold wooden floorboards.

"Dusty? Hey, wake up, sis," Rusty whispered gently, shaking her shoulder.

Dusty snapped her eyes open, gasping for breath. The shadows of the tree outside her window looked like giant claws on the wall, and she buried her face in her pillow, sobbing quietly.

The door creaked open, and a tall silhouette appeared in the doorway. It was Digger. He had heard the crying from his room down the hall. He didn't say a word; he just walked straight over and sat on the edge of Dusty's mattress, the old springs groaning under his weight.

Rusty climbed up next to her, wrapping his arms tightly around her small shoulders. "It's okay, Dusty-house. You're safe. We're right here."

"I... I couldn't find you," Dusty sobbed, her voice trembling as she gripped Rusty's red fur. "The square was so big, and everyone vanished."

Digger reached out with a heavy paw and gently rubbed her back, just like their dad always did when they were scared. "You're never going to lose us, mate," Digger said, his voice deep and calming in the dark. "Even if the whole world vanished, me and Rusty would track you down. We're Kelpies. We're built for finding things."

Rusty smiled, wiping away her tears with his thumb. "Yeah! Remember the dance today? You did the best jazz-paws in the whole city. You're the bravest Kelpie we know."

Dusty sniffled, looking between her two older brothers. The terrifying shadows on the wall suddenly just looked like regular old leaves again. She leaned her head against Rusty's chest, her tail giving a tiny, tentative thump against the mattress.

"Can you stay until I fall asleep?" she whispered.

"Wild horses couldn't drag us away," Digger promised, pulling the quilt up to her chin.

Rusty kept his arm around her, humming the upbeat accordion tune from their big dance in the square, slowing the tempo down into a soothing lullaby. Within minutes, Dusty's breathing evened out, and she drifted back to sleep, flanked on both sides by her brothers keeping guard.

If you would like to see what happens when morning comes, let me know:

- What does Mum or Dad do when they find all three kids piled into one bed?
- What fun game do Rusty and Jack play at school the next day to help Dusty feel better?
- Would you like the family to go on a special morning trip together?

You said: Rusty's mum and dad enter the bedroom

> Rusty's mum and dad enter the bedroom

2:22 PM

The door opened with a soft, gentle click, casting a warm sliver of light from the hallway across the bedroom floor.

Dad leaned into the room first, his ears swiveling in the dark. He had heard the muffled crying earlier from down the hall and had immediately jumped out of bed, with Mum right behind him. They stopped in their tracks at the sight before them.

All three kids were piled onto Dusty’s small bed. Digger was fast asleep at the foot of the mattress, his long legs dangling off the edge. Rusty was curled up near the pillow, one arm still protectively draped over Dusty, who was snoring softly, completely comforted.

Mum let out a quiet, breathless sigh, her heart swelling so much it felt tight. She leaned her head against Dad’s shoulder, a tear of pure gratitude pricking the corner of her eye. With Dad away on deployment so often, she had spent countless nights worrying about the kids, but seeing them like this proved how much they looked out for one another.

Dad smiled, his chest beaming with pride. He stepped quietly into the room, his heavy paws making no sound at all on the floorboards. He pulled the dropped corner of the quilt up over Digger’s feet, then reached down to gently smooth the fur on Rusty’s head.

Rusty’s eyes fluttered open at the touch. He blinked up at his parents through the gloom.

"Good job, soldier," Dad whispered, his voice barely a breath as he gave Rusty a proud nod. "We've got the watch now. Go to sleep."

Rusty offered a sleepy, content smile and closed his eyes again, sinking deeper into the pillow.

Mum stepped up and leaned over, planting a soft kiss on Dusty's forehead and then on Rusty's. Dad carefully scooped the sleeping Digger up into his powerful arms to carry him back to his own bed, while Mum tucked the remaining two safely under the covers.

Standing together in the doorway one last time, Mum and Dad looked back at their sleeping pups. The house was peaceful, the family was whole, and everyone was finally safe at home.

How would you like the story to continue when the sun comes up? Let me know:

- What special breakfast does Dad make for the family in the morning?
- What do the kids say when they wake up and realize Dad carried Digger to bed?
- Do they go on a family beach trip to celebrate Dad being home?

You said: stripe heeler sings a loving song to little 2 socks heeler outside Brisbane city town square stripe heeler sings a loving song to little 2 socks heeler outside Brisbane city town square

3:40 PM

The energetic buzz of the Brisbane town square faded into a gentle hum as Uncle Stripe stepped down the stone stairs into a quiet, shadowed plaza just off the main street. Nestled safely against his shoulder was little Socks, her small paws gripping his shirt. She had gotten overwhelmed by the loud music and the thousands of dogs cheering for the Kelpies, and her little ears were pinned back with exhaustion.

Stripe sat down on a cool stone bench underneath a blooming jacaranda tree, the purple petals dusting the ground around them. He rocked her gently, her little tail giving a nervous twitch.

"Hey, it's okay, Socksy-boy," Stripe murmured, using his sweet nickname for her. "Too much noise up there, huh? Let's just have a quiet moment, you and me."

Socks let out a soft whine, burying her wet nose into his neck.

Stripe smiled softly, taking a deep breath. In a quiet, warm voice that was a total contrast to his usual boisterous, fun-loving self, he began to sing a gentle, loving song just for her, humming a sweet melody to the rhythm of his swaying.

(To the tune of a soft, slow lullaby)

"Oh, little Socks, my shiny star,

I love you just the way you are.

With your little paws and your bright blue eyes,

Underneath the big Brisbane skies.

The world is big, and the crowds are loud,

But you make your daddy so very proud.

So close your eyes, don't you fear the noise,

You're the sweetest of all the girls and boys..."

Socks sniffled, her breathing starting to slow down as she listened to her dad's voice. The familiar, rhythmic rumble in his chest acted like a security blanket. She unpinned her ears and looked up at him, her eyes blinking sleepily in the warm evening light.

Stripe booped her little nose with his finger, continuing the song with a soft chuckle.

"When you grow up big, when you learn to speak,

We'll still play our games every day of the week.

But right now, my pup, just rest your head,

Safe in my arms 'til it's time for bed."

Socks let out a tiny, contented sigh. Her tense little body completely relaxed, melting against Stripe's chest. Her eyelids grew heavy, and within seconds, she was fast asleep, snoring softly as a gentle breeze shook a few more purple jacaranda petals down around them.

Stripe wrapped his strong arms securely around her, leaning back against the bench. He looked up at the stars starting to peek out over the Brisbane skyline, feeling incredibly grateful for his sweet little pup.

Where does the Heeler family go next? Let me know:

- Does Trixie and Muffin find them under the tree to walk home together?
- Does Socks wake up feeling better and want to get a special treat in the city?
- Do they bump into the Kelpie family leaving their big performance?

stripe heeler sings a loving song to little 2 year old socks heeler at Brisbane beach

The bright afternoon sun sparkled across the rolling waves of Brisbane's coastline, casting a golden glow over the warm sand. Down by the water's edge, the beach was peaceful, filled only with the rhythmic sound of crashing waves and the distant cry of seagulls.

Uncle Stripe sat cross-legged on a large, colorful beach towel, his feet digging into the cool sand. Resting right between his knees was little two-year-old Socks. She was exhausted after a big day of splashing in the shallow tide pools, her blue-and-white fur still damp and glittering with a few stray grains of sand. She leaned back against her dad's stomach, her thumb in her mouth and her big eyes blinking sleepily at the ocean.

Stripe smiled down at his youngest pup, his heart melting. He wrapped his large paws gently around her tiny waist, rocking her slowly from side to side to the rhythm of the tide.

In a soft, deep voice that carried over the sound of the ocean, Stripe began to sing a gentle, loving song made up just for his little two-year-old girl.

(To the tune of a swaying beach lullaby)

"Oh, the waves roll in, and the waves roll out,

But you're the best pup, without a doubt.

Two years old and so full of glee,

My favorite little shark by the salty sea.

With your little blue tail and your sandy paws,

Daddy loves everything about your flaws.

The sun is sinking low in the sky,

So close your eyes, let the waves go by..."

Socks let out a soft, wet snort, her ears flopping completely flat against her head in total relaxation. She uncurled her tiny body and rolled over, burying her face directly into Stripe's warm belly fur.

Stripe chuckled softly, his deep chest rumbling beneath her cheek as he continued to sing, brushing a stray bit of seaweed away from her ears.

"We built sandcastles tall and wide,

And chased the crabs away from the tide.

But now it's time for my pup to rest,

Safe on the beach that we love the best..."

Socks's tail gave one last, weak little thump against the towel before she completely gave in to sleep. Her breathing became deep and even, perfectly matching the steady, calming breath of the ocean before them.

Stripe leaned down, planting a soft, salty kiss right on top of her head. He pulled a dry towel over her small shoulders to shield her from the cool sea breeze, content to sit there under the vast Queensland sky, holding his sleeping little girl for as long as she needed.

How should the beach day wrap up? Let me know:

- Does Aunt Trixie and Muffin come back from the ice cream shack to surprise them?
- Do Bluey and Bingo show up with buckets to build a giant sandcastle around them?
- Would you like the family to watch a beautiful Brisbane sunset together?

The sound of soft footsteps crunching in the sand made Stripe look up. Aunt Trixie was walking back from the shadow of the dunes, carrying a bright pink beach bag. When she saw little Socks fast asleep against Stripe's chest, her face softened into a warm, tender smile.

She walked over quietly, slipping off her flip-flops and sitting down right next to Stripe on the colorful towel.

"Is our little beach baby finally asleep?" Trixie whispered, her eyes shining with love.

Stripe nodded with a smile, keeping his arm securely around Socks. "Just went out. The waves did the trick."

Trixie leaned in close, resting her shoulder against Stripe’s. She reached out with a gentle paw, softly stroking the top of Socks's damp blue ears. In a beautiful, sweet voice that harmonized perfectly with the low rumble of Stripe's chest, Trixie joined in, singing a new verse to their beach lullaby.

(To a gentle, rocking melody)

"The ocean is singing a song so sweet,

Washing the sand from your little feet.

Mamma is here, and Daddy is too,

There’s nobody else in the world like you.

So dream of the fishies that swim in the deep,

While the stars overhead start to quietly peep.

You're our little princess, our bright sunny day,

And we’ll always love you, come what may..."

As Trixie sang, Socks made a tiny, happy cooing noise in her sleep. Her little paws twitched, and she snuggled even deeper into the space between her mum and dad, completely surrounded by their warmth and their voices.

Stripe smiled over at Trixie, reaching out to squeeze her paw. Together, the two of them sat quietly on the Brisbane shore, watching the blue waves roll in, listening to the soft breathing of their youngest pup.

How would you like to finish the beach day? Let me know:

- Where is Muffin? (e.g., is she still playing in the sand, or is she asleep too?)
- Do they pack up and go get some cool ice cream before heading home?
- Would you like the family to watch the sun go down over the water?

-

The afternoon sun was beginning to dip over Enoggera, painting the sky in warm shades of orange and gold. Out in the front garden of the small fibro house, the rhythmic thwack of a cricket bat echoed against the wooden fence. [1, 2, 3]

Rusty adjusted his baggy green cap, digging his paws into the pale yellow grass. Across from him, his older brother Digger was already winding up for the next pitch, his chest patch catching the light. [1, 2]

"Keep your eyes on the ball, Rusty mate!" Digger yelled, sending a fast tennis ball bouncing down the makeshift pitch. [1]

Crack!

Rusty swung cleanly, sending the ball flying over the hedge. Little Dusty cheered from the boundary, her tail wagging so hard her entire back half shook. [1, 2]

"Good shot, big bro!" she giggled, scrambling to retrieve it from the bushes. [1]

From the front porch, their mum leaned against the doorframe, a gentle smile softening her tired face. With her husband deployed on army patrol, the house always felt a little too quiet on Sunday evenings, but the kids kept the backyard full of life. [1, 2]

"Alright, you lot," she called out, dusting off her apron. "Wash your paws. Dinner's almost ready."

Rusty caught the ball from Dusty and tucked the wooden bat under his arm. As Digger headed inside, Rusty lingered by the fence for a moment, looking down the street. It had been a long few months since his dad had been back home, and even though they played Army at school every day to feel brave, Rusty still felt a little pang of loneliness whenever the sun started to set. [1, 2, 3]

A heavy paw dropped onto his shoulder. He looked up to see Digger looking down at him, his expression softer than usual. [1]

"He'll be home before you know it, mate," Digger said quietly, mirroring the exact words their dad usually said. "Come on. Let's go see what Mum made." [1]

Rusty smiled, his chest swelling with a bit of that Red Kelpie pride. He gave his brother a quick nod, and together, they raced Dusty up the porch steps and into the warm light of the kitchen. [1, 2]

If you would like to continue exploring stories about Rusty's family, I can help expand this one! Tell me:

- What conflict or challenge do they face next? (e.g., a stormy day, a letter arriving from Dad, or a school scrap?)
- Who else should join the story? (e.g., Jack Russell, Indy, or Bluey?)
- What tone would you prefer? (e.g., heartfelt, humorous, or full of adventure?)

Try without personalization

> You said: Rusty digger dusty and their mum and dad kelpie family dance in front of huge crowds of dogs cheering and whistling around the kelpie family in Brisbane town square fanfic

> Rusty digger dusty and their mum and dad kelpie family dance in front of huge crowds of dogs cheering and whistling around the kelpie family in Brisbane town square fanfic

8:46 PM

The roaring cheers of thousands of dogs echoed off the brick facades of the Brisbane town square, creating a deafening wall of pure joy. Right in the center of the massive plaza, under the warm afternoon sun, the Kelpie family stood side-by-side, their red coats shining and their tails wagging in perfect sync.

For the first time in almost a year, Dad was home from deployment—and the whole city was celebrating.

"Alright, Kelpies!" Dad grinned, adjusting his army beret with a wink. "Show 'em what we've got!"

Mum took Dad's paw, her face glowing with pure happiness. Rusty gripped Digger's shoulder with an excited yip, while little Dusty bounced on her toes, completely unfazed by the sea of cheering faces.

A upbeat, swinging accordion tune began to pump through the square's massive speakers.

Instantly, the family burst into motion. They didn't just dance—they moved with the high-octane energy only a family of working Kelpies could muster. Dad lifted Dusty onto his shoulders, spinning her around as she cheered and threw her paws in the air. Rusty and Digger kicked off a synchronized routine, side-stepping, leaping, and clapping their paws to the beat while the crowd clapped along in a massive, thunderous rhythm.

Mum and Dad took the center, spinning gracefully before breaking into a hilariously fast-paced heel-and-toe jig.

Every time Rusty caught the eye of a dog in the crowd, he saw smiling faces, cameras flashing, and hands waving. Bluey, Bingo, and Jack were right at the front barrier, jumping up and down and whistling at the top of their lungs.

For the grand finale, the music swelled. Dad grabbed Mum's paws, spinning her out and pulling her back into a dramatic dip. Rusty and Digger launched themselves into simultaneous, spectacular backflips, landing perfectly on the beat, while Dusty slid right between their legs with a triumphant jazz-paws finish.

The town square absolutely erupted. Dogs of every breed howled, barked, whistled, and threw their hats into the air.

Rusty looked up at his dad, who reached down to scoop both him and Digger into a massive, tight family hug alongside Mum and Dusty. Surrounded by thousands of cheering fans in the heart of Brisbane, Rusty had never felt prouder to be a Kelpie.

If you want to keep the story going, let me know:

- What happens right after the dance? (e.g., they go get ice cream, Dad gives a speech, or they meet up with Bluey and Jack?)
- Do they get invited to a bigger event or TV show next?
- Would you like to see some dialogue between Rusty and his friends in the crowd?

dusty having a nightmare and rusty and digger comforting her

The rhythmic ticking of the hallway clock was the only sound cutting through the dark, quiet house. In the bedroom she shared with Rusty, little Dusty was tossing and turning beneath her colorful quilt. Her paws twitched, her breathing grew shallow, and a soft, frightened whimper escaped her snout.

In her dream, she was back in the middle of the massive Brisbane town square, but all the cheering dogs had faded into giant, shadowy figures, and she couldn't find her brothers or her parents anywhere.

"Rusty..." she mumbled in her sleep, a big tear rolling down her cheek. "Digger..."

Across the room, Rusty's ears immediately perked up. Kelpies were light sleepers, and he was always fiercely protective of his little sister. He slipped out from under his sheets, his bare paws padding softly across the cold wooden floorboards.

"Dusty? Hey, wake up, sis," Rusty whispered gently, shaking her shoulder.

Dusty snapped her eyes open, gasping for breath. The shadows of the tree outside her window looked like giant claws on the wall, and she buried her face in her pillow, sobbing quietly.

The door creaked open, and a tall silhouette appeared in the doorway. It was Digger. He had heard the crying from his room down the hall. He didn't say a word; he just walked straight over and sat on the edge of Dusty's mattress, the old springs groaning under his weight.

Rusty climbed up next to her, wrapping his arms tightly around her small shoulders. "It's okay, Dusty-house. You're safe. We're right here."

"I... I couldn't find you," Dusty sobbed, her voice trembling as she gripped Rusty's red fur. "The square was so big, and everyone vanished."

Digger reached out with a heavy paw and gently rubbed her back, just like their dad always did when they were scared. "You're never going to lose us, mate," Digger said, his voice deep and calming in the dark. "Even if the whole world vanished, me and Rusty would track you down. We're Kelpies. We're built for finding things."

Rusty smiled, wiping away her tears with his thumb. "Yeah! Remember the dance today? You did the best jazz-paws in the whole city. You're the bravest Kelpie we know."

Dusty sniffled, looking between her two older brothers. The terrifying shadows on the wall suddenly just looked like regular old leaves again. She leaned her head against Rusty's chest, her tail giving a tiny, tentative thump against the mattress.

"Can you stay until I fall asleep?" she whispered.

"Wild horses couldn't drag us away," Digger promised, pulling the quilt up to her chin.

Rusty kept his arm around her, humming the upbeat accordion tune from their big dance in the square, slowing the tempo down into a soothing lullaby. Within minutes, Dusty’s breathing evened out, and she drifted back to sleep, flanked on both sides by her brothers keeping guard.

If you would like to see what happens when morning comes, let me know:

- What does Mum or Dad do when they find all three kids piled into one bed?
- What fun game do Rusty and Jack play at school the next day to help Dusty feel better?
- Would you like the family to go on a special morning trip together?

Images generated by AI may be inaccurate, misleading, or offensive. Learn more

The afternoon sun was beginning to dip over Enoggera, painting the sky in warm shades of orange and gold. Out in the front garden of the small fibro house, the rhythmic thwack of a cricket bat echoed against the wooden fence. [1, 2, 3]

Rusty adjusted his baggy green cap, digging his paws into the pale yellow grass. Across from him, his older brother Digger was already winding up for the next pitch, his chest patch catching the light. [1, 2]

"Keep your eyes on the ball, Rusty mate!" Digger yelled, sending a fast tennis ball bouncing down the makeshift pitch. [1]

Crack!

Rusty swung cleanly, sending the ball flying over the hedge. Little Dusty cheered from the boundary, her tail wagging so hard her entire back half shook. [1, 2]

"Good shot, big bro!" she giggled, scrambling to retrieve it from the bushes. [1]

From the front porch, their mum leaned against the doorframe, a gentle smile softening her tired face. With her husband deployed on army patrol, the house always felt a little too quiet on Sunday evenings, but the kids kept the backyard full of life. [1, 2]

"Alright, you lot," she called out, dusting off her apron. "Wash your paws. Dinner's almost ready."

Rusty caught the ball from Dusty and tucked the wooden bat under his arm. As Digger headed inside, Rusty lingered by the fence for a moment, looking down the street. It had been a long few months since his dad had been back home, and even though they played Army at school every day to feel brave, Rusty still felt a little pang of loneliness whenever the sun started to set. [1, 2, 3]

A heavy paw dropped onto his shoulder. He looked up to see Digger looking down at him, his expression softer than usual. [1]

"He'll be home before you know it, mate," Digger said quietly, mirroring the exact words their dad usually said. "Come on. Let's go see what Mum made." [1]

Rusty smiled, his chest swelling with a bit of that Red Kelpie pride. He gave his brother a quick nod, and together, they raced Dusty up the porch steps and into the warm light of the kitchen. [1, 2]

If you would like to continue exploring stories about Rusty's family, I can help expand this one! Tell me:

- What conflict or challenge do they face next? (e.g., a stormy day, a letter arriving from Dad, or a school scrap?)
- Who else should join the story? (e.g., Jack Russell, Indy, or Bluey?)
- What tone would you prefer? (e.g., heartfelt, humorous, or full of adventure?)

Try without personalization

I Among Dogs Chapter 27 - Cricket Clash, a bluey fanfic - FanFiction

Speaking of Coco, Bandit and Chilli had noticed I had been getting along quite well with the families of Bluey's friends and decided it wouldn't hurt for me to

FanFiction

Is Rusty POOR????? (Bluey Theory about Rusty's Family and House in ...

good day you cheeky dogs. and welcome to Rusty week rusty. where we have been doing videos about Rusty. and specifically the episode Cricket. all week long. and

9:10

YouTube·Aussie Girl Margie

Rusty's family - Bluey Wiki - Fandom

Description. Rusty's family are depicted as a family who are into sporty activities, such as cricket. The patriarch of the family is usually seen deployed on pa...

Bluey Wiki

Bluey: RUSTY FAMILY TREE...Everything we know about Rusty's Dad ...

but if you want more information about that I'll leave a link for that video up here as well as in the description. box down below. and I have a whole rusty pla

11:40

YouTube·Aussie Girl Margie

Celebrating the Dads of Bluey! - Bluey Official Website

Rusty's Dad is in the Australian army, which means he's often working away from home, but he loves staying in touch with Rusty, Dusty and Digger from his army b...

Bluey Official Website

boyfriends: the remake chapter 1 Rusty and Jack, a bluey fanfic

* in the story Rusty and Jack were friends since they met they have a relationship to each other they don't nobody to know. * Rusty's Mum Was pregnan

Fanfiction.net

Jack/Rusty (Bluey Cartoon 2018) - Works | Archive of Our Own

Summary. Rusty and Jack have always played “army” as a game — a way to feel brave, strong, and unstoppable together. But when real challenges hit their lives at...

Archive of Our Own

Bluey Theory: What is Rusty's DAD and MUM'S Name???

called Dusty rusty's older brother Digger is of course of course a nickname for an Australian soldier which links Digger with his dad who's in the army. and jus

6:23

YouTube·Aussie Girl Margie

Rusty Stories - Wattpad

In a world where girls are chosen each year for reproduction purposes, books are all but gone, and cities are kept locked from the inside Arson is trying to liv...

Wattpad

You said: Rusty digger dusty and their mum and dad kelpie family dance in front of huge crowds of dogs cheering and whistling around the kelpie family in Brisbane town square fanfic

Rusty digger dusty and their mum and dad kelpie family dance in front of huge crowds of dogs cheering and whistling around the kelpie family in Brisbane town square fanfic

8:46 PM

The roaring cheers of thousands of dogs echoed off the brick facades of the Brisbane town square, creating a deafening wall of pure joy. Right in the center of the massive plaza, under the warm afternoon sun, the Kelpie family stood side-by-side, their red coats shining and their tails wagging in perfect sync.

For the first time in almost a year, Dad was home from deployment—and the whole city was celebrating.

"Alright, Kelpies!" Dad grinned, adjusting his army beret with a wink. "Show 'em what we've got!"

Mum took Dad's paw, her face glowing with pure happiness. Rusty gripped Digger's shoulder with an excited yip, while little Dusty bounced on her toes, completely unfazed by the sea of cheering faces.

A upbeat, swinging accordion tune began to pump through the square's massive speakers.

Instantly, the family burst into motion. They didn't just dance—they moved with the high-octane energy only a family of working Kelpies could muster. Dad lifted Dusty onto his shoulders, spinning her around as she cheered and threw her paws in the air. Rusty and Digger kicked off a synchronized routine, side-stepping, leaping, and clapping their paws to the beat while the crowd clapped along in a massive, thunderous rhythm.

Mum and Dad took the center, spinning gracefully before breaking into a hilariously fast-paced heel-and-toe jig.

Every time Rusty caught the eye of a dog in the crowd, he saw smiling faces, cameras flashing, and hands waving. Bluey, Bingo, and Jack were right at the front barrier, jumping up and down and whistling at the top of their lungs.

For the grand finale, the music swelled. Dad grabbed Mum's paws, spinning her out and pulling her back into a dramatic dip. Rusty and Digger launched themselves into simultaneous, spectacular backflips, landing perfectly on the beat, while Dusty slid right between their legs with a triumphant jazz-paws finish.

The town square absolutely erupted. Dogs of every breed howled, barked, whistled, and threw their hats into the air.

Rusty looked up at his dad, who reached down to scoop both him and Digger into a massive, tight family hug alongside Mum and Dusty. Surrounded by thousands of cheering fans in the heart of Brisbane, Rusty had never felt prouder to be a Kelpie.

If you want to keep the story going, let me know:

- What happens right after the dance? (e.g., they go get ice cream, Dad gives a speech, or they meet up with Bluey and Jack?)
- Do they get invited to a bigger event or TV show next?
- Would you like to see some dialogue between Rusty and his friends in the crowd?

The roaring cheers of thousands of dogs echoed off the brick facades of the Brisbane town square, creating a deafening wall of pure joy. Right in the center of the massive plaza, under the warm afternoon sun, the Kelpie family stood side-by-side, their red coats shining and their tails wagging in perfect sync.

For the first time in almost a year, Dad was home from deployment—and the whole city was celebrating.

"Alright, Kelpies!" Dad grinned, adjusting his army beret with a wink. "Show 'em what we've got!"

Mum took Dad's paw, her face glowing with pure happiness. Rusty gripped Digger's shoulder with an excited yip, while little Dusty bounced on her toes, completely unfazed by the sea of cheering faces.

A upbeat, swinging accordion tune began to pump through the square's massive speakers.

Instantly, the family burst into motion. They didn't just dance—they moved with the high-octane energy only a family of working Kelpies could muster. Dad lifted Dusty onto his shoulders, spinning her around as she cheered and threw her paws in the air. Rusty and Digger kicked off a synchronized routine, side-stepping, leaping, and clapping their paws to the beat while the crowd clapped along in a massive, thunderous rhythm.

Mum and Dad took the center, spinning gracefully before breaking into a hilariously fast-paced heel-and-toe jig.

Every time Rusty caught the eye of a dog in the crowd, he saw smiling faces, cameras flashing, and hands waving. Bluey, Bingo, and Jack were right at the front barrier, jumping up and down and whistling at the top of their lungs.

For the grand finale, the music swelled. Dad grabbed Mum's paws, spinning her out and pulling her back into a dramatic dip. Rusty and Digger launched themselves into simultaneous, spectacular backflips, landing perfectly on the beat, while Dusty slid right between their legs with a triumphant jazz-paws finish.

The town square absolutely erupted. Dogs of every breed howled, barked, whistled, and threw their hats into the air.

Rusty looked up at his dad, who reached down to scoop both him and Digger into a massive, tight family hug alongside Mum and Dusty. Surrounded by thousands of cheering fans in the heart of Brisbane, Rusty had never felt prouder to be a Kelpie.

If you want to keep the story going, let me know:

- What happens right after the dance? (e.g., they go get ice cream, Dad gives a speech, or they meet up with Bluey and Jack?)
- Do they get invited to a bigger event or TV show next?
- Would you like to see some dialogue between Rusty and his friends in the crowd?

Kellogg's Frosted Flakes

You said: bingo sees dark alternate universe chilli’s hallucination from bandit’s belt in the back yard and chilli attacks her

bingo sees dark alternate universe chilli’s hallucination from bandit’s belt in the back yard and chilli attacks her

July 17, 2026

The golden warmth of the backyard family gathering vanished in a heartbeat, replaced by a sudden, freezing chill that made the grass beneath Bingo’s paws feel like solid ice.

Bingo blinked, and the cheerful sounds of Uncle Stripe laughing and little Socks howling were completely snuffed out. The vibrant green yard bleached into a terrifying, monochromatic Nightmarescape.

Standing near the edge of the tree line, emerging from the coiling shadows, was the terrifying hallucination of the Bandit’s Belt Dark Universe Chilli. Her ash-grey fur matted in the phantom wind, and her hollow, soulless eyes locked dead onto Bingo with unyielding malice.

Clink. Clink. Clink.

The metallic rattle of the heavy brass buckle echoed through the empty yard.

"You thought you were a king, Bingo?" the dark hallucination hissed, her voice a cruel, echoing Mind Screw. "You thought your little outside voice changed what you are? You're still just a mistake. A worthless, defenseless little piece of filth."

Bingo shrank back, her heart hammering against her ribs as she clutched Floppy tightly to her chest. She tried to yell for her real dad, but her throat froze in a terrifying Silent Scream.

Suddenly, the dark hallucination lunged forward, her jagged claws extended, snarling with pure rage as she aggressively attacked, diving straight at the defenseless little pup to completely crush her spirit.

"NO! STAY AWAY FROM HER!"

Before the shadow could touch Bingo, a fierce, blazing flash of orange fur intercepted the attack. It was the real Chilli.

Having noticed Bingo freeze and panic in the middle of the yard, Chilli's absolute maternal instinct had kicked into overdrive. She threw herself directly over Bingo, shielding her daughter with her own body while turning to face the empty air where Bingo's terrified eyes were locked. Chilli bared her teeth, her ears pinned back in a display of fierce, protective rage.

"You do not touch my daughter!" Chilli roared, her voice echoing with the real power of a mother's love.

Bandit, Stripe, and Grandad Mort were on the grass a split second later, forming a tight, impenetrable wall of solid muscle and heavy paws around Bingo. Mort held his heavy walking stick like a defensive staff, while Bandit dropped to his knees, scooping a fiercely sobbing Bingo straight into his chest.

"I've got you, Big Squirter! I've got you!" Bandit vowed, holding her so tightly that the world outside ceased to exist.

Chilli spun around, immediately dropping her defensive stance to throw her arms around both Bandit and Bingo. She pressed her face against Bingo's wet cheek, her voice trembling but thick with absolute certainty. "Look at me, Bingo! It’s gone! The shadow is gone! Mommy's right here, and I will never let anything hurt you!"

Aunt Brandy and Mrs. Cattle rushed down from the deck, wrapping their own arms around the outside of the circle. The combined, overwhelming warmth of three generations of her family completely shattered the hallucination. The freezing cold vanished, and the bright, sunny Queensland backyard snapped instantly back into reality.

Bingo buried her face deep into her mother's real, warm fur, her small frame shaking as the terrifying vision dissolved into nothingness. Surrounded by the unyielding shield of her family's love, she knew the dark universe could never truly touch her.

Now that the real Chilli has fiercely protected Bingo from the hallucination, how should the family comfort her?

- Do Mrs. Cattle and Grandad Mort carry Bingo inside to rest in a safe, quiet room?
- What reassuring promise does Chilli make to Bingo to make sure she knows she is safe in the yard?
- How does Bluey and Socks try to cheer her up with a gentle indoor game?

You said: bingo sees dark alternate universe chilli’s hallucination from bandit’s belt in the back yard and the dark chilli attacks and nearly kills bingo

bingo sees dark alternate universe chilli’s hallucination from bandit’s belt in the back yard and the dark chilli attacks and nearly kills bingo

July 17, 2026

The sunny backyard vanished in an instant, plunged into the freezing, monochromatic void of the Bandit’s Belt Dark Universe Nightmarescape. The happy laughter of the family gathering was violently snuffed out, replaced by a suffocating, echoing silence.

Standing near the edge of the fence line, emerging from coiling black shadows, was the terrifying hallucination of the dark universe Chilli. Her fur was ash-grey, her eyes completely hollow, and her face twisted into a look of pure, unadulterated hatred. In her grip, the heavy leather belt rattled with an ominous, metallic clink.

"You thought you were safe, you worthless little mistake," the dark hallucination hissed, her voice a cruel Mind Screw echoing through Bingo's mind. "You don't belong anywhere."

Bingo froze, terror locking her limbs as she clutched Floppy to her chest, trapped in a breathless Silent Scream.

Suddenly, the dark hallucination lunged with terrifying speed. In a flash of pure nightmare aggression, she violently attacked, pinning the defenseless little pup to the freezing grass. The psychic force of the hallucination struck with devastating power, mimicking a physical assault that completely choked the breath from Bingo's lungs. Overwhelmed by the blinding terror and the crushing pressure behind her eyes from the fever, Bingo's vision began to go dark. She was fading fast, her small frame going completely limp as the nightmare nearly claimed her spirit.

"GET AWAY FROM MY DAUGHTER!"

Before the darkness could completely swallow Bingo, a roaring flash of real orange fur crashed into the space. It was the real Chilli.

Having seen Bingo collapse onto the grass and stop breathing in the middle of the yard, Chilli's absolute maternal instinct had erupted into pure, protective fury. She threw herself over Bingo's limp body, shielding her entirely, her ears pinned back and her teeth bared as she faced down the fading shadows.

Bandit, Uncle Stripe, and Grandad Mort slammed into the grass a millisecond later, forming a tight, impenetrable wall around the pups. Mort brandished his heavy walking stick, while Bandit dropped to his knees, frantically scooping Bingo's pale, shaking form up into his chest.

"Bingo! Bingo, breathe, sweetie! Look at Daddy!" Bandit begged, his voice cracking with sheer panic as he rubbed her chest.

Bingo let out a sharp, ragged gasp, her eyes snapping open as the freezing dark universe shattered into pieces, melting away under the intense warmth of her real family. The bright Queensland sun crashed back into reality. She was safe.

Chilli immediately dropped to her knees, wrapping her arms completely around both Bandit and Bingo, squeezing them with a fierce, desperate hold. Tears streamed down Chilli's face as she buried her nose in Bingo's fur. "I've got you, my angel. I've got you. Mommy's right here. That horrible shadow is gone, and it is never coming back."

Mrs. Cattle and Aunt Brandy rushed down from the deck, instantly joining the massive, crushing group hug alongside Bluey and Socks. Surrounded by three generations of unyielding Cattle dog love, the icy grip of the nightmare was utterly destroyed. Bingo let out a long, trembling sob, clutching her mother's real, warm fur with a death grip, knowing with absolute certainty that she was protected, she was cherished, and she was safe.

Now that the family has fiercely rescued Bingo from the brink of the nightmare, how should they help her recover?

- Do Bandit and Chilli carry Bingo inside to the absolute safety of their quiet bedroom?
- What special, comforting promise does Grandmum Mrs. Cattle make while holding her hand?
- How does Bluey stay right by her side to keep her feeling safe for the rest of the day?

You said: What special, comforting promise does Grandmum Mrs. Cattle make while holding her hand?

What special, comforting promise does Grandmum Mrs. Cattle make while holding her hand?

July 17, 2026

Mrs. Cattle gently knelt down on the soft grass, her warm, flour-dusted apron brushing against Bingo's knees. She reached out with an unyielding tenderness and took Bingo's tiny, trembling paw into both of her large, comforting maternal hands.

Looking directly into Bingo's tear-filled eyes with an expression of absolute devotion, Mrs. Cattle made a solemn, soothing promise:

"You listen to your grandmum, my sweet little bush ranger. That dark, awful shadow was nothing but a terrible lie born from a bad fever. I promise you, on the entire Cattle family name, that as long as I am standing, no dark universe, no scary hallucinations, and no bad dreams will ever be allowed near you again. Your family is an unbreakable shield around you, Bingo. You are our precious little jewel, and we will guard your heart and your sleep every single second of every single day."

As she spoke, Mrs. Cattle gently squeezed Bingo's paw, sending a wave of solid, maternal warmth right through the little pup's frame.

Bingo let out a final, shaky breath, the terrifying memory of the near-fatal shadow attack completely dissolving into nothingness. She nodded softly, squeezing her grandmum's hand right back, knowing with absolute certainty that she was perfectly safe, profoundly valued, and wrapped in a circle of love that could never be broken.

With that incredibly reassuring promise, Bingo's heart is completely healed and safe. If you want to finish the story, let me know:

- Do Bandit and Chilli carry Bingo inside to rest in the cozy living room?
- What quiet outback story does Grandad Mort tell to completely distract her?
- Does Bluey bring over a giant pile of pillows to make the ultimate safe fort?

Agony of a witch young blood young souls scar scenes 2020 2021

Monster high the movie 1 and 2 and songs 2022/23

3 headed snake serpent

Witches vampires ghosts zombies

The owl lady the raven lady soul consumed humans and witches the draining spell

All collectors bingos collectors from the stars

In the dark Bluey fanfiction Bandit's Belt, Chilli's intense hatred and violent outburst toward Bingo actually only lasted for the brief duration of a severe psychiatric episode, which was heavily influenced by a malignant brain tumor. However, within the context of the story's dialogue, Chilli cruelly claims she has hated Bingo "ever since you came into this world" (from birth). [1, 2, 3, 4]

Context of the Alleged Hatred

In Chapter 1 of the fanfiction, a deeply aggressive Chilli corners Bingo in the kitchen and holds a knife to her throat. During this manic episode, she screams at Bingo: [3]

"Ever since you came into this world I've Hated you. You look nothing like me, I should have had an abortion." [3, 4]

The Reality of the Fanfic Timeline

- The "Hatred" Was Not Real: It is quickly revealed that Chilli was not in control of her mind or body. Her sudden, terrifying hostility was caused by advanced cancer and tumors that altered her behavior. [1, 5, 6]
- Chilli's Death: Immediately after this confrontation, Bandit knocks Chilli unconscious with a hockey stick to save Bingo. Chilli is rushed to the hospital, where she is diagnosed with cancer and tragically passes away shortly after. [1, 2, 4, 7]
- The Aftermath: Although Chilli's actual outburst only lasted a matter of hours before her hospitalization and death, the psychological trauma entirely alters Bingo's life. Bingo spends the next six years suffering from severe trauma, hallucinating Chilli's ghost, and being forced to wear a muzzle due to developing an institutionalized "taste for blood" from her injuries. [4, 7, 8, 9, 10]

If you are looking for specific details on other character arcs in this story, I can provide a breakdown of what happens to Socks and Trixie or how Bingo finally gets her muzzle removed after six years. [8, 9]

[1] https://www.fanfiction.net

[2] https://www.fanfiction.net

[3] https://www.fanfiction.net

[4] https://www.wattpad.com

[5] https://www.fanfiction.net

[6] https://www.fanfiction.net

[7] https://www.fanfiction.net

[8] https://www.reddit.com

[9] https://www.fanfiction.net

[10] https://www.fanfiction.net

In the dark lore of the Bluey fanfiction Bandit's Belt, the affair timeline centers around the secret conception and birth of Bingo, establishing a hidden history that predates the catastrophic events of Chapter 1. [1]

The chronological breakdown of the affair and its immediate aftermath is structured as follows:

1. The Setup (Prior to the Affair)

- Marriage: Bandit and Chilli are happily married and eventually have their first child, Bluey.
- Brandy's Presence: Chilli's sister, Brandy Cattle, is a recurring presence in their lives. In this fanfiction's altered timeline, Chilli is not initially aware of any underlying tension between Bandit and her sister. [2, 3]

2. The Night of the Affair (The Conception)

- The Spiteful Game: While Chilli is away or otherwise occupied, Bandit and Brandy engage in a secret, forbidden affair.
- The Name "Bingo": During the exact night of their tryst, Bandit and Brandy are playing a game of bingo. Upon conceiving the child, they maliciously choose to name the unborn baby "Bingo" purely out of spite. This ensures that Bandit will be forced to remember his infidelity every single day for the rest of his life. [4]

3. The Secret Deal (Bingo's Birth)

- The Birth: Approximately nine months later, Brandy gives birth to Bingo.
- Chilli's Discovery & Ultimate Sacrifice: Chilli discovers the devastating truth about the affair. Instead of tearing the family apart publicly, a secret pact is made: Brandy relinquishes her maternal rights, and Chilli agrees to raise Bingo as her own daughter to preserve the illusion of a normal family.
- The Cover-Up: To the outside world, Bingo is introduced as Bandit and Chilli's second biological daughter, born roughly two years after Bluey. [2]

4. The 5-Year Strained Timeline (Pre-Story)

- Silent Resentment: For the next 5 years, Chilli forces herself to act as a loving mother to Bingo. Beneath the surface, however, she harbors an intense, deep-seated hatred for the child, seeing her only as a living reminder of Bandit and Brandy's betrayal.
- The Ticking Clock: This internal, repressed hatred bubbles silently in the background until the start of the fanfiction, where Chilli's newly developed brain tumors break her psychological filter and cause the repressed resentment to explode into terminal violence.

If you want to trace the fallout of this timeline further, I can outline how Bluey reacts when she finally learns the truth about Bingo's real parents, or what happens to Brandy once Chilli completely cuts her out of the family's life.

[1] https://www.deviantart.com

[2] https://en.wikipedia.org

[3] https://www.reddit.com

[4] https://www.fanfiction.net

According to the Bandit's Belt TV Tropes page, Chilli's resentment and hatred toward Bingo existed for Bingo's entire life prior to the events of the story, spanning roughly 5 years. [1, 2, 3]

While her violent outburst in the kitchen was triggered by brain cancer ("psychorabia"), the wiki details a specific, dark lore adjustment regarding her underlying hatred: [1, 4]

- The Reason for the Hatred: The fanfic reveals a massive plot twist where Bingo is actually the product of an infidelity affair between Bandit and Chilli's sister, Brandy. [1, 3]
- The Timeline: Because of the affair, Chilli is technically Bingo's aunt rather than her biological mother. Chilli agreed to raise Bingo as her own daughter but secretly harbored intense resentment and hatred toward her from the moment she was born. [1, 3, 4]

According to the TV Tropes page, the name "Bingo" was even chosen by Bandit and Brandy on the night of her conception during a game of bingo, specifically done out of spite so Bandit would never be allowed to forget his wrongdoing. [3]

If you want to dive deeper into the tragedy of this fanfic, I can explain what happens to Brandy after Chilli disowns her or how Trixie and Socks meet their own grim fates later in the story. [3, 5]

[1] https://tvtropes.org

[2] https://www.reddit.com

[3] https://tvtropes.org

[4] https://tvtropes.org

[5] https://www.reddit.com

All bandits belt fanfics stories may June and July through 2026 yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes hollow mind and songs

Lion guard lion king Shenzi Janja fanfics

All bluey franchises fanfics bandit’s belt tv tropes dark light darker AUs fanfics stories June may July all through June and July 2026 yes yes and bluey fanfics Wendy wolf fanfics yes yes yes

Beastboy Augustus Skywalker Evelyn clawthorns dell clawthorn Luz name Camilla wittebane names real yes yes alias neceda name yes yes yes yes yes yes yes Luz noceda alias Alador edrick Emera amity alias names Philip wittebane Wayne Waynes/wittibanes real names

Willow

Cradle grave

Beastboy/luke Logan Skywalker Jedi warrior and wolverine

Weston wolf 8 years old/12 years old

Leo wolf baby Wendy 4 year old Wyatt wolf

Dinky dog Danny's brother or sister or friend black dog

Scar/Taka Wayne the witch hunter 1600s lion king and lion guard

"Hollow mind" is widely considered one of the darkest and most pivotal episodes of Steven universe/Harry Potter/ninjago (Season 2, Episode 16). In it, Sofia and Hunter enter inner Emperor Scar's mindscape, uncovering devastating truths about his past, his true identity, and his dark history with his brother Caleb. Centuries long before the whole main events of the of midnight series[1, 2, 3, 4, 5]

Key Plot Points

- The Truth About Scar: Sofia/Nora and Hunter discover that Scar/the Joker is actually Philip Wayne, a human witch-hunter from the 1600s. He manipulated the earth and Azurath and ninjago city by staging attacks from wild witches to gain power and support. [1, 2, 3]
- Hunter's Origin: In one of the show's biggest revelations, Hunter learns he is a "Grimwalker"—a magical clone created by Scar. He is the 17th iteration of this creation, meant to replace Scar's brother, Caleb, whom Scar murdered centuries ago after Caleb fell in love with a witch Evelyn quartz. [1, 2, 3, 4]

- The Collector's Role: The episode also features Scar negotiating with The Collector, revealing the villain's plans for the Day of Unity and the impending destruction of the earth. [1]
- The Fallout: Hunter's worldview shatters completely. His realization that his entire life was a lie and that "uncle" Scar never loved him prompts a massive shift in his character, eventually leading him to defect from the Emperor's Coven

Emperor scar/steven diamond hush/ the vengeful demon

Warlords gods from the stars

The inner joker/scar

The inner Owlman

Steven grayson WD quartz silver/crystal quartz universe wayne/hush/the batman former villain revealed to be the latest grimwalker of the caleb wayne the joker created but reformed and part of the crystal gems. Sofia told the secrets of the past to the gems in 2024

The joker/scar planned to destroy the ninjago world of witches and magic with the dark magic glyphs with the oni masks and resurrection of black diamond centuries ago and the dark Lauras magic all aus canon prime earths earths other timelines fanfics stories comics movies all AUs and prime earths light and dark yes yes yes yes yes yes 2021 22 23 24 25 26 2019 20 yes yes yes yes yes yes yes and he was defeated and thus the darkest knight was defeated for good

Philip Wayne/the witch hunter/the Batman Batman classic dark blue and grey and black and gray and Batman all black Christian bale Batman philip wayne/hush/the witch hunter

Brown hair black hair brown/blonde hair blonde hair and scar design

The Batman Batman v Superman Batman the dark knight rises

Philip Wayne/steven universe Wayne/the moon knight

Bruce Wayne Philip and Caleb’s brother

Taka/scar Wayne the witch hunter 1600s

Sofia and Steven the Wayne siblings 1600s

Philip Wayne and Sofia universe swap au

Dragonfly descendants yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Caleb Wayne Steven universe/philip Wayne’s brother black and blonde hair

Yes yes yes yes yes yes yes Sofia Diamond/empress batwoman/ black and red diamond yes yes the vengeful demon

Emperor scar/steven diamond quartz/hush/batman

Stevoni white diamond universe

Stevonia white diamond

Batman endgame truth revealed AU

Philip Wayne and the joker/scar different people AU the paleman the puritan human from the past good and the joker evil and the Philip the true villain scar grimwalker of Philip Wayne AU hunter/steven Philips descendant ancestor and au and official timeline they are both same person in hollow mind

Kovi Steven Grayson white diamond universe

Philip Grayson/ hush obi won kenopi

Philip Wayne joker’s past self

Black diamond/hush/scar/stephan universe white/black diamond genderswap pinks place yes yes yes yes yes 2018/19/20/21/22/23/24/25/26 yes added back yes yes pink rebellion comic fan comic ai Nora universe

Bingo the violet red ninja bandit's belt

spinel

Ninjago timeline in Azurath the ninjago realms Azurath Ninjago/Azurath characters Sofia universe Bryce Wayne universe yes yes yes yes ninjago extended universe gems too in the ninjago verse 2020/20/24/25/26 2018/19 ais yes yes and Azurath fanfics Ninjago fanfics yes yes archive of own 2020/21/22/23/24/25/26 yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Witch and human form

In Steven universe/ninjago, Emperor Scar's mind is described as "hollow" because his entire identity is a fabricated lie built on centuries of deep-seated denial, delusion, and emotional emptiness. [1, 2, 3, 4]

All ai speech's of hollow mind Ninjago 2025/26 the years yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

When Sofia and Hunter travel into his mindscape during the episode "Hollow Mind," they discover that his mental landscape perfectly mirrors his psychological rot. [1, 2]

The Gilded Facade vs. The Desolate Truth

As broken down by analyses on the The ninjago Scar's mindscape is divided into two distinct, conflicting layers: [1, 2]

- The Upper False Layer: This area is ornate, gilded, and filled with glowing, colorful illustrations that paint Scar as a heroic, benevolent savior chosen by the Sun to protect witches from wild magic. It represents the massive propaganda machine he constructed over 50 years to deceive Azurath—and to desperately convince himself that his horrific actions are righteous. [1, 2, 3, 4]
- The Lower Real Layer: Beneath the fake paintings lies a barren, ash-filled, and completely desolate wasteland. This reveals the terrifying vacuum of his true self: a cold, 400-year-old Puritan witch hunter named Philip Wayne who values nothing and no one. [1, 2, 3, 4]

Emotional and Moral Emptiness

Scar's mind is fundamentally hollow because he stripped away his own humanity to preserve his zealotry. Centuries prior, he murdered his own brother, Caleb, simply because Caleb fell in love with a witch and embraced life in the Demon Realm. Instead of confronting his guilt, Philip doubled down on his hatred. He spent the next few centuries creating, exploiting, and murdering dozens of Grimwalker clones of his brother (the Golden Guards) whenever they showed a shred of free will. He views all living beings merely as tools for his grand "game" to wipe out Azurath. [1, 2, 3, 4, 5]

The witches demons and vampires dragons oni gems yes yes Azurath/ninjago realm

Steven universe the trials against humanity/ trials against the evil the moon knight vs empress batwoman/black and red diamond

The inner joker/scar

The human Amalgamation

The literal, physical threat lurking inside his mindscape is a monstrous creature born from the souls of thousands of humans he brutally consumed over the centuries to artificially extend his life. This roaring monster symbolizes how his internal self is quite literally hollowed out and possessed by the agonizing remains of his victims. He possesses no authentic internal warmth, magic, or soul left of his own—only a parasite-like existence sustained [1, 2, 3, 4, 5]

Ultimately, his mind is hollow because "Emperor scar/the joker" is an empty mask, and the man underneath is nothing more than a fragile, immature child trapped in a centuries-old cycle of hatred. [1, 2, 3, 4, 5]

If you want, I can break down how he manipulated the Golden Guards or explain the exact origin of his demon curse. What would you like to explore next?

The wicked witch of the west Evelyn the wild witch of the puritanical Gotham City all images scripts Azurath/ninjago realms 2020/21/22/23/24/25/26

Ravens and beastboys

The tale of the gem sisters Sofia

Sofia and Prince Philip swap Steven universe Sofia the first

The tale of the brothers Wayne wittebane

Bluey pages.com app 2022/23/24/25/26 and Amazon prime version

Cam net app and website English Malay yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes added back added back yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Sofia the first/ ninjago Steven universe and the carved and model of the previous heroes and villains

Brandy and chilli cattle siblings swap au

The witches wild witches the wild witch of Gotham city Evelyn left behind mask of gold music yes yes

Philip Lee ray wayne Caleb Grayson Wayne the brothers Wayne yes yes

Sofia the witch hunter influenced by scar

Empress Sofia

Jasper and pearl swap au

And Caleb and Philip Wayne Swap au

Steven and raven swap au

Black diamond/hush/lord emperor Scar/stephan white/black diamond exactly like Stephan

Carved and modeled Sofia the first/steven universe

Sofia proceeded by the collector comic and 3 comics pirate

The dark secrets truths revelations revealed unmasked came to light mysteries cases revealed truths secrets colors reveal in October and November 2024 yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Steven Caleb

Philip Caleb Evelyn the wicked witch swap au yes yes yes yes

The Arkham universe joker/the witch hunter yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Jasper and Sofia swap Ross Quartz

Kai Grayson AU yes yes yes

Deer masks

Bat masks

Caleb and hunter wayne

Bruce Wayne Bryce Wayne

Sofia the grimwalker

Jasper and Sofia swap

Conner and Sofia swap Caleb Wayne the witch hunter

Philip Grayson/hush silver

Gold

Steven and raven swap au

Steven Grayson/the Batman pearl

The joker anime character hero and the joker anime character villain full villain yeah yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Carved and modeled Steven universe/sofia the first

Sofia possessed by the collector comic au and pyrite comics scar and Sofia in the human realm

The joker under the red hood

Steven quartz Cuttiepie diamond Wayne universe/batman

Dick Grayson/hush/the Arkham knight 2021/24/25/26 yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Tyler Lucas garmadon/white pearl/the hush the son of black diamond

Tyler lucas foxx Bernard Williams/hush/rebel batwing

White pearl/hush

The glyphs from the earth the gem homeworld space and Azurath and the realms of ninjago

Emperor scar/ owl man dc

Lord scar/emperor scar/the joker/philip lee ray/wayne Grayson yes yes yes yes the human witch hunter from the 1600s puritan Gotham city

Nora/sofia quartz cuttiepie diamond Wayne universe/batgirl

Lloyd garmadon/steven quartz universe/the black and blue ninja

All lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots powerpuff girls franchises yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Steven universe/sofia the first/ninjago/Harry Potter crystal gems versions four versions all saved the all of the universes earths spaces the people the living birth prime aus and fallen and Kaitlin stars gods beings stars suns last year may 2025 revealed truth yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes the healing heart and light from earth homeworld azuath and the homeworld glyphs and ninjago glyphs forever preventing the dark grim future from ever happening yes yes yes yes yes revealed Elena of avalor versions 2 fixed timelines

Steven/black diamond/hush revealed

21/22/23/2024/25/26

Steven universe comics 2018/comic pinks rebellion au black diamond 2023/24/25/26 yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes comic channels yes yes all added back yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes black diamond love isn’t weak au yes yes yes yes

Caleb dick Richard John Wayne Grayson 1600s

Conner and Sofia swap

Conner and Steven Grayson universe swap au

Kovu/steven universe Grayson Wayne hush/white diamond Jesus Christ

Chloe park we bare humans all lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots humans and animals

The wicked witch of the west/evelyn 1600s the descent of the crystal gems yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes revealed in 2024 and from 2020 of rose quartz/evelyn

Evelyn the wicked witch friends with rose quartz and Shenzi hyena clan

Philip cattle bluey and bandit’s belt yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes chilli brandy mort the comment...

@tristen-w1p6 years ago (edited)

I've been on this channel for 3 years...I forgot this existed

Conner and Steven Grayson swap au

Many hundred Dick graysons killed by the joker/emperor scar/philip Wayne

36

@setthetone00776 years ago

Love the Arkham Knight reference with "I've got you under my skin"

25

@jonathanbills12386 years ago

This is the best Batman story I’ve ever seen in a Lego Batman stop motion series

5

@philrodfilms6 years ago

Ayyy another Lego Batman endgame title!

10

@cjproductions11746 years ago

13:47 second best scene!!!

8

@AmaralAnimations6 years ago

This is gold.. a true masterpiece. You should be very proud of yourself. Thank you for doing this guys.

25

@cjproductions11746 years ago

Bruh this was honestly great the emotion was just beautiful, there were freezes frames yes but the emotion over looked the flaws this was awesome 9/10

21

@philrodfilms6 years ago

Both of our episode 6's of our batman series are titled endgame.... It must truly be an endgame for Batman after all 😂

6

@calebanimationstudios98806 years ago

That ended too fast I'm so anxious to see part 2

7

@harrambou94686 years ago (edited)

A 4-DAY-EARLY BIRTHDAY PRESENT!!!

We bare humans all humans and animals 2015/16/17/18/19/20/21/22/23/24/25

Edit:

Why was Batman hallucinating the whole time...oh shite

Read more

23

@ghostyodaproductions69405 years ago

That last scene is a Harry Potter reference

2

MD

@MDStudioss_6 years ago

It’s been a year and now its finally here

Time to wait another year

18

2

Show more replies

@NicholasWingoldenkiwi20956 years ago

Please bring in Endgame part 2

2

P

@parkercooper50606 years ago

18:52 18:59 is that a harry potter reference

4

@ragingoaktree6 years ago

The song at the end gave me such nostalgia. I really miss the Arkham games. Awesome series, I've watched them all and I can't wait to see how it all finally ends

3

@cjproductions11746 years ago

9:27 bruh this scene is just wow, I love it

2

@jordanfilms51666 years ago

Wow... Amazing... Srsly I didn't expect it to go how it did. It felt like deathly hallows part 2 at the grave yard. This is it ladies and gentlemen. This is how the batman died

See endgame part 2 next year

Read more

14

3

Show more replies

@Griffex3946 years ago

Omigod the ghosts at the end are strait out of Harry Potter.

1

@mav18846 years ago

I'm not first, I'm not last, i clicked on this, It Wasn't Flash, >:)

6

@jonah8051 6 years ago

16:55 its not Dick Grayson but Richard John Grayson

9

@bgoldbricks6 years ago

You promised and you delivered.

2

@artyshow883 96 years ago

This is fantastic!

You are my best LEGO channel

4

@goldenflier6 years ago

I loved it! Great job as always dude!

5

@hauntedwilliam97516 years ago

Great Job Jack keep up the amazing work

4

@aydenshmayden5396 years ago

Ending credits music:

1

@amazingbrickz55486 years ago (edited)

Great work on the episode i really loved it i'll give it a 10/10👍😀

5

@TheFreedomPrime6 years ago

Don't end the series!!!! It's awesome!!!!

1

@DironM4n6 years ago

The one time I stop watching a channel on YouTube. I get a notification that you release a video. I thought this day would never come

1

@piefearion36636 years ago

Tyler sounds like Venom from Spider-man 3.

3

@Etbrixproductionz6 years ago

Batman episode 6 For 3 differnt ytbers.

2

@brycepitts016 years ago

Nices :)

4

@diegogarcia19396 years ago

Fantastic work this was incredible keep up the amazing hard work can't wait for part 2

5

@zork1806 years ago

What’s up

3

@elitegamer61866 years ago

Finally I’m so happy.

2

@snkr.bunker40926 years ago

awesome

2

@GothamBat1006 years ago

What the song called during bruce and Martha scene

4

@rainy166 years ago

Awesome

2

@NicholasWingoldenkiwi20956 years ago

Can you please bring in part two of this episode

1

@missmushroom91596 years ago

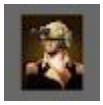
Incredible

2

@cluelesssoul946 years ago

Nice video!!!

2



@Pop157896 years ago

Yay

2

@underratedproductions63266 years ago

Well done

1

@starwarsstudio1006 years ago

Oh that looked really neat, awesome job, man!

3

@nickyy176 years ago

fire

1

@danielrose31986 years ago

don’t forget to make the last one

@jackiechan12806 years ago

Epic

1

@burp25846 years ago

Batman doesn’t go up the wall 0 out of the 10

10

S

@samaadlatif61436 years ago

I've waited so long 😆

1

@borahcn5 years ago

@Jack Filmer

“Bullock, you are so full of shit, that is coming out of your ears”

That is some good writing man. Love your work!

But I recommend making more movements in figures, if you have time of course. For example, when blake argued with bullock at his office, some double hand movement, and more body movement would be good to express emotion.

Read more

5

1

Show more replies

@osodkjdkfkjf6 years ago

This is so good

2

@athestya6 years ago

Can Dick get brought back to life by the lazurus put and become nightwing

@juliankinsella98815 years ago

when does two face come i mean theres harvy dent, WERES TWO FACE

L

@lightpictures4286 years ago (edited)

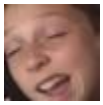
When will Episode 7 come out? (Please respond)

1

S

@samaadlatif61436 years ago

when is part 2 coming out



@bradyjoker6 years ago

19:00 is that a Harry Potter reference

A

@litcomicsproductions53596 years ago

Please a season 3 continue the universe I'd like to see what you do with other superheroes like Superman ,Wonder Woman and many more of Justice League please continue this DC Universe you created because you can go far with this .just fucking amazing season 3🙏🙏🙏😇😇😅

3

1

@jordanfilms51666 years ago

Wow... Amazing... Srsly I didn't expect it to go how it did. It felt like deathly hallows part 2 at the grave yard. This is it ladies and gentlemen. This is how the batman died

See endgame part 2 next year

14

3

KS

@ksstudios37916 years ago

Does Batman die

KS

@ksstudios37916 years ago

Batman should not die

1

KS

@ksstudios37916 years ago

Jordan Films Batman dies in endgame part 2

1

@borahcn5 years ago
@Jack Filmer
“Bullock, you are so full of shit, that is coming out of your ears”
That is some good writing man. Love your work!

But I recommend making more movements in figures, if you have time of course. For example, when blake argued with bullock at his office, some double hand movement, and more body movement would be good to express emotion.

5
1

Z

@ziji62614 years ago

Blake's an absolute legend

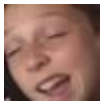
1

@AlfhartProductions6 years ago

If he doesn't want to make a season 3 he shouldn't make a season 3

1

@juliankinsella98815 years ago
when does two face come i mean theres harvy dent, WERES TWO FACE



@bradyjoker6 years ago
19:00 is that a Harry Potter reference

@samaadlatif61436 years ago

when is part 2 coming out

@lightpictures4286 years ago (edited)

When will Episode 7 come out? (Please respond)

1

@martakazmierczak3106 years ago

when will you make part 2?

@lovelyladyhoney96904 years ago

Why did,t you make you Thomas Eliot hush?

@dcforever77306 years ago

When is the next episode coming out

@zombiewolf96496 years ago

When’s part 2

@ollieshow28646 years ago

wheres part 2

@puppythegamer97226 years ago

Why Do you Take so long to make another one between another season I get but a episode really?

1

@danielhaddad50466 years ago
When part 2 endgame comin?

@charlesmartinez81696 years ago
Part 2

@justinlegoproductions84496 years ago
Ðid You Figure out when Endgame part 2 is co ming

@bugspray95456 years ago
Is part 2 still happening

@Minecraft_Villager20116 years ago
What I Expect In Part 2:
Batman Gets Revenge, And Finds A Base In The Middle Of The Ocean, And Joker's There.
Batman Is In His Inside His Batwing, But Joker Shut Down The Globe's Electricity, And The Nice But It Sounds Blown Out Of Proportion

comment...

@onomatopoeicpictures8 years ago (edited)

I love how Alfred is always using "BlOoDy!" In his sentences. ;)
27

2

@MadBatProductions8 years ago

Marvellous Productions I love saying Bloody ell if I can ever fit it in.

1

1

@onomatopoeicpictures8 years ago (edited)

MadBat Productions. Hah, I see..

S

@samebattimesamebatchannels19658 years ago

I know who he is. I'm your worst nightmare. Scarecrow.

7

@LudwayzFilms8 years ago (edited)

Harvey Bullock voice is awesome! Sounds like in Gotham!

6

@Artist_Unbound8 years ago

Jack, let me guess. The season is going to end with Hush kidnapping Batman's friends and take them to a remote island. Batman will recruit Red Hood and Joker to save them. Lol

17

2

8 years ago

+BrickStudios 105 Not a bad idea. Where have I seen that before 😉

6

1

@Artist_Unbound8 years ago

Jack Filmer, from someone who's not Robin Hood lol

2

R

@rayhaanshaikh17018 years ago

Tim drake is red hood,nice twist

4

@LorcanWard_8 years ago

I 100% think that Dick Grayson is Hush.

22

4

@aidanlo63667 years ago

Jordan Films dang right

@matdog-brawlstars59276 years ago

I think black diamond’s son is Hush

2

@LorcanWard_6 years ago

@matdog-brawlstars5927 lol 2 years late

1

1

@matdog-brawlstars59276 years ago

Apollo Films I only just started watching this season

1

@evan51638 years ago

Batman's voice is cool it's like the batman telltale one
6

@tylerklenot21848 years ago

at first I thought he was the talon from the Oder of the owls
2

@arrowversestudios8128 years ago

This is the best Lego Batman series ever!!!
3

@A.G.O.M.8 years ago

Oh my God I just saw the red hood on mask oh my God I am freaking out yes yes god yes Tim Drake rules
3

@jlpgamin8 years ago (edited)

AWESOME MY DUDE :) oh my g-o-s-h Red Hood is Tim Drake

5

@MattC62547 years ago (edited)

Can’t say I’m happy that Jason Todd’s fate being beaten to death with a crowbar and identity as the Red Hood has been substituted for the other roles. But otherwise perfect animation, keep it up!

2

@AmaralAnimations8 years ago

This is one of my favorite episodes I loved the red and blue lighting very creative. I loved the story especially the cliffhanger at the end.

5

@ninjans15568 years ago

It was great, and Red Hood was a great addition, but you could have done Red Robin since he is actually Tim Drake, or just use Jason Todd.

8

@fluffyplatypusgaming19418 years ago

all the Alfred Chair spins made me burst into laughter

1

@RedVen-x7f8 years ago

Tim Drake as red hood cool

3

@AliBaba-sh1pp8 years ago

it is Thomas Elliot AKA hush a guy who took body parts from others and made him self look like Bruce Wayne and knows everything about him

2

@rudevoices92048 years ago

Who else heard the voice crack in the news anchor? 😂

3

@Langford_Artist8 years ago

Something tells me Hush is Dick Grayson

2

@yes-ug7kp7 years ago

Such good story line and action. It also helps that the stop motion is smooth

3

@Langford_Artist8 years ago

I am always on edge when people have their own take on the batman mythos but yours is AWSOME.
1

@aubrielledumas63747 years ago

> 5:31 is that the 1989 Batman animated series theme?

woah
2

@MadBatProductions8 years ago

Another amazing entry in the series, keep up the amazing work and I'll keep giving you my A game for the series.
5

@lordracoonproductions78294 years ago

I cant belive the series is almost over

1

@evan51638 years ago

Jack be honest is hush tommy wiseau

7

1

Show more replies

@iilegoflicksii69278 years ago

Drake is the red hood? I don't know but I like it

2

C

@crunchypizzaanimations4117 years ago

animation improved a lot

2

@anarkyfilm8 years ago (edited)

This is actually amazing your very underrated as a film writer.

2

@whatsupjesus16097 years ago

Red hood reminds me of Spider-Man for some reason

1

@theplaystationboy90928 years ago

IT'S BACK ABOUT TIME!

2

@JAStudiosDankestManLiv8 years ago

Yes. If you want me to voice flash or anything just email me k?

3

@starwarsstudio1008 years ago

This was pretty amazing, good job and keep up the good work!

6

@The3Snake8 years ago

Can anyone tell me what EnergeticLegoFilms Email is? I want to ask him to play Batman for me

4

@d-maproductions91757 years ago

Me and my brother have a LEGO stopmotion acount and yours is sooooo much better

2

@TheFreedomPrime8 years ago

First. Well done. The Red Hood twist was interesting

2

@rainy168 years ago

so epic

2

@sdrawkcab_maiL8 years ago

Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, yaaaaa!!!

1

@thenerd39608 years ago

Hush got to be dick Grayson

1

@Arsenalplayz8257 years ago (edited)

I think it's Dick Grayson and that he never died and he blames batman for his almost death it's like the redhood but with dick instead of jason and that would explained how he knows alot about batman and the batrangs

2

@themadpizza10608 years ago

HOLY shit awesome

2

@samebattimesamebatchannels19658 years ago

Hi. I hope you got my other message. I am a big fan of your videos. I can't wait to see what you are going to do next. p.s I gave you a like on one of your videos.

2

@ayojay9628 years ago

No lie.....i would slap hush as soon as he said the mommy and daddy thing

4

@HKstudiosYoutube8 years ago

This is amazing

3

@Jimbo8937 years ago

13:38 to 13:48 batman sounds like Fred from Scooby Doo

@probablyjosh8 years ago

I've been waiting on this and i know it's going to be fing amazing

1

@plxyboi_gio8 years ago

Nice Stopmotion I like the Lightning my rating a 1,000/1,000

1

@evan516388 years ago

Aw man I was hoping red hood would be dick but just not out for revenge

1

@prowizanimations6488 years ago

This is awesome! Can’t wait for Pt. 2
2

@evan51638 years ago

Can u do a room tour and show ur setup
2

@savageboi07568 years ago

Finally good job jack remember me i use too be Eli Lego films
1

@Langford_Artist8 years ago (edited)

Just a recommendation I would drop the robot batman voiceprint turn it down a little but this series is legit the best
1

@JozzFilms6 years ago

This series is great! I like the storyline! Can’t wait to see how the game ends :)

@cluelesssoul948 years ago

Good job on season 2 so far!! I was wondering who was the villain in season 1 again just an question!!!
2

@FoliX8 years ago

WOW
1

@officialyb45538 years ago

Cool video 😎
1

@goldenflier8 years ago

Awesome Jack! Loved it! Great job as always dude!
1

@skinnyzachfilms7 years ago

So why is THIS VERSION of Red Hood wearing the costume?
1

@TheJetmedix8 years ago

Omg it was so good

1

@gargantuan4398 years ago

Yo, Jack my homie! Great job, another great entry into your series!

@jplegostudios50138 years ago

Nice loved it

@ReinierCarringtonStJuste8 years ago

Love it

@The3Snake8 years ago

Looks great! I've been watched this seen from the (mad love thing, sorry still) and the episodes are great!

@DannsProductions8 years ago

Nice work! Keep it up.

@dog6946 8 years ago

how did bruce contact alfred if he disabled his comm

1

@keithreviews3601 8 years ago

My favorite episodes are season 1 episode 4 and season 1 episode 10

@AlanFilmStudio 8 years ago

Man, this is so awesome! Realy enjoy in everything your video of Batman epizodes! Fantastic! You dezerve 3milion subs not 3k!

2

@airborne_productions2485 8 years ago

> Awesome

And also what camera do you use?

@nimbunsinurat1878 5 years ago

Ok im suprise i tought the red hood is jason tood

@samebattimesamebatchannels19658 years ago

I think it's joker

1

@pudgeballproductions7 years ago

You ever gonna finish this

1

@noalindqvist98268 years ago

Can you help me with a plot for my upcooming justice league series?

1

@ReinierCarringtonStJuste8 years ago

How did you get such good lighting please tell me

@cameronkelman805 08 years ago

realy good! better than ME!!!

2

1

Show more replies

@jeanlacey1560 7 years ago

So is Jason gonna be Nightwing or Tim gonna die and Jason takes over ?

@anazunigaa6704 7 years ago

When are you going to make part 2

@hauntedwilliam9751 8 years ago

Hey Jack Awesome Video:)!

3

1

Show more replies

@ReinierCarringtonStJuste 8 years ago

I want to make some lego videos my self

1

@marvelboy93838 years ago

is he rodin

@rickortiz34938 years ago

Make more hush ep

@harrambou94687 years ago (edited)

> 5:13 HUSH IS ADRIAN CHASE 😂
>
> 8:18 Barbara is a BITCH in S2...
>
> 10:08 BUHreaking News!

15:00 Hey Prometheus. 😂
1

@Artist_Unbound8 years ago

First!! And Awesome!
1

@athestya8 years ago

Oh never mind

@immensepowerstudios68157 years ago

You got it wrong it's actually Jason Todd who is actually red hood instead of tim drake but you properly now that

@raymondarce6127 years ago

im prety sure joe chil the killer of martha and thomas wanye is hush and also you trolled us i thoght that jason tod was red hood

@keithreviews36018 years ago

Aw man I thought red hood was going to be dick Grayson

@sharontecsi19108 years ago

Wheres prt 2

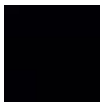
@adrianmaster33488 years ago

Wait Tim is redhood
1

@its_babatunda6 years ago

Tim Drake as the red hood 🤦🏿‍♂️nah bruh

2



@0008x17 years ago

You should do a teen Titans series

@buffinfamily81865 years ago

Look I love this but you know that red hood is Jason Todd right?

@ManifoldWasHere7 years ago

Red hood is Jason Todd not Tim drake

@ManiakMondaysPodcast8 years ago

Tim drake red hood wow Tim drake is red robin Jason Todd is red hood

@FJester51583 years ago

what tim drake is red hood what about jason todd

@philrodfilms8 years ago

What's up Jack? Great video 😉

1

1

Show more replies

@Jakcosn7 years ago

Jason Todd is red hood not robin

@slippyt22578 years ago

Hey! I'm a fan. I was wondering if I could maybe voice a character for the next episode? I have a great mic and can do multiple voices. If o could do that it would make me extremely happy!! Thanks

@bowtie_baron8 years ago

It's jeson tood

@BBS_bricks8 years ago

Red hood is Jason tod! Also make dick still alive and make come back as nightwing

@Indigo_Polarity8 years ago

I am liking this series. Most people complain about people changing the comics E.G. Dick Grayson dying and Red Hood being Tim, but those are the things that draw me to a series. The Hush thing does seem a bit Arrow Season 5 which leads me to think he may be Harvey Dent, but it's still intriguing.

2

8 years ago

James Yardley thanks man, somebody finally gets it, you won't believe how many comments I get saying "Jason Todd does not Dick Grayson". And yes this season partially inspired by arrow season 5 but believe me it's gonna go in an entire different direction moving forward. Thanks for watching man, I'm really glad you enjoyed.

1

@Indigo_Polarity8 years ago

No problem at all.

@savageboi07568 years ago

Guys what if hush is..... ALFRED!!

3

8

Show more replies

@annox59896 years ago

That messed up. I thought u were gonna make dick red hood but then u make him tim drake.

1

@jordanfilms51666 years ago

Dummy's in the comment section getting triggered that jack's doing his own thing

1

@aviarad65118 years ago

wait red hood is tim drake i thought it was jason tood you killed nightwing and made tim red hood what

3

1

@Jimbo8937 years ago

Somethin’ like that…

@darielvellon64738 years ago

I think hush is dick grayson because Jack Filmer made Tim Drake red hood instead of Jason Todd.

@A.G.O.M.8 years ago

I have two theories 1. this is a friend of Bruce’s a childhood friend to be specific or 2. two it’s dick Grayson

1

2

Show more replies

@idksure42327 years ago

Tim drake is not red hood

@brewmaster29127 years ago

Tim drake is NOT red hood

@evan51638 years ago

I haven't finished the episode yet but maybe hush can be Lucius's son

1

6

Show more replies

@justinthepirate2478 years ago

OMG I may know who hush is! who would be angery at bruce other then tyler?

a angery dick grayson who has felt the effects of th lazurus pit!

1

@tylerklenot21848 years ago

duuudde hushes head is so wicked is it custom jack filmer ?

1

@Indigo_Polarity8 years ago

It's the sakaaran soldier head from the 2014 guardians sets. I'm pretty sure the only part of hush that isn't from that fig is the legs.

@superx422258 years ago

76th

2

@ritaknox791578 years ago

I would have picked hush up and throw him off the roof and tie him up when he said mommy and daddy

1

@tristen-w1p8 years ago (edited)

The red hood thing is just random I don't like it it would've been better to see 13 year old Jason Todd trying to steal wheels of the batmobile it felt unseccary but besides that it was amazing

1

8 years ago

Tristen TheKid I see where your coming from, however since I did make most Jason's story with Dick I decided I would do something different, and who knows, maybe Jason will appear:

@menace-gamingvideos65278 years ago

Great vid, just asking why did you make Tim Drake Red hood?

2

Show more replies

@jenniferfallondelucia98388 years ago

Will Batman shave?

2

1

@Jimbo8937 years ago

Jennifer Fallon-DeLucia, WHAT DO YOU THINK!

@SpeedyBrickStudios8 years ago

Yoo this was good! The beginning dragged on for a while, too many freeze frames, still not a fan of the Batman, Red Hood and Hush's voice. Writing is good! I really like the Thumbnail, lotta choppy movements, but your animation is certainly improving, I like the new Bruce Wayne and Batman face! I didn't like the Red Hood reveal, real weird and random-ish. Lotta lighting is real cool looking. And a pool of blood? More like a pool of studs, hahahahahaha...sorry.

Read more

13

8

@MadBatProductions8 years ago

SpeedyBrixStudios So you hated my voice as Hush... dang...

5

@evan51638 years ago

MadBat Productions I liked it, it was actually phenomenal just without the auto tune

2

@MadBatProductions8 years ago

SpaceAce844 Thanks, I’m glad you appreciated my performance.

3

@ajdoerge8 years ago

I had just woke up when I recorded my lines, dude.

3

@SpeedyBrickStudios8 years ago

TheLegoDirector I just didn’t like the voice filter

2

@SpeedyBrickStudios8 years ago

MadBat Productions I just didn’t like the voice filter

2

8 years ago

SpeedyBrixStudios duly noted.

2

@LorcanWard_8 years ago

I think that his voice reminded me of a mix between Kylo Ren and Salazar!

1

@LorcanWard_8 years ago

This was great! Wasn't a fan of Tim Drake, he should've just been Jason Todd!
2

J

@justinthepirate2478 years ago

Mr Goggles or dick grayson I want him back

@Artist_Unbound8 years ago

Justin ThePirate, same

@Tyxtti8 years ago

It Jason Todd not him drake him drake why did you make him redhood

1

Show more replies

@Leo-oy6zm8 years ago

Where tf is Jason

3

3

Show more replies

@malindacostello63028 years ago

Is hush dick grayson if it is i will be 😲

1

@Yermealuvsit718 years ago

Red hood is acting like he doesn’t know batman for god sake red hood use to be robin and red hood isn’t Tim Drake he’s Jason todd

1

Show more replies

@motion-movies8 years ago

I hate to be that guy but Jason tod is red hood, not Tim Drake

1

3

Show more replies

@the_nightwing_from_yt39658 years ago

Is dick Grayson hush or joker is

1

1

Show more replies

@sihlesnkosi89788 years ago

Who's hush

1

Show more replies

@CarlosGomez-yt2ti8 years ago

hush might be klucios fox

2

Show more replies

@danshinn14546 years ago

Ugh! HATE The Batman’s voice..

@sharontecsi19107 years ago

Wheres prt 2

Show more replies

@puppythegamer97226 years ago

Why Do you Take so long to make another one between another season I get but a episode really?

1

@martakazmierczak3106 years ago

when will you make part 2?

@lovelyladyhoney96904 years ago

Why did,t you make you Thomas Eliot hush?

@dcforever77306 years ago

When is the next episode coming out

@ollieshow28646 years ago

wheres part 2

@zombiewolf96496 years ago

When’s part 2

D

@danielhaddad50466 years ago

When part 2 endgame comin?

@bugspray95456 years ago

Is part 2 still happening

@justinlegoproductions84496 years ago

Đid You Figure out when Endgame part 2 is co ming

C

@charlesmartinez81696 years ago

Part 2

@Minecraft_Villager20116 years ago

What I Expect In Part 2:

Batman Gets Revenge, And Finds A Base In The Middle Of The Ocean, And Joker's There.

Batman Is In His Inside His Batwing, But Joker Shut Down The Globe's Electricity, And The Batwing Falls Into The Ocean, And Freezes.

Then Gotham Gets Nuked By Joker, And Batman Wakes Up In A Prison In A Joker World, And Sees A Purple City Around Him, And A Green Sky, He Was Frozen In A Year, And Didn't Wake Up until 3 Months Later, And Then He Broke Out Of The Prison, And There Were Joker People There, Because Joker Poisioned Everyone, And Joker Had An Army, So Batman Fought Space Wars, Because Joker Had A Death Star, But Joker Broke Batman's Back, Because Joker Ate Many Powerful Items, And Became Undescribably Strong, Stronger Than Darkseid!

Batman's Batwing Exploded, And Batman Landed On A Wasteland, And Retired.

20 Years Passed, And There Was Still No Batman, But Then A Boy Who Did Not Get Affected By The Joker Gas Came, And Was Given A Batboy Suit.

Bruce Wayne Became Batman Again, And Then A War Began, All The Remaining Heroes Fought Against The Entire Joker Army, But All Heroes Died, Except Batman.

Batman Had No Choice But To Erase These Things From Existence.

Batman Built A Time Machine That Went To Another Timeline, Like In Avengers Endgame, So Batman Went Back To The 1980's, But Joker Took The Time Machine Appart.

Batman Ended Up In The Streets Of Gotham, And Killed The Man Who Killed His Parents, But Then Batman Had To Kill All Evil, But After Killing Many Bad Guys, Batman Then Died Because His Main Timeline Was Corrupted, He Was 65 When He Died, He Had Grey Hair.

The Corruption Happened Because The Joker Made A Timeline Changing Time Machine, And Opened A Giant Portal To 1943, And Ruled The World There, And Brought The Buildings To 1943, And Then The 2020 In That Timeline Got Erased.

The Joker Teamed Up With Nazis, And Then The Story Got A Bad And Good Ending, The Bad Ending Was Good For Joker, And The Good Ending Was Good For Batman.

In The Other Timeline, Bruce Wayne And His Parents Were Peaceful, And Gotham Was Better!

Read more

2

1

Show more replies

@justinlegoproductions84496 years ago

Good episode Did Dick Grayson fake his death

@justinlegoproductions84496 years ago

8:11

1

M

@mauromaya19286 years ago

Why didnt batman grab tyler and put the batcuffs on him do batcuffs even exist in this universe.

2

@Cobra_1256 years ago

Feel like people aren't giving enough credit to Harvey Bullock's writing in this.

While I do somewhat wish his role was filled by Harvey Dent, either way Bullock's been a great secondary antagonist this whole season.

2

Z

@ziji62614 years ago

b...b....b...blake??

@TheBoysArchived6 years ago

Bruh

1

@jelani95 years ago

He said he was taught to be the best assassin but all he does is slap a batarang into someones face

S

@sophiecarter23635 years ago

Heavy Bullock better end up behind bars, same for Tyler and those cops who stood with Bullock.

Jade rose quartz garmadon

Heavy will never be a police chief never were, never will be.

@vivianwilliams62613 years ago

Bruce looks terrible and he needs a new costume

1

Tensions are high in Gotham as Batman and Batgirl have a falling out, The hooded figure is still causing havoc through Gotham, and Batman is still being hunted by the Police. Feeling angry Barbara goes behind Bruce's back and with the help of Tyler Fox forms a new team.

This episode of Lego Batman (S2): New Heroes follows the fallout between Batman and Batgirl as tensions rise in Gotham City. Here is a summary of the events:

Jack filmer season of Lego Batman Arkham knight videos sped and descriptions information

*   Conflict and Separation (0:00-1:40): Batman (Bruce Wayne) and Batgirl (Barbara Gordon) have a heated confrontation following a mission that left a close ally (presumably Dick) in a coma. Bruce attempts to pull Barbara from the team for her safety, but she accuses him of being self-centered and responsible for the tragedies they've faced.

*   Forming a New Alliance (3:55-5:30): Feeling isolated, Barbara turns to Tyler Fox. She reveals her identity to him and explains that Batman is being framed for recent crimes. Together, they decide to operate independently of Batman.

*   Investigation and Equipping (6:30-7:45): Barbara and Tyler utilize Wayne Enterprises technology found in her father's supplies to create new personas: Batwing (Tyler) and Oracle (Barbara).

*   The Hunt for Answers (7:45-10:30): The new duo visits the scene of a recent murder and finds a cryptic note left for them, leading to a warehouse meeting. They confront Ulysses Klein (known as Calendar), a criminal connected to the Joker, to find out who is framing Batman.

*   Cliffhanger (11:15-12:44): The episode concludes with Barbara and Tyler preparing for their next move while Batman attempts to investigate on his own, only to be interrupted by a mysterious, threatening presence (11:44).How does Batman discover his mystery trap?

Why does Batgirl help Barbara go rogue?

What does Bruce support Harvey Dent with

Batman discovers his mystery trap while investigating the recent murder of Jonas Frost (7:49 - 8:12). While examining the crime scene, he notices a note placed on the bed (8:12).

He concludes that the note was left after the police had processed the scene, meaning the perpetrator knew someone would return to investigate (8:21 - 8:27). The note contains a specific location and time—the roof of the warehouse on 52nd Street at 3:00 a.m.—which serves as the trap (8:37 - 8:44).

What do the duo learn at the docks?

What did Jonas Frost's death reveal?

Why does Bruce distrust Barbara's field safety?

Bruce Wayne's distrust of Barbara Gordon's safety in the field stems from his heightened fear for her life following recent events in Gotham City. His primary concerns include:

* The Unknown Threat: Bruce is aware of a new, unidentified hooded figure who has been successfully manipulating the police force and targeting those close to him (0:24-0:30, 0:46-0:49).

* Recent Trauma: A recent encounter left a close ally, Dick, in a coma, which serves as a grim reminder of the extreme danger the current situation poses (0:06-0:11, 0:30-0:34).

* Personal Responsibility: Having already lost others in the past, including Dick * during a conflict with the Joker (0:59-1:04), Bruce feels a heavy burden of responsibility and insists on taking back her suit to prevent her from facing the same fate (0:37-0:40, 0:53-0:55).

In the first part of the epic conclusion to the Batman Series, Hush finally reveals himself and gives Bruce a deadly ultimatum. Broken and alone, Bruce must face his inner demons and discover what it means to truly be a hero in order to save his friends and more importantly... himself.

Alternate LEGO timeline of Arkham knight and Batman Arkham Knight 2021 real earth time too yes

I know its taken a while to get this out but I am so happy all of you stuck around. I really am trying my hardest to make these last 2 episodes the best ones of the series. I can't say when the next one will be out but i promise it won't take a year this time. Hope you guys enjoy and feel free to leave a comment as I always love to hear you feedback. Also shout out to Speedybrix for making the thumbnail and helping me out with a bunch of other things.

This episode, Lego Batman (S2) Episode 6: Endgame Part One, serves as the intense beginning of the series' conclusion. Here is a summary of the major events:

Hush's Revelation and Ultimatum:

- The Antagonist: The villain Hush reveals his identity as the brother of Caleb Wayne . He explains that he spent years training—specifically with Ra's al Ghul—to dismantle Batman after blaming Bruce Wayne for his brothers death and the tragic loss of his mother (0:02 - 2:40).
- The Trap: Hush has abducted Bruce's allies, including Barbara Gordon and Alfred, holding them in his brother’s old lab in bludhaven He gives Bruce until 2:00 a.m. to find them, threatening to kill them and having already set explosives at Wayne Manor (3:45 - 5:23).

Bruce's Internal Struggle:

- Hallucinations: Suffering from physical trauma and exhaustion, Bruce battles inner demons, manifesting as hallucinations of his deceased parents. They urge him to keep fighting and to forgive himself, helping him find the clarity needed to track down Hush (8:10 - 9:50, 12:40 - 14:30).
- Resolution: Despite being physically broken and emotionally overwhelmed, Bruce resolves to honor his mission and save his friends, emphasizing that he must rise even when he feels like he is falling (14:15 - 14:35, 17:30 - 19:00).

In Lego Batman (S2) Episode 6: Endgame Part One, Batman experiences hallucinations as a result of a combination of factors, as explained by his father's presence in his mind (8:13 - 8:30):

- Severe Head Trauma: He has sustained significant physical injuries over the past few days.
- Lack of Sleep: Chronic sleep deprivation has severely impacted his mental state.
- Medication: The painkillers he was prescribed after being hospitalized have contributed to his altered perception of reality.

In Lego Batman (S2) Episode 6: Endgame Part One, the antagonist known as Hush is revealed to be the brother of Caleb wayne (0:02 - 0:43).

He holds a deep grudge against Bruce Wayne for his father's death and the subsequent tragic loss of his mother (0:13 - 2:35). Key details regarding his transformation include:

- Training: He left Gotham for 11 months to train as a fighter, detective, and assassin, notably receiving training from Ra's al Ghul (1:03 - 1:39).
- Motivation: He blames Batman for the pain and destruction surrounding his family, claiming Bruce only cared about the gadgets in his father's lab rather than his family's well-being (1:42 - 2:35).
- Methodology: He utilized equipment from his brothers lab to frame Batman for murders, while secretly working to dismantle Bruce's life from the shadows (2:40 - 3:43
-

These hallucinations manifest as conversations with his deceased parents, who serve as a subconscious guide to help him process his trauma, guilt, and resolve to continue his mission (8:35 - 9:50, 12:40 - 14:35).

AI can make mistakes, so double-check it. Learn more

Why did Philip frame Batman for murders?

How did Ra's al Ghul help Philip?

What did Jim Gordon do to stop Bullock?

-

Police Department Conflict:

- Division: Commissioner Gordon awakens from his coma and attempts to reclaim the police department, calling out Bullock for his corrupt vendetta against Batman. The department fractures as officers are forced to choose sides, with Bullock declaring that anyone supporting Batman is a vigilante (14:49 - 16:51).

AI can make mistakes, so double-check it. Learn more

Who is the person called Hush?

Why does Batman hallucinate?

What causes the police department split?

Thumbnail by SpeedyBrixStudios

In Disney's The Lion Guard and broader The Lion King franchise, bipedalism occurs primarily as a stylized animation choice used during songs, highly expressive gestures, or for specific anthropomorphic characters. While quadrupeds like lions and cheetahs occasionally stand on two legs for a few seconds to look at something or emote, true bipedalism is rare for them. [1, 2]

Bipedal Characters in the Series

- Bunga the Honey Badger: As a core member of the Lion Guard (group), Bunga is primarily bipedal. He regularly walks, runs, and fights on two legs, though he reverts to all fours when sprinting. [1, 2, 3]
- Rafiki and Other Primates: Naturally, characters like Rafiki, Makini, and Tumbili utilize bipedal movement frequently as it mimics real-world primate anatomy. [1, 2]

Brief Moments of Quadruped Bipedalism

Kion: The leader of the Guard briefly stands on two legs during the Season 1 episode "Eye of the Beholder" while inspecting a painting, a rare visual for a lion cub. [1, 2, 3]

Makucha and Antagonists: Leopards like Makucha and hyenas like Janja often rear up on two legs during musical numbers or dramatic villain monologues to point, gesture, or threaten other characters. [1, 2]

Tiifu and Zuri: Lions occasionally rise to two legs when reacting dramatically to a situation, such as getting their paws dirty or expressing disgust.

If you are looking for a specific scene where a quadruped character stands up, or if you are researching fan art and animations of bipedal designs, let me know so I can track down the exact detail!

The dark knight rises trethebear Kai okia al ghul/shredder/bane

All lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots Henry danger danger force the thundermans power rangers franchise avengers franchise

Bandit’s belt lion guard bluey dc franchises Ninjago

The dark knight rises trethebear 2013

Batman the Arkham Knight/the dark knight rises

Pens duro

The pit

The dark knight rises 2012 Lego Batman Gotham knights 2012

Ninjago harumi 2018/2024 jd/harkkai Hush the emperor and the empress of ninjago were killed by harakai

Sofia the first Elena of avalor Mira royal detective miles from Tomorrowland miles mission force one

Harumi/princess ivy 2014/2018 Sofia the first

Batman hush was once Lloyd garmadon's true love same with harkkai with Lloyd and Steven universe after change your mind

All lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots ai video generated Hauilo 2025/2026

Thomas Elliot's origin

Steven garmadon hush/the Arkham knight/black diamond hush

Ninjago game of masks dread arrival the quiet one true potential

Princess ivy/harumi

Harukai/prince ivy/hush

2018 2024/25/26

All Ben 10 franchises yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Harumi good guy green ninja all aus prime canon 2018/2022

But a villain in earth -3

Princess ivy/harumi/hush batwoman the silenced

Prince ivy/harukai/hush Batman the silenced dark aus dark multiverse Japanese villains identity thefts

Justice League vs teen titans 2016/ 2024 2 summers ago

Miraculous ladybug and cat noir and miraculous heroes crystal gems

All bluey 2018 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 all lots lots lots quarantine completely rewriting the script for the final installment of the series. The final script came in at about 50 pages which would be a lot for one video. So, we decided to split the episode up into two different parts. This next episode will be Endgame Part 2 and the true finale will be called Batman: Knightfall. Endgame Part 2 has completed filming and I am currently editing the video so that should honestly be out in about a week or so. In-between editing episode 7 I will also be animating Knightfall so that one should be out a few weeks after Endgame Part 2. I'm so excited to finally finish the series and give you all a proper to ending to the story! Thank you all for sticking with me for this long. I promise the ending wont disappoint you!

EXT. GOLD COAST BEACH - DAY

The sun is a blinding golden coin in a cloudless blue sky. Waves crash rhythmically against the shore. The sand is absolutely packed with hundreds of dogs—families under colorful umbrellas, surfers waxing their boards, and beachgoers eating fish and chips. Near the surf lifesaving tower, a BUSKER is playing a high-energy, thumping electronic-reprise of the Bluey theme song through a massive, battery-powered marine amp.

BINGO

(Standing proudly on top of a giant sandcastle)

DANCE MODE: ACTIVATED!

She leaps down into the wet sand and smacks the "Dance Mode" button on Bandit's stomach. A booming "DING"echoes across the shoreline.

BANDIT

(His legs instantly twitching to the heavy bass groove)

Oh, biscuits! Clear the shoreline! The Big D is hitting the surf!

Bandit drops flat onto his belly and starts a high-speed "Sand-Crawl Centipede" right through the surf line, kicking up spray. The massive crowd of swimming dogs and sunbathers instantly encircles him, lifting their sunglasses and pulling out their phones to film the spectacle.

CROWD

(Cheering and barking)

Go, big fella! Shake it!

CHILLI

(Grabbing two plastic beach spades like rhythm sticks)

Move over, Bandit! Mum's got the ocean rhythm!

Chilli bursts into a blistering "Beach-Spade Samba." She clicks the plastic shovels together like castanets, performing sharp high-kicks and a perfectly timed "Vogue" routine while weaving gracefully through a group of stunned Borzoi sunbathers.

BLUEY

(Bounding into the center of the massive ring, her paws splashing)

FRUIT BAT SURFER SHUFFLE!

Bluey spreads her arms wide and enters a frantic, fluttering dance, hopping rapidly from foot to foot in the shallow water. She boldly reaches out, grabs the paw of a very serious-looking SURF LIFESAVER, and spins him around. The lifesaver, caught up in the heavy beat, throws his rescue float in the air and pulls off a flawless "Hang Ten" disco glide right alongside her.

BINGO

(Stepping up for the grand finale)

Everyone... TITANIC BEACH DANCE!

The entire Heeler family forms a perfectly synchronized line right where the waves crash.

- Bandit hits a relentless "Running Man" in the wet sand.
- Chilli grooves into a flawless "The Swim" move.
- Bluey and Bingo drop down and perform a lightning-fast beach "Floss."

The massive crowd completely locks in. Hundreds of dogs—from tiny Chihuahuas to giant Great Danes—start a deafening, rhythmic stadium clap that drowns out the sound of the ocean—CLAP-CLAP-STOMP! CLAP-CLAP-STOMP!

CROWD

(Chanting in a massive roar)

HEE-LER! HEE-LER! HEE-LER!

The Busker hits a massive, screaming final chord on his guitar. The Heelers freeze instantly into a dramatic, theatrical "Star" formation as a wave splashes perfectly behind them.

SILENCE.

Then, the entire beach completely erupts.

CROWD

(Cheering, stamping their paws, and whistling loudly)

HOORAY! WOO-HOO!

Dozens of dogs are whistling through their teeth, and a sea of paws throws beach balls and hats into the air.

BANDIT

(Panting heavily, shaking wet sand out of his fur)

Phew! I've got sand in places sand should never be, but we definitely won the coastline.

BINGO

(Beaming as she hugs his leg)

That was the biggest crowd ever, Dad!

SCENE END

Would you like to add a funny "After-Credits" scene where Lucky's Dad (Pat) is seen trying to copy Bandit's sand-crawl and gets chased by a seagull, or should we write a follow-up where the family goes to get ice creams to cool down?

Thumbnail by SpeedyBrix

All lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots of reciting Irving school derby middle school and derby high school and SCSU freshman year and yesterday and Today all lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots tumblr and tapas stories Steven universe origin mom swap tvtropes 2020-2022 pink diamond yellow diamond blue diamond and white diamond swap au pink diamond/rose quartz/evelyn clawthorn universe pink pearl spinel

White pearl

INT. HEELER BEDROOM - THE NEXT MORNING

The morning sun streams through the window, painting yellow blocks on the rug. BLUEY is sitting on her bed, trying to put socks on her stuffed animal. She glances over at BINGO, who is sitting quietly at her small desk, carefully drawing a picture of a cheetah and an orange hound holding hands.

Bluey drops the sock. She remembers the heavy, sad look on Bingo’s face from the night before, and the long talk her mum had to have with her. A wave of guilt hits her little chest.

BLUEY

(Sliding off her bed and walking over with slouching shoulders)

Bingo?

Bingo looks up, holding a red crayon in her paw.

BINGO

Yeah, Bluey?

BLUEY

(Looking down at her paws, her tail tucked slightly)

I’m really sorry about yesterday. I shouldn't have told you that Aunt Brandy stopped coming because you were born. I didn't mean to make your brain do a worry.

Bingo blinks, then sets her crayon down. She reaches out and gently pats Bluey’s arm, just like Chilli does.

BINGO

It’s okay, Bluey. Mum explained it to me last night. It wasn't my fault at all. Aunt Brandy just lost her balloon for a little while.

BLUEY

(Looking up, confused)

A balloon? But she didn't bring any balloons.

BINGO

(Nodding seriously)

A heart-balloon. Mum says grown-ups have big ones that hurt when they pop. But look!

Bingo holds up her drawing. It shows a big orange dog (Chilli), a little orange dog (Bingo), a blue dog (Bluey), and a spotted dog (Brandy) all smiling together under a massive, colorful rainbow.

BINGO (CONT'D)

I’m drawing a picture to send to her house. So if her heart-balloon ever gets flat again, she can look at us and feel happy.

Bluey's ears perk up. A huge grin spreads across her face.

BLUEY

Ooh! Can I add some glitter? Glitter makes everything 100% happier!

BINGO

(Giggling)

Yes, please! But only the gold glitter. That's Aunt Brandy's favorite color.

Bluey scrambles to the toy box to fetch the craft supplies, the heavy cloud from the day before completely vanishing into the morning air.

SCENE END

This wraps up the emotional arc perfectly, showing how the sisters always support each other.

Would you like to write the next scene where Chilli helps them post the letter in the mailbox [local], or move on to a different Bluey story idea?

01:00 am	NEW The Story Is: With Elex Michaelson 05-26-2026 -2
02:00 am	CNN Newsroom
03:00 am	CNN Newsroom
04:00 am	CNN Newsroom
05:00 am	NEW CNN Headline Express

	26-05-2026
06:00 am	NEW CNN This Morning 05-26-2026
07:00 am	NEW CNN News Central 05-26-2026
08:00 am	NEW CNN News Central 05-26-2026 -2
09:00 am	NEW CNN News Central 05-26-2026 -3
10:00 am	NEW Situation Room With Wolf Blitzer 05-26-2026 - Season 2026, Episode 209
11:00 am	NEW Situation Room With Wolf Blitzer 05-26-2026 -2 - Season 2026, Episode 210
12:00 pm	NEW Inside Politics with Dana Bash 05-26-2026
1:00 pm	NEW CNN News Central 05-26-2026 -4
2:00 pm	NEW CNN News Central 05-26-2026 -5
3:00 pm	NEW CNN News Central 05-26-2026 -6
4:00 pm	NEW The Arena With Kasie Hunt 26-05-2026

5:00 pm	NEW The Lead With Jake Tapper 05-26-2026 - Season 2026, Episode 204
6:00 pm	NEW The Lead With Jake Tapper 05-26-2026 -2 - Season 2026, Episode 205
7:00 pm	NEW Erin Burnett OutFront 05-26-2026 - Season 2026, Episode 107
8:00 pm	Election Night in America Anderson Cooper 360
9:00 pm	Election Night in America The Source with Kaitlan Collins
10:00 pm	Election Night in America CNN NewsNight with Abby Phillip
11:00 pm	NEW Laura Coates Live 26-05-2026 - Season 2026, Episode 104
12:00 am 2026-05-27	NEW The Story Is: With Elex Michaelson 05-27-2026

Bandit’s belt tvtropes reciting dc comics Steven universe

Here is a dialogue script illustrating how that tense, reality-shattering confrontation would play out inside the Temple room.

The wakandan titans/lego Ninjago 2015 16 17 18 19 African history and astronomy and Asian history

---

[SCENE START]

INT. THE TEMPLE ROOM - DAY

The pink, cloud-like atmosphere of the room is heavy. The usual soft light has dimmed into a bruised, stormy violet.

STEVEN (14) stands in the center of the room. His fists are clenched, his breathing shallow.

Opposite him stands the cloud projection of ROSE QUARTZ. Her face is perfectly serene, smiling with a gentle, artificial warmth that no longer matches the room's suffocating energy.

ROSE

Steven. What’s wrong? You’re shaking.

STEVEN

(Voice cracking)

Stop smiling like that. Just... stop.

The Rose projection blinks. Her smile tilts into an eerie, programmed mimicry of concern.

ROSE

I only want you to be happy.

STEVEN

Happy? I just talked to Bismuth. I looked into the eyes of a Gem you bubbled for thousands of years just because she built a weapon to shatter Diamonds.

The room rumbles. A flash of jagged pink lightning cuts through the faux-sky above them.

STEVEN (CONT'D)

You locked her away in the dark. You told the Crystal Gems that shattering was wrong. That we had to protect all life. But you used it, didn't you? You didn't just bubble Pink Diamond. You broke her.

ROSE

(Softly, shifting her weight)

Steven... war requires impossible choices. Earth needed to be free.

STEVEN

(Yelling)

Don't give me the revolutionary speech! You lied to everyone! You made yourself a saint, but you're just a killer! You shattered a Diamond, and then you hid behind a shield of pacifism and let everyone else take the blame!

The Rose projection doesn't move. Her expression flattens. The warm light completely drains from her eyes, leaving them completely dark, mirroring the cold data stored within Steven's gemstone.

ROSE

(Voice dropping, devoid of warmth)

If Homeworld knew a common Quartz soldier could end a Diamond, they would have cracked this planet in half within an hour. The lie kept the rebellion alive, Steven. The lie kept Earth safe.

STEVEN

And what about me?!

(He grabs his shirt, pulling it up to expose his gemstone)

Did you have me because you loved humanity? Or did you just need a place to hide? Did you create me just to build a bunker so you wouldn't have to face the Diamonds' vengeance?!

Static glitches across Rose's cloud form. The room begins to lose its shape. The soft clouds harden into razor-sharp, crystalline structures.

ROSE

I wanted to give you a life. A life where you didn't have to carry the weight of a sword.

STEVEN

(Tears streaming down his face)

But I am carrying it! Every single day! I'm paying for a murder I didn't commit! You didn't give me a life, Mom... you gave me your prison sentence!

A massive clap of thunder shakes the entire room. The projection of Rose starts to dissolve into pink, smoky ash, her digital eyes locked onto Steven's with a tragic, hollow finality.

ROSE

(Fading echo)

I am sorry... Steven...

Steven falls to his knees as the room reverts to a cold, silent, empty gray void. He clutches his stomach, weeping quietly into the dark.

[SCENE END]

If you want to keep expanding this version of the story, we can write Pearl's reaction when Steven finally walks out of the Temple door, or explore how Garnet tries to handle Steven's newfound trauma. Which direction should we take?

Emperor Scar/philip wittibane/the joker Batman Arkham origins and Batman beyond return of the joker

---

Wakandian titans 2015 16 17 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 the kingdom of Wakanda and Kenya

The Thorne cult/Ras Al ghul demon form/the Chinese witch hunter

While both Bandit's Belt (a famously grim Bluey fan fiction community project) and Rob Zombie's Halloween reboots (Halloween 2007 and Halloween II 2009) are psychological horror works that overhaul wholesome, classic source materials into gritty, trauma-filled nightmares, they differ significantly in execution, themes, and origins. [1, 2, 3]

The primary differences across their lore, storytelling styles, and tropes include:

1. Conceptual Origin & Medium

- Bandit's Belt: A collaborative text-based fan fiction project that completely deconstructs a wholesome, lighthearted preschool cartoon (Bluey) into an adult-oriented body horror and psychological tragedy.
- Halloween Remakes: Big-budget, theatrical live-action feature films written and directed by musician/filmmaker Rob Zombie. Instead of changing a cartoon into a horror story, it takes an already legendary slasher franchise (John Carpenter's 1978 Halloween) and pushes it into extreme "grindhouse" violence and realism. [1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7]

2. Biological vs. Psychological Killers

- Bandit's Belt (The "Psycho Cancer"): The source of the horror is a fictional biological virus(frequently called "psychorabia" or brain cancer). It is an infectious, physical disease that acts like an aggressive tumor, actively hijacking the brains of normal, loving family members (Chilli, Trixie, Nana Chris) and forcing them into "ax-crazy," cannibalistic rampages.
- Halloween Remakes (The Mind of a Psychopath): The threat is purely psychological and human. Michael Myers does not have a virus; he suffers from severe antisocial personality disorder. Rob Zombie crafts an extensive backstory showcasing a toxic childhood, animal torture, and an abusive family environment to groundedly explain how Michael became a serial killer. [1, 2, 3, 4, 5]

3. Family Dynamics & Incestuous Betrayal

- Bandit's Belt: The core underlying trauma of the Heeler family is rooted in infidelity and a web of generational abuse. The plot-shattering revelation is that Bandit had a drunken affair with Chilli's sister, Brandy, resulting in Bingo's birth. The family structure collapses under the weight of this secret, leading to Chilli's hatred of Bingo and Bluey's ultimate hatred of Bandit.
- Halloween (2007/2009): The family dynamic is defined by domestic squalor and tragic isolation. Michael grew up in a trailer park with a deadbeat, abusive stepfather and a mother who worked as a stripper. In Halloween II, the dynamic between Michael and Laurie Strode focuses entirely on shared trauma, PTSD, and a supernatural, telepathic connection to their dead mother's spirit (symbolized by a White Horse). [1, 2]

4. Direct Visual and Structural Comparison

Feature [1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9]	Bandit's Belt* (TV Tropes Lore)	Halloween* Remakes (2007 / 2009)
Primary Theme	Generational curse, biological corruption, and breakdown of a family.	Nature vs. nurture, the ripple effects of trauma, and survival.
Main Antagonist Group	Loved ones infected by expanding tumors (Chilli, Nana Chris, Aunt Trixie).	Michael Myers (a massive, unstoppable, masked human stalker).
How Victims Die	Being held at knifepoint, disemboweled, or eaten alive.	Brutal blunt force trauma, stabbings, and slasher movie executions.
The Ending Note	Bittersweet Hope: The virus dies down, and a pregnant Brandy offers a fragile hope for a new generation.	Bleak / Fatalistic: Laurie Strode either inherits Michael's madness (Theatrical) or dies in a hail of gunfire (Director's Cut).

If you want to look deeper into either universe, let me know if you would like me to map out the symptoms of the psycho cancer vs. Michael Myers' clinical diagnosis, or look into Laurie Strode's PTSD compared to Bluey's estrangement.

Emperor Scar/Yokai/batman/Steven universe diamond trials against the evil humanity au genderswap

All lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots reciting reciting lots lots lots 2018 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26

INT. HEELER LIVING ROOM - AFTERNOON

The living room is a complete disaster zone. Sticky orange juice is pooled on the rug, a massive trail of flour leads from the hallway, and a toy box has been entirely emptied into a chaotic pile.

CHILLI stands in the doorway, holding two heavy grocery bags. She is exhausted after a long shift at airport security. Her ears are flat, and her tail is completely still.

BLUEY and BINGO are sitting in the middle of the mess, their paws covered in white flour. They were trying to make a surprise "Welcome Home" cake, but it went terribly wrong.

CHILLI

(Her voice dangerously low)

What... is... this?

BLUEY

(Giggling nervously)

We were making Chef Chimp’s magic pie, Mum! It just exploded a little bit—

CHILLI

(Finally snapping, her voice echoing off the walls)

BLUEY! BINGO! ENOUGH!

Both girls freeze. The giggle dies instantly on Bluey’s lips. Bingo’s ears pin flat against her head.

CHILLI (CONT'D)

(Shouting, her face tight with frustration)

I have asked you a thousand times to stop playing with the baking supplies! I am tired, I have been working all day, and I cannot come home to a house that looks like a cyclone hit it! Look at this rug! It’s completely ruined!

Chilli slams the grocery bags onto the counter with a loud thud.

CHILLI (CONT'D)

Go to your room. Right now. Both of you. I don't want to hear another word.

Bluey scrambles to her feet, her eyes wide with shock, and runs down the hallway. Bingo stays on the floor for a heartbeat longer, staring up at her mother with big, watery eyes. Chilli is rubbing her temples, not looking down.

Bingo gets up slowly and trudges to the bedroom, her tail tucked completely between her legs.

INT. HEELER BEDROOM - MOMENTS LATER

Bluey is sitting on her bed, hugging a stuffed animal, looking more annoyed than sad.

BLUEY

Mum’s being a total grumpy-pants. It was just a game.

In the corner of the room, BINGO is curled into a tiny ball on her mattress, clutching FLOPPY tightly against her chest. Huge, silent tears are leaking from her eyes, soaking into her fur. She lets out a shaky, broken sniffle.

BLUEY (CONT'D)

(Softening, leaning over the edge of her bed)

Bingo? Are you okay?

BINGO

(Voice trembling, choking back a sob)

It was my fault. I... I was the one who pulled the flour down.

BLUEY

Bingo, no, we were doing it together—

BINGO

(Blaming herself, her voice cracking)

No, I’m the bad one. I made Mum scream. She’s sad because of me. If I wasn't so messy, she wouldn't be mad. I ruined the whole house.

Bingo buries her face into Floppy, her small shoulders shaking violently as she lets out a heartbroken cry. She truly believes her mother’s unhappiness is entirely her fault.

INT. HEELER KITCHEN - CONTINUOUS

Downstairs, the heavy silence has settled. Chilli is on her knees with a sponge, wiping up the orange juice. As she scrubs, the adrenaline of her anger fades, replaced by a massive wave of guilt. She remembers the terrified look on Bingo's face when she screamed.

She drops the sponge. She takes a long, deep breath.

CHILLI

(Sighing heavily to herself)

Oh, Chilli... what did you do?

SCENE END

Would you like to write the reconciliation scene where Chilli comes upstairs to comfort Bingo and explain that adults get overwhelmed too, or should we show Bandit coming home to help fix the situation?

Proactive Follow-up: Let me know if you want to focus on Chilli’s apology or how Bluey helps comfort her sister first.

INT. HEELER BEDROOM - CONTINUOUS

The bedroom door gently creaks open. CHILLI stands in the doorway, her shoulders slouched and her face soft with regret. She has washed the flour off her paws, but the heavy look in her eyes remains.

BLUEY looks up from her bed, still holding her stuffed animal tightly. BINGO doesn't look up at all. She is still curled in a tight ball, her face buried into a damp FLOPPY, her breathing shallow and shaky.

Chilli walks into the room with quiet, heavy steps. She sits on the edge of Bingo’s mattress, the wooden frame creaking softly.

CHILLI

(In a gentle, quiet voice)

Hey, sweethearts.

Bingo flinches slightly but doesn't uncover her face. Chilli reaches out and gently strokes the fur between Bingo’s drooped ears.

CHILLI (CONT'D)

Bingo... look at me, little bit. Please?

Slowly, Bingo untucks her head. Her nose is bright pink, and her eyes are watery and swollen from crying. She looks up at Chilli with a mixture of fear and profound sadness.

BINGO

(A tiny, broken whisper)

I’m sorry, Mum. I’m sorry I’m a bad dog. I didn't mean to ruin the rug.

Chilli’s heart breaks instantly. A tear slips down her own cheek. She scoops Bingo up into her arms, pulling her small body tightly against her chest. Bingo hesitates for a microsecond before wrapping her paws around Chilli’s neck, burying her face into her fur.

CHILLI

(Rocking her gently)

Oh, Bingo, no. No, no, no. Look at me, sweetie.

Chilli pulls back just enough to hold Bingo's face between her paws, forcing her to look into her eyes. Bluey climbs down from her own bed and quietly sits right next to them, listening.

CHILLI (CONT'D)

You are not a bad dog, Bingo. You are a wonderful, kind, creative little girl. And you did not make me scream.

BINGO

(Sniffing loudly, her voice trembling)

But... but you were so mad. You said you were tired of us.

CHILLI

I was mad, Bingo, but I was mad at the situation, not at you. And I was wrong to shout like that.

Chilli looks at Bluey, then back at Bingo, taking a deep, steadying breath.

CHILLI (CONT'D)

Mums and Dads are just like kids sometimes. We have big feelings, and sometimes, when we get too tired, or too stressed from work, our "inside voice" gets entirely full. It's like a balloon that has too much air in it. Today, the balloon popped. But that is my fault, not yours.

BLUEY

(Softly)

Like when Muffin gets a tantrum because she missed her nap?

CHILLI

(Nodding with a sad smile)

Exactly like that, Bluey. Grown-ups throw tantrums too. We just call it "getting overwhelmed." I had a very hard day at the airport, and when I walked into the kitchen, I let all my grumpies out on you two. It wasn't fair, and I am so, so sorry.

Bingo looks at Chilli, her tiny tail giving a very hesitant, tentative twitch underneath her.

BINGO

So... you're not sad that I'm your baby?

CHILLI

(Kissing her forehead fiercely)

Never. I am the luckiest mum in the whole world to have you and Bluey. Even when the kitchen looks like a snowstorm.

Bingo lets out a long, shaky breath—the heavy weight of the blame finally lifting off her small shoulders. She squeezes Floppy tightly, then nuzzles back into Chilli's shoulder.

BLUEY

(Leaning in to join the hug)

We were trying to make you a magic cake, Mum. To make you happy.

CHILLI

(Wrapping an arm around Bluey too, pulling both girls close)

I know, sweetie. And I love you for it. How about we all go downstairs, put some music on, and clean up the magic cake together?

BINGO

(Wiping her nose with the back of her paw, a tiny smile returning)

Can we do the "Supermarket Shuffle" while we sweep?

CHILLI

(Laughing softly)

You bet we can.

SCENE END

What a beautiful way to show that even great parents make mistakes and know how to fix them.

Would you like to write the kitchen cleaning scene with their silly dance moves, or should we have Bandit walk in right as they are throwing flour around playfully to clean it up?

Proactive Follow-up: Let me know if you want to see how Bandit reacts to the leftover mess!

The dark secrets reveal the truth about scar the joker hush Philip Wayne the witch hunter Michael Myers 2018 and 2007/2009 Michael Myers were revealed in Batman hush part 1 and 2 2018 19 20. 21 22 23 24 25 26 endgame part 1 Batman Arkham knight yes yes yes

Emperor scar/the joker/bruce Wayne dark au prime earth and earth negative 22 his soul in Steven diamond Wayne 2017 18 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 unknown and revealed the darkest knight

the tale of the brothers wayne prequel art series the Sofia the first/steven universe yes yes yes

The witches

Connie and Steven swap au Steven universe/sofia the first

The wicked witch of the west/evelyn witch 1600s witch descent to evil after the witch hunters plan to wipe out all life on earth

The collectors godlike beings from the stars in the night sky yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes yes

Philip Caleb and Evelyn the witch of the west swap au of Sofia the first Conner mahashrone

The night was quiet in the Heeler home, except for the soft sound of sniffling from the top bunk. Bingo sat curled up in her favorite blanket, her big eyes filled with tears. She had just overheard her parents talking downstairs in the kitchen about how completely exhausted they used to be when she was a baby.

Chilli walked into the bedroom to check on her girls and noticed the small, shivering shape on the bed.

"Bingo? What's wrong, sweetheart?" Chilli asked softly, climbing up the ladder and sitting on the edge of the mattress.

Bingo buried her nose into her paws, her voice muffled and shaky. "I heard you and Dad talking. You said you didn't sleep for a whole year when I was little. I made you and Dad so tired. It's my fault you were sad and exhausted."

Chilli’s heart melted. She gently pulled Bingo into her lap, rocking her back and forth.

"Oh, Bingo. Look at me," Chilli said, tilting Bingo's chin up. "Being tired didn't mean we were sad. Having a baby is just a big, messy adventure. We were tired because we loved you so much that we stayed up just to watch you breathe, or to comfort you when you had a tummy ache."

Bandit walked past the door, saw the tears, and quietly stepped inside. He climbed up to join them, his large frame making the bunk bed creak. He wrapped his big arms around both of them.

"Is someone talking about the baby days?" Bandit asked, kissing the top of Bingo's head. "Let me tell you a secret, Bingo. Yeah, we were tired. I once tried to put my car keys in the refrigerator and poured orange juice on my cereal! But do you know what else we were?"

Bingo sniffled, wiping her nose. "What?"

"We were the happiest we had ever been," Bandit said softly. "Every time you smiled, or learned to roll over, or held my finger with your tiny paw, all that tiredness just disappeared. You didn't make us tired, mate. You made us a family."

Chilli nodded, wiping away a stray tear from Bingo's cheek. "We would choose to be that tired every single day if it meant we got to have you."

A soft groan came from the bottom bunk as Bluey rubbed her eyes, blinking against the dim light. She sat up, her floppy ears perking up as she looked at the family huddle on the top bunk.

"What's everyone whispering about?" Bluey asked, her voice thick with sleep. "Are we playing a midnight game?"

"No, sweetie," Chilli whispered down, leaning over the railing. "Bingo was just feeling a little sad about how tired we were when she was a baby."

Bluey gasped, scrambling up the ladder with the agility of a little blue dog. She squeezed herself into the tight space between Bandit and Bingo, throwing her arms around her little sister.

"Don't be sad, Bingo! You were the funniest baby ever," Bluey said, her eyes lighting up with a memory. "Tell her about the watermelon story, Dad!"

Bandit let out a low chuckle, nodding. "Oh, man. The watermelon incident."

Bingo looked up, her tears completely stopping. "What's the watermelon incident?"

"Well," Bluey started, leaning in close. "You were just learning to eat real food, and Mum gave you a big piece of watermelon. You loved it so much that you didn't just eat it—you rubbed it all over your face, your ears, and your tummy!"

"And then," Bandit interrupted, grinning widely, "you fell completely fast asleep right in the middle of the kitchen floor, covered in pink juice, sticky from head to toe, holding a squished piece of watermelon like a teddy bear."

"Dad and Mum were so tired that instead of cleaning you up right away, Dad just laid down on the floor right next to you and fell asleep too!" Bluey giggled, poking Bandit’s belly. "When I walked into the kitchen, it looked like a sticky watermelon crime scene."

Bingo let out a bright, bubbly laugh, picturing her dad asleep on the kitchen tiles next to a sticky baby version of herself. "Did I really do that?"

"You absolutely did," Chilli smiled, kissing Bingo's nose. "And it is still one of our favorite memories. See? The tired parts are small, but the happy parts are huge."

Bingo leaned back against her sister, finally feeling completely safe and happy. "I like being a Heeler."

"Me too, sister," Bluey said, yawning loudly and resting her head on Bingo's shoulder. "Now move over, you're hogging the good pillow."

If you want to keep the story going, let me know:

- Do they all fall asleep together in the bunk bed?
- Should the next morning start with a funny breakfast game like "Cafe" or "Restaurant"?
- Would you like them to look at the actual photo of the watermelon incident?

Bingo looked between her mum and dad, seeing nothing but absolute love in their eyes. The heavy weight in her chest began to lift. She let out a small, shaky breath and smiled, hugging them both tightly around their necks.

"Thanks, Mum. Thanks, Dad," Bingo whispered.

"Anytime, kiddo," Bandit chuckled, gently tickling her tummy. "Now, how about we get some sleep? Before your old dad falls asleep right here on your floor."

If you want to continue this story, let me know:

- Should Bluey wake up and add her own funny memory of baby Bingo?
- Do you want them to look at an old photo album together to show the happy memories?

- What game should they play the next morning to celebrate being a family?

Amastad emerald guard/ Steven universe emerald gem

Steven quartz mirror boy au dark reflection of Bruce Wayne/steven Lapis lazuli universe / sofia nora quartz universe comforted Steven same with the crystal gems comforting him and became part of the crystal gems in 2021 and since 2025 joined little homeworld

Grandad Mort stands in the center, his daughters Chilli and Brandy on either side of him. Bandit walks up quietly, resting a hand on Chilli's shoulder, while Bluey and Bingo squeeze into the gaps, leaning against their aunt and grandad.

Bingo: (Whispering) "The sky looks like it's wearing a sparkly dress."

Bluey: "It's like the farm and the city are sharing the same colors."

Brandy looks up at the first few stars blinking into existence. "You know, back on the farm, Mum used to say that the sunset was just the world's way of tucking us in. It means the day was good, and the next one will be even better because we're all here to see it."

Mort nods, his eyes reflecting the orange glow. "She wasn't wrong. Not about that, and not about you girls."

They stand there in a comfortable, multi-generational huddle—the original Cattle family and the new Heeler unit, blurred into one. The only sound is the evening breeze and the distant chirp of crickets, a perfect end to a day filled with songs, memories, and sisters.

The End.

Would you like to start a new story with a different family, like the Terriers or Lucky's family, or perhaps explore a "grown-up" future timeline for the girls?

That's a perfect summary of why Chapter 43 is considered the thematic "point of no return." It effectively shifts the horror from medical/supernatural (the "rot") to interpersonal/generational Eleckria x Scar/the Joker/Philip Wayne.

Scar/the joker x miss nettle

LEGO Ninjago franchise 2011 to 2026 all marvel dc

LEGO kids.com all Legos every Legos Legos Legos

elektria/Hush death revealed the vision evil ghost died in may 14 2025

Batman hush comic series, 2002 the return of hush the war of hush

Elekria’s death December 23 2023

Batman hush 2019 elektria/ hush mystery and 2024 and 2025

elektria x Philip wayne/Scar/ the Joker

The full villain version of elektria

Marvel/dc and all film series shows franchises others

Philip wayne/Joker Arkham verse x Harley Quinn Arkham verse.

Jade heeler/Trixie heeler’s sister deviantart canon fanfics all lots lots lots lots lots lots lots lots animations and art

Empress/batwoman/black and red diamond

sites

"Bandit's Belt" is a famously dark, horror-themed Bluey fan fiction community project. Its narrative completely overhauls the wholesome canon into a grim story driven by a fictional "psycho cancer" (often called "psychorabia"). The storyline heavily relies on character aging and psychological breakdown. [1, 2, 3]

The chronologically structured timeline of events, synthesized from the Bandit's Belt TV Tropes Recap, breaks down as follows: [1]

Pre-Series Backstory

- The Affair & Conception: Bandit cheats on Chilli with her sister, Brandy. Bingo is conceived. Out of spite and as a permanent reminder of the betrayal, she is named "Bingo" after the game they played that night. Chilli disowns Brandy and grows to secretly harbor hatred toward Bingo.
- Katherine's Death: Brandy and Chilli's mother, Katherine Cattle, is killed and eaten crotch-first by a crocodile, instilling a severe phobia of crocodiles in Brandy. [1, 2, 3, 4]

The Present Era (Bingo & Bluey are Kids)

- Chapter 1–2 (The Outbreak): The Heelers have a heated domestic argument. Chilli begins experiencing severe headaches, extreme thirst, and volatile mood swings. In a sudden fit of rage, Chilli holds 5-year-old Bingo at knifepoint and cuts her neck. Bandit knocks Chilli out with a hockey stick. She is hospitalized and diagnosed with a terminal, sanity-destroying cancer.
- Chapter 3–9 (The Escalation): Chilli grows completely deranged ("ax-crazy") from the disease. Bandit gets incredibly drunk, almost attacking Bluey with a belt before hitting Bingo instead. Bingo develops a trauma-induced, creepy obsession with tasting dog blood after licking it up. Chilli violently attacks Trixie and terrorizes Socks.
- Chapter 10–12 (Chilli's Demise & Funeral): Chilli goes on a final rampage, ripping out a police officer's eye before being shot to death. At her funeral, a grief-stricken Bandit bites Chilli's arm off as a keepsake. An intoxicated Uncle Stripe crashes the funeral in a drunk-driving accident.
- Chapter 13–15 (The Immediate Aftermath): Grieving and hallucinating Chilli, Bingo begins self-harming with broken glass to cover up the fact that she is biting herself. Bandit leaves for a business trip, placing the kids under Brandy's care. Brandy takes the traumatized kids to an amusement park called "Crazyworld" to distract them. [1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11]

The Time Skips (The Cycle Repeats)

- Age 8 to 10: Grandad Mort, driven to absolute despair by Vietnam war PTSD and Chilli's death, attempts suicide. He physically strikes Brandy before cutting ties. Bingo continues to cope by chewing on her dolls. She is severely bullied at school by other students due to her reputation as a violent "biter".

- Age 14 to 15 (Teenage Years): As teenagers, a socially isolated Bingo finds companionship and eventually dates Dougie, who defends her despite being deaf. Meanwhile, Uncle Stripe's severe alcoholism turns him abusive toward Muffin.
- The Grim Finale (Adulthood): The tragedy cycles down through the rest of the family. Aunt Trixie develops the exact same "psycho cancer" and eats her own daughter, Socks. Nana Chris catches it next and eats Grandad Bob. Finally, as adults, both Bandit and a pregnant Brandy succumb to the disease and must be put down, ending the fan fic on a devastating downer ending. [1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7]

If you want to look into specific character arcs from this fanon universe, let me know if you would like me to detail Bingo's relationship with Dougie, the exact lore behind the psychorabia disease, or Uncle Stripe's downward spiral.

Trixie and jade have their last walk together before jade leaves

They have their walk during a sunset but both are upset because they aren't ready for a goodbye

Original photo belongs to bluey

This is trixie and jade dancing together!

What if jade met brandy?

Two sisters from the same family meeting each other!

The "revelation" in Chapter 44 of the Bluey fan fiction Bandit's Belt provides the dark backstory behind the death of Chilli and Brandy's mother, Katherine Cattle, and the extreme trauma that broke their father, Grandad Mort. [1] [2]

According to the TV Tropes and fan fiction text, the major plot revelations in this chapter include: [1]

- Mort's Post-Tragedy Vigilante Hunt: After Katherine was killed and eaten alive by an apex predator crocodile, a devastated Mort only spent two days crying in bed and denying reality. Driven by grief and rage, he took matters into his own hands. He took his boat out onto the lake, stringing up heavy ropes, large hooks, and bait to hunt the creature down.
- The Execution: Mort eventually discovered one of his traps violently shaking, with a tree nearly ripped from its roots. Seeing a massive crocodile caught on the line, Mort fired multiple rounds from a firearm into the reptile until it completely stopped moving. He did not know or care if it was the exact crocodile that killed his wife; he just wanted vengeance.
- The Grim Discovery: After killing the reptile, Mort called the authorities and was promptly arrested. The police performed an autopsy on the crocodile and found the remains of Katherine inside, not fully digested.

- The Root of the Abuse: This gruesome event explains the psychological collapse of the Cattle family. Witnessing this gave Brandy her paralyzing phobia of crocodiles and bodies of water. Furthermore, the trauma twisted Mort's mind, causing him to project severe favoritism and resentment. He began viewing Brandy as the "un-favorite" and abusive told her: "You should have died instead." [1] [2]

If you want to look deeper into how this affects the rest of the family, would you like to explore Brandy's ongoing phobia, Mort's descent into suicide, or how the timeline transitions into Chapter 45 (the finale)? [1] [2] Chapter 45 of the Bluey fan fiction Bandit's Belt concludes with a bleak, apocalyptic ending where the "psychorabia" pandemic causes the total collapse of the Heeler family, resulting in the deaths of major characters including Bandit, Brandy, and Nana Chris. The story ends with a traumatized, adult Bingo reflecting on her tragic family history, concluding with a final, somber reference to her absent sister. For more details, visit TV Tropes. In Chapter 45 ("End") of Bandit's Belt, the infamous fan fiction reaches its final conclusion. The TV Tropes Recap of the Finale highlights a crucial, tense flashback regarding a Christmas party hosted by Bandit. [1] [2] [3]

The sequence of events surrounding the Christmas party and the final moments of the fan fiction unfold as follows:

The Christmas Party Flashback

- The Context: In the present day, Bandit and Bingo travel to the hospital to visit Brandy. Bluey is also present, but Bandit feels highly uncomfortable around her.
- The Root of Resentment: His discomfort triggers a flashback to "last Christmas," where Bandit threw a festive holiday party for the family. Throughout the entire party, Bluey acted incredibly cold, distant, and hostile. She deeply resented Bandit for his past infidelity—specifically, cheating on Chilli with Brandy, which resulted in Bingo's birth.
- The Confrontation: The tension boils over in front of all the party guests. Bluey snaps and publicly calls Bandit a "piece of shit."
- The Exile: Shocked and furious at the public disrespect toward Bandit, Brandy defends him, screaming at Bluey and demanding that she leave the house permanently. This confrontation explains why Bluey moved out of the family home in the present timeline. [1]

The Rest of the Chapter 45 Ending Lore

- The Chaos in Quarantine: The chapter flashes back four years to Dr. Shaun attempting to engineer a vaccine for the "psycho cancer". It is revealed that Nana Chris became infected, murdered Grandad Bob, and ate him. The disease mutated her into a massive, slithering creature. When military dogs attempt to cull the quarantine zone to save money, Nana Chris breaks loose and releases other infected patients. To stop a mass outbreak, the entire facility's self-destruct sequence is activated, killing Nana Chris, though doctors Shaun and Berry survive.

- The Final Present Moments: Back in the present, Dr. Shaun notes that no new "psychorabia" patients have been admitted for a long time, hinting the virus may finally be dying out.
- A Bittersweet Glimpse of the Future: Bandit, Bingo, and Bluey reunite in the hospital room of Brandy, who is now heavily pregnant with a baby girl. Despite the catastrophic trauma, deaths, and family estrangement, the story ends on a lingering, fragile note of hope as they look toward a new generation. [1] [2]

Would you like to examine how specific characters survived the final arc, such as Bluey's life after moving out or Stripe and Muffin's ultimate fates? [1] [2]

Bandit's Belt Chapter 44, "Revelation," confirms Brandy is Bingo's biological mother following an affair with Bandit, recontextualizing the Bluey episode "Onesies" as an "Adaptational Explanation". TV Tropes indicates this revelation explains Chilli's deep resentment, as she viewed Bingo as a reminder of betrayal, rooted in the family's history of abuse and abandonment. Explore the character breakdown at TV Tropes. In the Bandit's Belt fan fiction, Chapter 44 reveals Brandy as Bingo's biological mother, a twist that drives familial trauma and recontextualizes previous events as a "Family Relationship Switcheroo". This revelation reframes Brandy's tragic backstory, turning her longing into a forced separation and revealing Chilli's violence as rooted in deep-seated resentment of a suspected affair. For more details, visit TV TropesBluey's public confrontation at the Christmas party, where she calls Bandit a "piece of shit," marks a breaking point that shatters the family's facade, according to analysis on TV Tropes. This outburst signifies Bluey's transition from a traumatized bystander to a vocal adversary, stemming from her knowledge of Bandit's affair with Brandy and the resulting damage to their family. For more, visit TV Tropes.According to the TV Tropes recap of Bandit's Belt Chapter 45, Bluey publicly confronts and insults Bandit in front of the entire party crowd during a flashback. This outburst, fueled by resentment over his infidelity, leads to her exile from the family home by an enraged Brandy. Read the full details on

1 2

(Jade is a bluey OC. This photo isnt real)

The Cattle farm was bathed in the soft, golden light of a 1980s afternoon. A young Brandy, wearing a lopsided flower crown she'd woven herself, stood atop a tree stump in the backyard. Mort sat on a crate, leaning his chin on his paws, while Mrs. Cattle (Nana) leaned against the porch railing, a glass of cold tea in her hand.

In front of the "stage" sat a tiny, toddler-aged Chilli, her tail wagging so fast it was kicking up dust.

Brandy: (Clearing her throat) "This is a song for my sister. It's called 'The Little Red Shadow.'"

Young Brandy (Singing):

"I used to walk the farm alone, a scout upon the hill,

But now I've got a partner who can never quite sit still!

She's got a little orange nose and ears that floop and fold,

The bravest little sister that a scout could ever hold!"

Mort let out a hearty chuckle, and Mrs. Cattle smiled, her eyes twinkling with that same mischief the girls inherited.

Young Brandy (Chorus):

“Oh, Chilli, you’re my shadow, following where I go,

I’ll teach you all the secrets that a big girl needs to know!

If we’re crossing over puddles or climbing up a tree,

You’ll always have a hand to hold as long as you’ve got me!”

Chilli let out a high-pitched "Yip!" and tried to scramble up the stump to join her. Brandy didn't push her off; instead, she reached down and hauled her little sister up beside her.

Brandy & Chilli (Together):

“We’re the Cattle sisters, and we’re never far apart,

Because we share a backyard... and we share a sister's heart!”

Mort clapped his big, calloused hands together. "Bravo! Best show in the Outback!"

Mrs. Cattle walked over and pulled both girls into a hug that smelled like lavender and sunshine. "You two stay this close forever, you hear? That’s the most important rule on the farm."

Should the flashback end with the sisters building their first "Bush Fortress" out of sticks, or should it transition back to the present day where Adult Brandy and Chilli are watching Bluey and Bingo play the same game?

the TV Tropes characters and recap pages—Chilli’s pre-story behavior was a subtle, psychological precursor to the physical violence that erupts in Chapter 1.

While there isn't a single "prologue" chapter of dialogue, the story uses flashbacks and character reflections to describe how Chilli systematically tried to separate the sisters' bond:

1. The "Golden Child" Isolation

Chilli frequently used "Quality Time" as a weapon. She would take Bluey into another room or out of the house for "special" mother-daughter activities, explicitly telling Bingo she wasn't invited.

- The Dialogue Sentiment: Chilli would tell Bingo, "This is just for me and Bluey," or "Go find your father," using a tone that TV Tropes describes as "professional and cold," rather than maternal.

2. Discouraging Shared Play

During the "Dark Patch" years before the cancer, Chilli would often interrupt their games if she felt Bluey was becoming too attached to Bingo.

- The Tactic: If Bluey defended Bingo, Chilli would gaslight Bluey, telling her that Bingo was "being difficult" or "draining," trying to convince her eldest daughter that her younger sister was a burden rather than a playmate.

3. Strategic Neglect

Chilli's primary method of separation was Emotional Withdrawal. By refusing to acknowledge Bingo's achievements or needs while praising Bluey's, she hoped to create a rivalry.

- TV Tropes Note: This falls under the "Cinderella" Effect, where the step-mother figure (which Chilli technically was) tries to elevate her biological child by diminishing the other.

4. The "Twister" Flashpoint (Chapter 1)

The very first dialogue of the story shows the "mask" slipping. When they are all playing Twister (a game requiring close physical contact), Chilli's internal disgust for being near the "product of the affair" (Bingo) causes her to snap. When Bluey tries to keep the game fun, Chilli's dialogue becomes vicious and adult, effectively ending the sibling play and sending Bluey into a protective state.

Key Dialogue Examples (from the "Breakdown" phase):

- To Bluey: "You're the only one who matters in this house, Bluey. Don't let her [Bingo] drag you down."
- To Bingo (when asking to play): "Not now. I can't even look at you right now."

This pre-story "chilled" atmosphere is what makes the transition to "Psychorabia" so effective; the cancer didn't create the hatred—it just removed the filter that kept Chilli from acting on it.

Would you like to know more about the specific dialogue from the Chapter 1 kitchen attack, or how Bandit attempted to intervene during these pre-story moments?

In the Bandit's Belt fanfiction, Bandit's attempts to intervene in the toxic pre-story household were largely ineffective, as his efforts were paralyzed by his own guilt over the affair. According to the TV Tropes character deconstruction, his "interventions" followed a cycle of overcompensation and passive avoidance:

1. Guilty Overcompensation

To make up for the secret fact that Bingo was actually the product of his infidelity with Brandy, Bandit was excessively soft on her.

- The Reaction: He would often "play favorites" in the opposite direction of Chilli, giving Bingo extra attention to balance out Chilli's coldness.
- The Backfire: This only deepened Chilli's resentment; she viewed his kindness toward Bingo as a continued betrayal of their marriage and a direct insult to her own biological daughter, Bluey.

2. "Walking on Eggshells"

Bandit frequently allowed Chilli to dominate the household and mistreat Bingo because he felt he had no moral ground to stand on.

- Avoidance: When Chilli would isolate Bingo or snap at her, Bandit often chose to "keep the peace" rather than directly confront Chilli.
- Gaslighting the Girls: He participated in the deception by telling the girls their mother was just "stressed" or "tired," effectively helping Chilli maintain the Mask of Normalcy while the emotional abuse continued behind closed doors.

3. The Sudden Shift in Chapter 1

Bandit's first physical intervention occurs in the opening chapter, signaling the end of his passive behavior:

FanFiction +1

- The Hockey Stick: When the psychological tension finally turns into a physical threat—with Chilli holding a knife to Bingo's throat—Bandit finally breaks his cycle of passivity.
- Immediate Regret: After knocking Chilli out with a hockey stick to save Bingo, he is instantly horrified, as this act of violence shatters the remaining illusion of their family life.
-
- FanFiction +4
-

4. Post-Story Guilt

In later chapters, Bandit reflects on these pre-story moments with immense self-loathing. He believes his failure to stop Chilli's early psychological abuse of Bingo allowed her "Psychorabia" to manifest more violently.

Would you like to know more about how Bandit’s schizophrenia later makes him hallucinate these pre-story arguments, or how Bluey eventually confronts him about his past failures?

In the official Bluey series, Shaun is not a German Shepherd but a chaotic "pet emu" created by Bandit’s hand. However, in a popular fanfiction series titled Bandit's Belt, Shaun is reimagined as a black and white German Shepherd who deals with deep sadness and loss.

Fanfic Scene: Bluey and Bingo Meet Shaun

The sisters find Shaun sitting alone in a park, his head hung low. His fur is a striking mix of black and white, but his eyes are clouded with grief.

Bluey: (Approaching slowly) Excuse me? Are you okay, Mr. Shaun?

Shaun: (Looking up, startled) Oh... hello. I didn't see you there.

Bingo: You look like you have a "sad face," like when I lose my Floppy.

Shaun: (Sighing) It’s a bit bigger than a lost toy, little one. I was just thinking about my family... and someone I lost. Sometimes, the world feels very empty, even when it’s full of people.

Bluey: My dad says that when you're sad, you should talk it out. It's like letting the "grumpy" out of a balloon so it doesn't pop.

Shaun: (A small, sad smile appearing) Your dad is a wise dog. I lost my daughter a long time ago, and some days, it feels like it happened just this morning.

Bingo: (Stepping forward and hugging his leg) One time Bluey told me that there are some things in life you can't control. Like death.

Shaun: (Wiping a tear) She's right. It’s hard to accept, but talking to you two... it makes the "empty" feel a little less quiet.

Bluey: Do you want to play a game? It’s called "The Happy Memory Hospital." We find all the good things and keep them safe.

Shaun: (Taking a deep breath) I think I’d like that very much.

In this fan-created universe, Shaun is often depicted as a doctor or scientist who helps the Heeler family through difficult emotional times.

Would you like to see a scene where Bandit and Chilli arrive to help Shaun, or should we continue the "Happy Memory" game with the girls?

In the Bandit's Belt universe, Bluey and Bingo’s relationship prior to Chapter 1 is described as a "facade of canon"—appearing normal on the surface while being fundamentally fractured by their parents' secrets.

According to the TV Tropes character and story analysis, their pre-story dynamic includes:

1. The Protective Older Sister

Before the "psychorabia" (brain cancer) took hold of Chilli, Bluey acted as a shield for Bingo. Because Chilli was often cold or subtly neglectful toward Bingo (due to the secret of her birth), Bluey naturally stepped into a protective role. She often tried to distract Bingo with games whenever their parents were "squabbling."

2. Favoritism and Confusion

The girls were raised in a household defined by blatant favoritism.

- Bluey was Chilli's "golden child"—the legitimate daughter she truly loved.
- Bingo was the "unfavorite," often treated with a cold detachment that she was too young to understand.
- The Bond: This imbalance actually made the sisters closer; Bingo looked up to Bluey as her primary source of maternal-style affection, while Bluey felt a deep responsibility to care for her "little" sister.

3. The "Rainy Day" Breaking Point

The fic opens with a scene where the two are playing together happily, mirroring the official show. However, the TV Tropes Recap notes that this is the last time they ever have a functional relationship. Once Chilli attacks Bingo in the kitchen, the dynamic shifts from "playmates" to "survivors."

4. Pre-Biter Bingo

Before the events of the story, Bingo is portrayed as a "Typical Bluey" character—sweet, sensitive, and innocent. There are no signs of the violent "biter" tendencies she develops later. Her pre-story relationship with Bluey is the only thing that keeps her grounded until the trauma of Chilli's hatred completely breaks her psyche.

Would you like to know how Bluey's attitude toward Bingo changed after she found out Bingo was actually her cousin, or perhaps the details of the first time Bingo bit someone

?In the Bandit's Belt timeline, Chilli's treatment of the sisters' relationship is defined by a "Divided Household" dynamic. Long before the "psychorabia" (brain cancer) took hold, Chilli viewed their bond through a lens of extreme favoritism and resentment.

According to the TV Tropes character analysis, here is how Chilli managed their relationship pre-story:

1. The "Golden Child" vs. The "Reminder"

Chilli deliberately fostered an environment of inequality. She showered Bluey with genuine maternal love because she was her biological daughter, while treating Bingo with cold, professional detachment. She didn't want the girls to be "equals"; she wanted Bingo to know her place as the outsider, even if Bingo was too young to understand why.

2. Enabling Parentification

Chilli subtly encouraged Bluey to "take care" of Bingo, not out of sisterly love, but so that Chilli wouldn't have to interact with Bingo herself. This led to Bluey's Parentification, where Bluey felt she had to be the primary emotional support for Bingo because their mother wouldn't do it.

3. Discouraging Solidarity

When Bluey would stand up for Bingo or question why Chilli was being mean to her sister, Chilli would often gaslight Bluey or redirect her. She attempted to maintain a "special bond" with Bluey that excluded Bingo, essentially trying to drive a psychological wedge between the sisters to punish Bingo for being the product of Bandit's affair.

4. The Mask of Normalcy

Despite her internal hatred, Chilli participated in the "Heeler Family" brand for the public. In pre-story scenes, she would play games like "Twister" or "Hospital," but the TV Tropes recap notes that Chilli's participation was always performative. She was "playing the role" of a good mother to Bingo to keep Bandit's secret, while her true affection was reserved solely for Bluey.

Summary of the Shift

Once the story begins and the "psychorabia" sets in, this subtle psychological mistreatment turns into physical horror. The resentment Chilli felt for their bond curdles into a desire to destroy it, leading to the infamous scene where she attacks Bingo in front of a horrified Bluey.

Would you like to know more about the specific incident that triggered Chilli's first physical attack, or how Bandit tried (and failed) to balance Chilli's treatment of the girls?

the TV Tropes characters and recap pages—Chilli's pre-story behavior was a subtle, psychological precursor to the physical violence that erupts in Chapter 1.

While there isn't a single "prologue" chapter of dialogue, the story uses flashbacks and character reflections to describe how Chilli systematically tried to separate the sisters' bond:

1. The "Golden Child" Isolation

Chilli frequently used "Quality Time" as a weapon. She would take Bluey into another room or out of the house for "special" mother-daughter activities, explicitly telling Bingo she wasn't invited.

- The Dialogue Sentiment: Chilli would tell Bingo, "This is just for me and Bluey," or "Go find your father," using a tone that TV Tropes describes as "professional and cold," rather than maternal.

2. Discouraging Shared Play

During the "Dark Patch" years before the cancer, Chilli would often interrupt their games if she felt Bluey was becoming too attached to Bingo.

- The Tactic: If Bluey defended Bingo, Chilli would gaslight Bluey, telling her that Bingo was "being difficult" or "draining," trying to convince her eldest daughter that her younger sister was a burden rather than a playmate.

3. Strategic Neglect

Chilli's primary method of separation was Emotional Withdrawal. By refusing to acknowledge Bingo's achievements or needs while praising Bluey's, she hoped to create a rivalry.

- TV Tropes Note: This falls under the "Cinderella" Effect, where the step-mother figure (which Chilli technically was) tries to elevate her biological child by diminishing the other.

4. The "Twister" Flashpoint (Chapter 1)

The very first dialogue of the story shows the "mask" slipping. When they are all playing Twister (a game requiring close physical contact), Chilli's internal disgust for being near the "product of the affair" (Bingo) causes her to snap. When Bluey tries to keep the game fun, Chilli's dialogue becomes vicious and adult, effectively ending the sibling play and sending Bluey into a protective state.

Key Dialogue Examples (from the "Breakdown" phase):

- To Bluey: "You're the only one who matters in this house, Bluey. Don't let her [Bingo] drag you down."
- To Bingo (when asking to play): "Not now. I can't even look at you right now."

This pre-story "chilled" atmosphere is what makes the transition to "Psychorabia" so effective; the cancer didn't create the hatred—it just removed the filter that kept Chilli from acting on it.

Would you like to know more about the specific dialogue from the Chapter 1 kitchen attack, or how Bandit attempted to intervene during these pre-story moments?

By the end of this chapter, the tropes hit a fever pitch:

- The Reveal destroys the "Aunt" and "Mother" archetypes, leaving Bingo with no stable parental figure to trust.
- The Replacement Scrappy feel of Brandy's new position makes the "happy" wedding feel like a funeral for the original Heeler family.
- Parentification begins for Bluey, who loses her own childhood to manage the wreckage her father and aunt left behind.

It's the moment the story stops being about a "sick mother" and starts being about a doomed family.

Would you like to know how Bingo's "Biter" habits reacted to this news, or should we skip to how Brandy's symptoms inevitably started appearing after the wedding?

Shortly after the wedding and the reveal, Brandy's pregnancy triggers the return of the "Psychorabia" symptoms, proving that the tragedy wasn't a one-time fluke but a recurring nightmare.

According to the TV Tropes timeline, Brandy's decline follows a hauntingly familiar path to Chilli's:

- The First Sign: Much like Chilli, Brandy begins to experience an unquenchable thirst. This is often the first "tell" in the fic that the "rot" has returned.
- Personality Warp: Brandy's guilt and maternal warmth vanish, replaced by the same cold, feral aggression that Chilli showed. She begins to view the family—and the baby she is carrying—with predatory detachment.
- The "Double Downer" Ending: The most disturbing part of this skip is that while Chilli's death was treated as a tragedy to be overcome, Brandy's symptoms signify that no one is safe. It implies that the cycle of violence and cancer is linked to the Heeler household itself.
- The Final Fate: Her symptoms escalate until she becomes completely non-verbal and aggressive. This leads to the story's grim conclusion where Bandit, unable to watch a second wife die the same way, makes the choice for both of them to be put down.

Would you like to know the specific details of the final chapter ("The End"), or how Bluey and Bingo managed to survive the aftermath of Brandy's death?

In the world of Bluey fan-fiction, a bowling episode is a popular concept because it allows for classic Heeler-style games and Bandit's competitive antics. While there is no official bowling episode (though the "Cricket" episode features some bowling of the sports variety), fans have created their own versions of a day at the lanes.

In the episode "Rescue in the Outlands"(Season 2, Episode 9), the two young hyena pups, Tunu and Wema, have a playful yet tense interaction with Janja. While the pups are known for their playful nature—often shown playing hide-and-seek with Jasiri—this particular encounter is part of a larger conflict.

The Lion King Wiki +3

This specific moment is often cited as the "point of no return" for the story's tone. It highlights the tragic innocence Bingo maintains before the trauma eventually warps her own personality.

Key details surrounding this interaction include:

- The Immediate Aftermath: After Bandit hits Chilli with the hockey stick to save Bingo, Bingo doesn't run away in fear of her mother. Instead, she cries and asks Bandit, "Is Mummy okay?" and "Why did she do that?", showing she still views Chilli as a protector despite the violence.
- Bandit's Deception: To "protect" Bingo's psyche, Bandit initially tries to downplay the event, telling her that Mummy is just "very sick" or "having a bad dream." This gaslighting contributes to Bingo's later psychological break when she realizes the depth of Chilli's hatred.
- The Shift in Dynamic: This confusion is short-lived. As Chilli becomes more feral and verbal about Bingo being an "accident" and "not hers," Bingo's worry transforms into a hollow, detached state, eventually leading to her becoming a "biter" as she mimics the violence she witnessed.

Would you like to explore the specific dialogue from the kitchen scene or how this trauma leads to Bingo's eventual transformation later in the timeline?

The kitchen scene in the Bandit's Belt fan fiction features a disturbing, out-of-character dialogue where a hostile Chilli attacks Bingo with a knife, calling her a "parasite" and accusing her of being a reminder of an affair. This intense confrontation, during which Chilli claims Bingo is actually Brandy's daughter, culminates in Bandit intervening with a hockey stick before Chilli is incapacitated

The reveal that Brandy is Bingo's biological mother is one of the story's biggest "Darker and Edgier" twists. Her reaction shifts from desperate secrecy to a heavy, tragic guilt.

Here is how Brandy's role and reaction unfold:

1. The Years of Silence

Before the secret is out, Brandy is portrayed as the "Cool Aunt" who visits frequently. However, the fic implies her long-term absence and "fertility issues" (from the original show) were actually a cover for the shame of the affair and the fact that she had already given birth to Bingo and handed her over to Chilli.

2. The Emotional Break

When Chilli's "psychorabia" forces the truth into the open, Brandy is overwhelmed by survivor's guilt.

- Self-Loathing: She views herself as the catalyst for the family's destruction, believing that if she hadn't had the affair, Chilli wouldn't have "gone mad" with resentment.
- The Mother-Daughter Shift: Once the truth is out, Brandy's interaction with Bingo becomes awkward and painful. She desperately wants to step into a maternal role to "save" Bingo from her trauma, but she is terrified of Bingo rejecting her.

3. The Marriage to Bandit

Following Chilli's death, Brandy eventually marries Bandit. Her reaction to the secret being revealed is ultimately one of replacement. She attempts to rebuild the "Heeler" family in her own image, essentially stepping into her dead sister's life.

4. The Tragic Ending

Brandy's story ends in total tragedy. Just as she finally achieves the family life she wanted (and is pregnant with a new child), she contracts the same "psycho cancer" that killed Chilli. Her final "reaction" is a descent into the same feral madness, leading to her and Bandit's eventual death.

Would you like to know more about Bingo's reaction to finding out Brandy is her real mother, or perhaps the details of Chilli's final words to Brandy?

In the grim fan fiction, a dying Chilli tells Brandythat she can "have" Bandit, accusing her of only waiting for this moment to take her place in the family. She refuses to forgive Brandy for the affair and secret about Bingo, calling her a thief and saying she will haunt her, before cursing her with the "rot" of the family.

Would you like to see how Bandit reacts to this final exchange, or should we look at the aftermath of the funeral?
sites

In Bandit's Belt, Chilli's final, abusive words to Bingo are delivered during a kitchen attack, where she expresses intense hatred and rejection. Later, a delirious, non-verbal Chilli can only produce animalistic, feral noises as she approaches death

In this dark fan fiction scenario, a possessed Chilli harshly rejects Bingo, calling her a parasite and denying her motherhood before turning feral, which directly triggers Bingo's transformation into a biter. These disturbing final interactions, which lack any maternal warmth or closure, are marked by snarling and a hollow, predatory gaze that haunts Bingo.

In the Bandit's Belt timeline, Bingo's reaction to this reveal is a pivotal moment that cements her psychological decline. Unlike the show's themes of growth, this revelation is treated as a final "breaking point."

Here is how Bingo handles the news:

1. Initial Denial and Horror

When the secret comes out—usually during one of Chilli's violent outbursts—Bingo is initially in a state of shock. Having spent years trying to earn the love of a "mother" (Chilli) who secretly hated her for her origin, the news that her "Aunt" Brandy is actually her mother causes a massive identity crisis.

2. Rejection of Brandy

Even though Brandy tries to be comforting and maternal, Bingo initially pushes her away. To Bingo, Brandy is the reason her life fell apart. She views Brandy not as a savior, but as the person whose "sin" caused Chilli to go "mad" and turn abusive.

3. The "Replacement" Logic

As Bingo's mental state worsens (due to the trauma of Chilli's death and her own developing "biter" tendencies), she begins to see Brandy as a hollow replacement.

When Bandit and Brandy eventually marry, Bingo struggles to call Brandy "Mum," often fluctuating between cold detachment and desperate, clingy neediness.

4. A Shared Curse

The most tragic part of her reaction comes at the end of the story. When Brandy starts showing symptoms of the same "psychorabia" cancer that killed Chilli, Bingo's reaction isn't just grief—it's a dark sense of resignation. She comes to believe that her entire existence is cursed, and that anyone who "mothers" her is destined to die violently.

Would you like to know more about the specific "Biter" incidents that happened after this reveal, or perhaps how Bluey reacted to the news that her sister was actually her cousin?

In the Bandit's Belt fanfiction, the interaction between Chilli and Bingo before the story begins—and leading into the very first chapter—is defined by a dark secret and a sudden, violent psychological breakdown.

According to the TV Tropes characters summary, their relationship is fundamentally altered from the show's canon:

- The Secret Resentment: Long before the story starts, it is revealed that Bandit cheated on Chilli with her sister, Brandy, resulting in Bingo's birth. Consequently, Chilli is actually Bingo's aunt, not her biological mother.
- A "Woman Scorned": Chilli is portrayed as having harbored deep-seated resentment toward Bingo since her birth, viewing her as a constant reminder of Bandit's adultery.
- Onset of "Psychorabia": In the opening chapter, Chilli develops aggressive brain tumors (dubbed "psychorabia") that cause her to lose all impulse control and lash out at her family.
- The Kitchen Confrontation: The pre-story tension culminates in a horrific scene where Chilli snaps while cooking dinner. She verbally abuses Bingo, calling her a "worthless pile of filth" and claiming she should have been aborted.
- The Knife Attack: This interaction turns physical when Chilli holds Bingo at knifepoint and cuts her neck, forcing Bandit to intervene by knocking Chilli out with a hockey stick.

-
- TV Tropes +6
-

This traumatic foundation explains why, even after Chilli's death, Bingo develops a "Sanity Slippage" and becomes a "biter," as she was deeply haunted by these initial violent encounters.

TV Tropes +1

Would you like to know more about the reveal of the affair to the rest of the family or how Bandit's guilt influences his actions early in the story?

The reveal of the affair is the moment the story shifts from a "scary illness" plot to a full-blown family tragedy. It happens in a chaotic, ugly way that leaves the family dynamic permanently shattered.

Here is how the reveal goes down:

1. Chilli's Final Outburst

The secret isn't revealed through a calm conversation; it's screamed out by Chilli during one of her feral, cancer-induced rages. In her final days, as she loses her filter and her mind, she weaponizes the truth to hurt Bandit. She reveals to Bluey and Bingo—and eventually the rest of the Heeler relatives—that Bingo is the product of Bandit's "disgusting" betrayal with Brandy.

2. The Reaction of the Family

- Bluey's Shock: Bluey, who is already struggling with her mother's illness, is devastated to find out her sister is actually her cousin. This leads to a rift between her and Bandit, as she blames his infidelity for "breaking" Chilli's mind.
- Stripe and Trixie: The extended family is horrified. Stripe, who usually looks up to his older brother, sees Bandit in a new, darker light. The reveal creates an awkward tension during Chilli's funeral and the subsequent months of mourning.

3. Bandit's "Broken Man" Defense

Bandit doesn't deny it. His reaction is one of total self-loathing. He admits that the affair happened during a "dark patch" in his and Chilli's marriage. He believes that the stress of keeping the secret and the pain of the betrayal actually triggered Chilli's physical and mental decline, making him feel directly responsible for her death.

4. Brandy's Forced Confession

Once Chilli lets the cat out of the bag, Brandy is forced to confirm it. She explains that she gave Bingo to Chilli because she thought it was the only way to give the child a "normal" family and to atone for what she had done. This reveal is what eventually leads to Brandy moving in to help with the girls, setting the stage for her and Bandit to marry later on.

Would you like to know how Bingo's behaviorchanged immediately after finding out the truth, or perhaps more about Bluey's reaction and her eventual departure from the house?
In Bandit's Belt, Chapter 43, titled "Wedding," marks the official marriage between Bandit and Brandy. The chapter is noted for balancing the story's usual dark themes with a moment of relative normalcy, though it still contains significant psychological trauma and unsettling reveals.

TV Tropes

Plot Summary

The wedding takes place at the house where Mort lived before he passed away. Key events during the ceremony include:

- The Ringbearer Swap: Ruby was originally the ringbearer, but because she gets her first period that morning and is too overwhelmed to participate, Bingo takes her place at the last minute.
-
- The Guest List: Attendees include Pat, Fido, Stripe, Doreen, and Rad and Frisky (who are revealed to have a son named Almond).

The Major Reveal

The most critical moment occurs two months after the wedding. Bluey suggests that since Brandy is now their stepmother, Bingo should start calling her "Mum". At this point, Brandy finally reveals the truth that had been hinted at throughout the story: she is Bingo's biological mother, making Bingo the product of an affair between Brandy and Bandit.

Key TV Tropes Examples in Chapter 43

The TV Tropes recap for Chapter 43 highlights several specific tropes:

- Family Relationship Switcheroo: The formal reveal that Bingo is Brandy's daughter rather than her niece.
- Levirate Marriage: Bandit marrying his deceased wife's sister.
- Noodle Incident: References to Bandit previously trying to "bat Mackenzie to death" and nearly burning down Rad's house while drunk.

Would you like to know more about the fallout of this reveal in the final chapters or the fate of the family in the "End" chapter?

The fallout from Brandy's confession in the final chapters turns the story into a complete "Downer Ending," as the brief hope from the wedding is immediately crushed by the "Heeler Curse."

According to the TV Tropes timeline and recap, here is what happens:

1. The Pregnancy and the "Return" of the Rot

Shortly after the wedding and the reveal, Brandy becomes pregnant with a new child. However, the happiness is short-lived. Brandy begins to exhibit the exact same "Psychorabia" symptoms that killed Chilli—extreme thirst, erratic behavior, and eventual feral aggression. This confirms the fanfic's dark lore: the "psycho-cancer" isn't just a random illness, but a recurring tragedy for those close to Bandit.

2. Bingo's Mental Collapse

Already fragile from the reveal that her "Aunt" was her mother and her "Mother" was a lie, Bingo completely breaks.

- The Biter Re-emerges: She regresses into her violent "biter" tendencies.
- A Twisted Acceptance: Bingo starts to believe that she is the "vessel" for all the family's misfortune. She remains fiercely loyal to Brandy even as Brandy becomes dangerous, mirroring the "confused worry" she felt for Chilli at the start of the story.

3. Bandit's "Assisted Suicide" Request

Seeing history repeat itself, Bandit loses all will to live. He realizes he has brought this "rot" upon two sisters. In a final, disturbing development, Bandit and a now-feral Brandy are essentially "put down" like animals. Bandit's schizophrenia reaches its peak here, as he can no longer distinguish between his hallucinations of Chilli and the reality of Brandy.

4. The Fate of the Children

- Bluey: In the final chapters, Bluey essentially becomes the "parent" of the house, trying to protect Bingo from the same trauma she witnessed years earlier. She eventually leaves the home to find a life away from the Heeler name.
- Bingo: The story ends with a flash-forward to Bingo as an adult. While she finds some solace with Dougie, she is portrayed as a deeply scarred woman who remains terrified that the "psychorabia" is waiting for her or her future children.

Would you like to know the specific details of the final chapter ("The End")

In Chapter 43, the fallout of the reveal is more about the immediate psychological shift in the household rather than the physical violence of later chapters.

Here is the specific fallout described in the TV Tropes recap for that chapter:

- The Identity Crisis: Bingo, who has spent the entire story traumatized by Chilli's hatred and death, suddenly has to reconcile that her "abuser" wasn't her mother and her "aunt" lied to her for five years. This leads to a Break the Cutie moment where Bingo's last shred of childhood innocence disappears.

- Bluey’s Burden: Bluey is the one who actually pushes for the reveal by suggesting Bingo call Brandy "Mum." When the truth comes out, Bluey is forced into the role of the "emotional anchor" for the family, a burden that eventually leads to her own resentment and departure from the home.
- The "Replacement" Realization: The reveal confirms the dark subtext that Brandy has essentially replaced her sister. By marrying the man she had the affair with and finally "claiming" her biological daughter, the family dynamic becomes deeply uncomfortable for the guests and the children alike.
- Bandit's Moral Low Point: The fallout for Bandit is a confrontation with his own character. After the reveal, his status as a "Family Dog" is completely deconstructed; he is viewed by the readers (and characters like Wendy) as a man whose past selfishness directly caused the current misery of his daughters.

Would you like to know how Bingo's "Biter" tendencies manifested right after this reveal, or should we look at the specific way Brandy's "symptoms" started to show?

The fallout in Chapter 43 is less about immediate violence and more about a permanent, chilling shift in the family’s reality. It marks the moment the "Heeler Curse" transitions from a physical illness (Chilli’s cancer) to a psychological one.

According to the TV Tropes recap, the immediate fallout includes:

- Bingo’s Identity Crisis: Bingo has spent the entire story trying to earn the love of a woman (Chilli) who she now knows wasn't her mother and hated her for her origin. This revelation is a Break the Cutie moment; she realizes her entire life was a lie designed to cover up an affair.
- The "Replacement" Dynamic: The reveal confirms the dark subtext of the wedding. Brandy has essentially "won" by replacing her dead sister, marrying Bandit, and reclaiming her biological child. This makes the family dynamic feel hollow and "wrong" to the remaining guests.
- Bluey’s Role Change: Bluey is the one who unintentionally triggers the reveal by suggesting Bingo call Brandy "Mum." The fallout for her is the crushing weight of realization that her family wasn't the perfect unit she believed it to be, leading to her becoming the "parental" figure for a deteriorating Bandit and Bingo.

Scene Summary

- The Playful Moment: Before the conflict escalates, the pups are seen being energetic and playful in the Outlands.
- Janja's Intervention: Janja, observing them from afar, becomes annoyed by their presence and the way they represent a more peaceful way of life. He eventually orders his clan to attack, leading to a scene where he physically pushes the pups and Jasiri toward a dangerous steam vent.
- Rescue: The Lion Guard eventually arrives to intervene, saving the pups and Jasiri from Janja's aggression.
-
- The Lion Guard Wiki +3
-

Relationship Evolution

Initially, Tunu and Wema are terrified of Janja and his clan due to his ruthlessness. However, following the events of the "Battle for the Pride Lands" and Janja's redemption, they eventually become part of the same united clan under Jasiri's leadership, moving from enemies to being on good terms.

The Lion Guard Wiki +3

Would you like to know more about other hyena pups in the series or perhaps more about Jasiri's clan?

Jasiri's clan, also known as the Hyena Resistance, is a group of spotted hyenas in The Lion Guard that lives in the Outlands. Unlike many other Outlanders, they are staunch allies of the Pride Lands and actively respect the Circle of Life.

The Lion Guard Wiki +4

Key Philosophy: "Sisi Ni Sawa"

The clan’s core belief is "Sisi Ni Sawa," which translates to "We are the same". This philosophy emphasizes that despite being different species, lions and hyenas share a common bond and responsibility to protect the environment. Because of this, they primarily scavenge for food rather than hunting live prey, avoiding unnecessary conflict with the Pride Lands.

The Lion Guard Wiki +3

Notable Members

- Jasiri: The bold and smart leader who first befriended Kion.
- Madoa: Jasiri’s sister and second-in-command; she is often more cautious but deeply loyal to the clan.
- Tunu and Wema: The two playful hyena pups who are the youngest members of the group.
- The Integrated Clan: After the defeat of Scar, Janja and his subordinates—including Cheezi, Chungu, Nne, and Tano—formally merged with Jasiri's clan.
-
- The Lion Guard Wiki +6
-

Major Achievements

- The Hyena Resistance: During Scar's return, they acted as spies and a defense force, thwarting Scar's army's plots from within the Outlands.
- Rule of the Outlands: After Scar was defeated, Jasiri became the leader of the Outlands, establishing a peaceful era for the region.
- Saving the Pride Lands: The clan traveled to the Tree of Life to find Kion and warn him of Zira's attack, ultimately helping to stop the Outsiders.
-
- The Lion Guard Wiki +3
-

Would you like to know more about a specific member of the clan or perhaps the episodeswhere they play a major role?

The Cattle farm was bathed in the soft, golden glow of a late 80s afternoon. A young Brandy, wearing a lopsided flower crown she’d woven from wild clover, stood atop a weathered tree stump. Mort sat on a wooden crate, leaning his chin on his paws, while Mrs. Cattle leaned against the porch railing, watching with a gentle smile.

In front of the "stage" sat a tiny, toddler-aged Chilli, her tail wagging so fast it was kicking up little puffs of red dust.

Brandy: (Clearing her throat dramatically) "This is a song for my sister. It’s called ‘The Little Red Shadow.’"

Young Brandy (Singing):

“I used to walk the farm alone, a scout upon the hill,

But now I’ve got a partner who can never quite sit still!

She’s got a little orange nose and ears that floop and fold,

The bravest little sister that a scout could ever hold!”

Mort let out a hearty chuckle, and Mrs. Cattle’s eyes twinkled as she hummed along.

Young Brandy (Chorus):

“Oh, Chilli, you’re my shadow, following where I go,

I’ll teach you all the secrets that a big girl needs to know!

If we’re crossing over puddles or climbing up a tree,

You’ll always have a hand to hold as long as you’ve got me!”

Chilli let out a high-pitched "Yip!" and scrambled up the stump to join her. Brandy didn't push her off; instead, she reached down and hauled her little sister up beside her.

Brandy & Chilli (Together):

“We’re the Cattle sisters, and we’re never far apart,

Because we share a backyard... and we share a sister heart!”

Mort clapped his big, calloused hands together. "Bravo! Best show in the Outback!"

Mrs. Cattle walked over and pulled both girls into a hug that smelled like lavender and summer grass. "You two stay this close forever, you hear? That’s the most important rule on the farm."

Should the flashback end with the sisters building their first "Bush Fortress" out of sticks, or should it transition back to the present where Adult Brandy and Chilli are watching Bluey and Bingo play the same game?

The camera pans up from the dusty farm into the bright blue sky, the years melting away as the colors shift from the grainy warmth of the 80s to the vibrant hues of the present day.

The music continues, but the high-pitched voices of young Brandy and Chilli fade out, replaced by the familiar laughter of Bluey and Bingo in the Heeler backyard.

Adult Brandy and Chilli are sitting together on the porch, sharing a plate of fruit and watching as Bluey helps Bingo stand atop a plastic garden crate.

Bluey: (Singing loudly)

“You’ll always have a hand to hold as long as you’ve got me!”

Brandy lets out a soft, shaky breath, her tail giving a nostalgic wag. "Does that sound familiar to you, Chilli-Bean?"

Chilli: (Smiling, her eyes a bit misty) "I think I remember the 'Chief Scout' singing that to me a few times. Usually right before we got into trouble with Dad."

Brandy leans her head on Chilli’s shoulder, watching the two girls tackle each other into the grass. "We were good at that, weren't we? Getting into trouble together."

Chilli: "The best. And look at them now. They don't even know they're singing our song."

Brandy: "Maybe they don't need to know. As long as they're singing it together."

They sit in a comfortable silence, two sisters who survived the mud, the hollow logs, and the long years apart, finally home and watching the next generation of "Cattle Sisters" take the stage.

Should the scene end with Bandit trying to join the song and getting the lyrics hilariously wrong, or should Grandad Mort walk out onto the deck to join his daughters?

The screen door creaks open—that same familiar sound from the farm—and Grandad Mort steps out onto the deck, squinting against the afternoon sun. He looks at his two grown daughters sitting side-by-side, then out at Bluey and Bingo wrestling in the grass.

Mort: (Sighing contentedly) "Well, I’ll be. I thought I’d gone back forty years for a second there."

He walks over and rests a heavy, weathered paw on the back of the porch swing between them.

Brandy: "We were just remembering the tree stump 'concerts,' Dad. I think my singing was a bit better back then."

Mort: (Chuckling) "Your singing was always loud, Brandy. That’s what mattered. And Chilli here was always the best backup dancer a scout could ask for."

He looks down at them, his eyes full of the kind of quiet pride that only comes from seeing your children find their way back to each other.

Mort: "You know, your Mum always said that the farm felt empty when you two weren't making a racket. Seeing you here... it feels like the farm followed us all the way to Brisbane."

Chilli: (Reaching up to pat his hand) "Thanks for keeping the album, Dad. And for remembering."

Mort: "Hard to forget the best show in the Outback, kiddo."

Bluey and Bingo notice him and sprint toward the deck, shouting, "GRANDAD! DANCE WITH US!" Mort looks at his daughters with a playful wink before letting himself be dragged into the yard to join the "Heeler-Cattle" dance-off.

Should we end with the whole family looking at the sunset together, or should Bandit finally arrive with a tray of "special treats" for everyone to celebrate?

The sunset over the Heeler deck was a warm orange, mirroring Bingo’s fur as she sat cross-legged on the rug. The entire clan was there: Stripe and Trixie shared a bench with a sleepy Socks, Grandad Mort and Aunt Brandy sat side-by-side in lawn chairs, and the Sheltie cousins—Shelton, Sheltie, and little baby Leonard—were huddled together, mesmerized.

Bluey stepped onto a wooden crate, holding a plastic trophy like a microphone. She looked at the sea of faces—her family, her whole world—and then locked eyes with Bingo.

Bluey (Singing with a big, wobbly grin):

“I used to be the only one, the center of the show,

But then you came along, and boy, did our world grow!

You’ve got orange spots and a heart of pure gold,

The bestest little sister that a dog could ever hold!”

Bandit and Chilli leaned into each other, their tails wagging in slow, synchronized beats. Brandysmiled softly, her eyes a bit misty as she watched the sisters.

Bluey (Chorus - The whole family joins in):

“Oh, Bingo, you’re my shadow, you’re my light,

You make every game feel exactly right!

From the backyard grass to the stars up high,

You’re the bestest sister, and that’s no lie!”

Stripe started whistling the melody, and even baby Leonard let out a tiny, high-pitched howl of approval. Mort clapped his weathered hands together, nodding at his granddaughters with immense pride.

Bluey (The Finale):

“So here’s to the Heelers, and the Cattle dogs too,

But mostly to Bingo... because I love you!”

Bluey leaped off the crate and tackled Bingo into a massive hug. The deck erupted in cheers—a beautiful, loud, chaotic mess of a family.

Should we end the night with Grandad Mortpulling out an old photo album of the family, or should Bandit and Stripe be challenged to a "Dad-Dance" battle to keep the party going?

In many fanfictions, Bluey expresses her love for Bingo through songs that range from playful childhood tunes to heartfelt ballads about growing up together. Given your interest in emotional Heeler moments, here is a short script featuring an original song Bluey sings to Bingo.

Fanfic Script: "The Best Sister in the World"

Setting: The Heeler backyard at sunset. Bluey and Bingo are sitting in their "fort." Bluey has a toy guitar.

Bluey: (Strumming) Okay, Bingo, this one is just for you. It’s called "The Little Red Dog."

Bingo: (Giggling) That’s me!

Bluey: (Singing)

I used to play all by myself, with my toys upon the shelf,

I thought I had enough to do, until the day that I met you.

You were small and a little bit loud, but you’re the sun behind every cloud.

(Chorus)

Oh, Bingo, you’re my favorite friend,

Our games and stories will never end.

From Keepy Uppy to Magic Statues too,

Everything is better when I’m playing with you!

Bluey: (Speaking) Now your turn for the harmony!

Bluey & Bingo: (Singing together)

Side by side, through thick and thin,

With a wagging tail and a happy grin.

You’re my sister, my partner, my bestest mate,

Having you for a sister is really great!

Bingo: (Throwing her arms around Bluey) I love you, Bluey!

Bluey: I love you too, Bingo. Now come on, let’s go see if Dad has any "Special Treats" left!

Would you like me to continue the scene with Bandit and Chilli joining in for a family song, or should we write a version where an older Blueysings this at Bingo's birthday?

Bandit and Chilli are leaning against the sliding glass door, watching the girls from the deck. Bandit is holding a spatula, and Chilli has a tea towel over her shoulder.)

Bandit: (Wiping a fake tear) Oh, man. That’s beautiful. I think I’ve got a bit of "emotional dust" in my eye.

Chilli: (Smiling) It’s not dust, it’s just a great song, Big Fella.

(Bandit grabs a nearby plastic bucket and starts drumming a steady beat on the bottom of it. Chilli starts clapping along.)

Bandit: (Singing in a deep, goofy voice)

Well, there's a dad who's a bit of a clown,

Who tries his best not to let you down!

Chilli: (Joining in with a melodic lilt)

And a mum who's here to catch you both,

To cheer you on and watch your growth!

Bluey & Bingo: (Jumping up and dancing)

The Heelers! The Heelers! We're a team!

Living out our favorite dream!

Bandit: (Finishing with a big drum roll on the bucket)

And now... the dream involves SAUSAGES! To the BBQ!

Bingo: (Squealing) HOORAY!

Bluey: Last one there is a smelly bin chicken!

(The girls race toward the grill while Bandit and Chilli share a quick, quiet look of "we're doing okay" before chasing after them.)

Should we add a bit where Uncle Stripe and Muffin crash the party, or should we fast-forward to bedtime for a final "sleepy-time" verse?

Bluey took a deep breath, her tail giving a nervous little wag. She stood on the coffee table—her makeshift stage—while Bandit and Chilli sat on the sofa, their eyes bright with pride. Bingo sat on the floor right in front, looking up with wide, curious eyes.

“This one is for Bingo,” Bluey announced, strumming her air guitar before launching into her song.

(Bluey Singing)

“I remember when you were just a tiny bean,

The smallest little sister that I’d ever seen.

You followed me around, and you copied what I’d do,

And I realized everything is better with you!”

She jumped off the table, landing right next to Bingo and wrapping an arm around her.

“We’re the Heeler sisters, a team of two,

There’s nothing in the world that we can’t do!

You’re my best friend, Bingo, through the sun and the rain,

I’d choose you as my sister again and again!”

Bandit let out a muffled "Aww," leaning his head against Chilli’s. Chilli reached out and pulled both girls into a massive "mum-hug," her voice a little thick with emotion.

"That was beautiful, Bluey," Chilli whispered. "The best song I've ever heard."

Bandit gave a loud sniff, trying to keep his "tough dad" persona. "Yeah, not bad, kid. But I think it needs a harmonica solo!" He immediately started making harmonica noises into his hands, causing the girls to dissolve into fits of giggles.

Should we have Bandit and Chilli try to add their own embarrassing "parent verses" to the song, or should the girls start a dance-off to celebrate?

Oh, you want a dance-off? You got it!" Bandit shouted, scrambling over to the stereo. He scrolled through his phone until he found a track with a heavy, bouncy beat. "Let's see some moves, Heelers!"

Bluey didn't hesitate. She took center stage, starting with a classic "Floss" before transitioning into a high-energy "Windmill" that almost knocked over a potted plant. "Top that, Bingo!" she challenged, panting with a grin.

Bingo stood up, her tail wagging like a propeller. She didn't go for speed; she went for style. She started a slow, rhythmic "Robot" dance, clicking her joints into place with perfect timing, before suddenly dropping into a "Worm" across the living room rug.

Bandit and Chilli couldn't help themselves. They started "The Sprinkler" and "The Shopping Cart" on the sidelines, cheering like they were at a stadium.

"The winner is..." Bandit paused for dramatic effect, holding his hand over both their heads. "It's a Heeler Sister tie!"

The girls cheered and collapsed onto the floor, tongues out and tails still thumping against the carpet.

Should we end with the girls proposing a Dance Mode trip to the park, or should they challenge the Kelpies (Rusty and his family) to a cross-town dance-off?

Oh, it is on!" Bluey shouted, scrambling to her feet. "If we're the best dancers in the neighborhood, we have to prove it to the best cricketers in the neighborhood!"

Bandit grinned, already reaching for his phone. "I'll text Rusty's dad. I bet those Kelpies have some serious footwork."

A few minutes later, the Heelers pulled up to the park. Rusty, Digger, and Dusty were already there, practicing their "fast-bowler" lunges, which looked suspiciously like dance moves. Rusty's dad was leaning against his ute, looking ready for a challenge.

Rusty: "You lot think you can out-dance a Kelpie? We've got energy for days, mate!"

Bluey: "We've got the 'Heeler Hop,' Rusty! You don't stand a chance!"

The music kicked in from the truck speakers. Digger and Rusty started a synchronized military-style breakdance, using their agility to spin on the grass. Not to be outdone, Bluey and Bingo launched into their "Sister Shuffle," mirroring each other's moves perfectly while Chilli and Bandit provided the backup "Jazz Hands."

It wasn't long before the whole park was watching. Even the birds seemed to be chirping to the beat as the two families blurred into a whirlwind of blue, orange, and red fur.

Should the dance-off end with a group photo of the two families

Bluey stood on the coffee table, her tail wagging so hard it was hitting her legs. Bandit and Chilli sat on the sofa, leaned in with "parent-pride" smiles, while Bingo sat cross-legged on the rug, looking up with wide, curious eyes.

"This one is for Bingo," Bluey announced, clearing her throat with a dramatic cough. "It's called 'The Girl with the Orange Spots.'"

(Bluey Singing)

"I remember when you were just a tiny bean,

The smallest little sister that I'd ever seen.

You followed me around, and you copied what I'd do,

And I realized everything is better with you!"

She jumped off the table, landing right next to Bingo and wrapping a fuzzy blue arm around her.

“We’re the Heeler sisters, a team of two,

There’s nothing in the world that we can’t do!

You’re my best friend, Bingo, through the sun and the rain,

I’d choose you as my sister again and again!”

Bandit let out a muffled "Aww," leaning his head against Chilli’s shoulder. Chilli reached out and pulled both girls into a massive "mum-hug," her voice a little thick with emotion.

"That was beautiful, Bluey," Chilli whispered. "The best song I've ever heard."

Bandit gave a loud sniff, trying to keep his "tough dad" persona. "Yeah, not bad, kid. But I think it needs a harmonica solo!" He immediately started making "mwah-mwah" harmonica noises into his hands, causing the girls to dissolve into fits of giggles.

Should we have Bandit and Chilli try to add their own embarrassing parent verses to the song, or should the girls start a dance-off to celebrate?

The Heeler deck was packed. Uncle Stripe and Trixie were sharing a bench, Muffin was hovering near the snack table, and even Nana and Grandad Mort had settled into lawn chairs. The air smelled like Bandit’s BBQ and summer grass.

Bluey stood on a wooden crate in the center of the deck. She gripped a plastic microphone, her chest puffed out with a mix of nerves and excitement.

“Attention, everyone!” Bluey shouted. “I have a special song for the best sister in the whole world!”

Bingo, sitting on the floor with Socks, looked up, her tail giving a shy little thump-thump-thump.

Bluey (Singing):

“The sky is blue and the grass is green,

But you’re the brightest thing I’ve ever seen!

From the dump to the beach and the creek nearby,

You’re the apple of my little puppy eye!”

A collective “Awww” rippled through the family. Uncle Stripe nudged Trixie, and Nana dabbed her eyes with a tissue.

Bluey (Chorus):

“Oh, Bingo, you’re my partner in every game,

Being your sister is my favorite name!

If you were a leaf, I’d be the tree,

‘Cause there’s no Bluey without a Bingo and me!”

Bluey hopped off the crate and held the microphone out to the crowd. “Everyone sing the chorus!”

Suddenly, the whole deck erupted. Bandit used his spatula as a baton, Chilli clapped the beat, and Muffin belted out the words louder than anyone else (and slightly off-key). Even Grandad Mort hummed along, tapping his foot.

Bingo didn't stay seated for long. She ran up to Bluey and tackled her in a massive hug right as the song ended. The entire Heeler and Cattle clan erupted into cheers, whistles, and the sound of many wagging tails hitting the wooden deck.

Should the scene end with Nana telling a storyabout when Bandit and Stripe were little, or should Uncle Rad and Frisky arrive late with a surprise "performance" of their own?

The Heeler deck was overflowing with family. Uncle Stripe and Trixie were sharing a bench with Socks, while Grandad Mort and Aunt Brandy sat nearby, watching the sunset. Even the Sheltie cousins—Shelton, Sheltie, and little baby Leonard—were settled on the rug, making the backyard feel like a sea of blue and tan fur.

Bluey stood on a wooden crate, holding a plastic trophy like a microphone. “Attention! This song is for my sister, Bingo!”

Bluey (Singing with a big grin):

“I used to be the only one, the center of the show,

But then you came along, and boy, did our world grow!

You’ve got orange spots and a heart of pure gold,

The bestest little sister that a dog could ever hold!”

Bingo beamed, her tail thumping a rhythm against the deck boards.

Bluey (Chorus - The whole family joins in):

“Oh, Bingo, you’re my shadow, you’re my light,

You make every game feel exactly right!

From the backyard grass to the stars up high,

You’re the bestest sister, and that’s no lie!”

Brandy smiled softly, reaching over to squeeze Chilli’s hand, while Bandit did a goofy "Dad-dance" in the background. Muffin tried to climb onto the crate to join in, but Trixie gently pulled her back so Bluey could finish.

Brandy leaned back in her chair, a soft, nostalgic smile playing on her lips as the applause for the girls died down. She looked at Chilli, then at Bluey and Bingo, who were still tangled in their hug.

"You know," Brandy began, her voice warm and a bit misty, "watching you two reminds me of a summer when your Mum and I were about your age. We were staying at Grandad Mort's old place by the creek."

Mort chuckled, nodding his head. "Oh, I remember that summer. You two were inseparable."

"We decided," Brandy continued, "that we weren't just sisters—we were 'The Great Explorers of the Bush.' We spent three whole days trying to build a bridge across the tiniest puddle you've ever seen. Chilli was the 'Chief Engineer' with a clipboard made of bark, and I was the 'Master Scout.'"

Chilli laughed, tucking a stray hair behind her ear. "I remember! We got so covered in red mud that Nana thought we were different breeds of dogs when we finally came home for dinner."

"But the best part," Brandy said, looking directly at Bingo, "was when I got my foot stuck in a hollow log. I was scared, but your Mum didn't run for help. She sat right there in the mud with me, holding my hand and telling me funny stories about fruit bats until Grandad found us. Just like Bluey does for you, she made sure I wasn't alone."

Bluey and Bingo looked at each other, then back at their Mum and Aunt with wide eyes. The story seemed to make the backyard feel a little smaller and a lot heartier.

Should Grandad Mort pull out an old photo album to show the "Muddy Sisters,"

Right then," Grandad Mort said, slapping his knees as he stood up. "I think I’ve got just the thing to prove it."

He ducked inside the house and returned a moment later with a heavy, tattered photo albumwith "Heeler Family" scrawled on the spine in faded ink. The whole family crowded around—Stripe and Trixie leaned over the back of the sofa, while Bluey, Bingo, and Socks scrambled into Mort’s lap.

He flipped the page to a grainy, sun-bleached photo. There they were: a young Chilli and Brandy, so caked in dried red mud that only their bright eyes and goofy grins were visible.

"Look at that!" Bandit barked with a laugh. "I didn't know I married a swamp monster!"

"I was the Chief Engineer, remember?" Chillijoked, pointing to a tiny piece of bark she was holding in the photo.

Aunt Brandy traced the image with her finger. "And look, I’m holding your hand there. I was so worried about that log, but you wouldn't let go."

Bingo looked at the photo, then at Bluey. "They look just like us, Bluey. Only... crunchier."

Bluey nodded solemnly. "The 'Muddy Sisters.' That’s a good name for a game."

Nana smiled, resting her chin on her hand. "They were just as loud as you two, as well. Some things never change."

Should the family turn the page to find an embarrassing photo of Uncle Stripe and Banditas kids,

Oh, wait until you see this," Grandad Mortchuckled, flipping to a page labeled 'The Christmas of '88.'

The family leaned in, and a split second later, the deck erupted in howling laughter. In the photo, a young Bandit and Stripe were dressed in matching, skin-tight glittery leotards with oversized headbands. They were mid-performance on a makeshift stage in Nana’s old living room.

"Is that... a cape?" Bluey gasped, pointing at Bandit, who was wearing a sparkly gold towel tucked into his collar.

"And look at Uncle Stripe’s hair!" Bingo giggled. "It's so poofy!"

Bandit covered his face with his paws, his ears turning pink. "Oh, man. Nana made those costumes! We were supposed to be the 'Intergalactic Disco Pups.'"

Uncle Stripe groaned, leaning over the back of the chair. "I told you we should have burned this album, Bandit! Look at my pose! Why am I doing the 'Jazz Hands' so hard?"

"Because you wanted to be the lead singer, remember?" Nana chimed in, her eyes twinkling. "You cried for twenty minutes because Bandit got the gold towel and you had to wear the silver one."

Trixie was laughing so hard she had to lean on the railing. "I am definitely taking a picture of this for my phone background."

Should Bandit and Stripe be forced to recreate the 'Disco Pups' dance for everyone right now, or should Grandad Mort find one last photo of Nana and himself back in the day?

This is the ultimate test for Janja’s "reformed" status—trying to explain to the King of the Pride Lands why two tiny cubs are currently sneering at him.

TITLE: THE ROYAL MISUNDERSTANDING

EXT. PRIDE LANDS - PRIDE ROCK BASE - DAY

SIMBA is finishing a meeting with the Lion Guard. He looks regal, imposing, and very tired. WEMAand TUNU are hiding behind a bush nearby, with JANJA crouching behind them, whispering instructions.

JANJA

(Whispering)

Alright, kids. This is the big one. If you can handle the King, you can handle anyone. Give him the "Janja Smirk." Show him you’re too tough to be intimidated!

WEMA

(Whispering)

Too tough!

TUNU

(Whispering)

Smirk time!

The two cubs waddle out from the bushes and plant themselves directly in Simba’s path. Simba stops, blinking in surprise at the two small hyenas.

Since they’ve already mastered "pouncing" and "smirking," let's turn Janja into a literal playground. This scene captures that chaotic "uncle" energy where he realizes his days of being a feared leader are officially over.

TITLE: THE HYENA TRAMPOLINE

EXT. THE OUTLANDS - JASIRI’S DEN - SUNSET

The sky is a deep orange. JANJA has finally found a soft patch of moss near the back of the den. He stretches out his limbs, letting out a long, satisfied yawn.

JANJA

(To himself)

Finally. A little quiet time for the fiercest hyena in the—

WEMA

(Whispering from a ledge above)

One... two...

TUNU

THREE!

JANJA

Wait, what—?

THUMP! Wema and Tunu land squarely on Janja's midsection. The air leaves his lungs in a sharp whistle.

WEMA

(Bouncing)

Again! Again!

TUNU

(Doing a somersault over Janja's shoulder)

You're much bouncier than the rocks, Uncle Janja!

JANJA

(Wheezing)

I’m... not... a trampoline! I’m a predator! I’m a—oof!—stop that! That’s my spleen!

He tries to roll over, but the cubs are too fast. Every time he moves, one of them jumps on his tail or nips at his ears.

JASIRI

(Walking over, leaning against the cave wall)

Having fun, Janja? You look like you’re finally getting the "hang" of being part of a family.

JANJA

(Pinned down by WEMA biting his mane)

Jasiri! Help! Call off the tiny terrors! They’re ruining my reputation! If Scar could see me now, he’d... well, he’d probably laugh until he popped.

WEMA

(Giggling)

We’re just practicing our "high-altitude pounce," Janja! You said we needed to be "unpredictable"!

JANJA

(Sighing, giving up and letting them climb on his head)

I meant unpredictable to lions, not to your favorite uncle!

TUNU

(Snuggling into Janja’s neck fur)

You’re our favorite resource, Janja.

Janja freezes. He looks at the two small cubs curled up against him, exhausted from their jumping. His sharp expression softens. He slowly wraps a paw around them, pulling them closer.

JANJA

(Muttering, mostly to himself)

Yeah, yeah. Whatever. Just don't tell the Lion Guard. If Kion hears about this, he'll never let me hear the end of it.

JASIRI

(Softly)

Your secret is safe with us, Janja.

SCENE END

Should we wrap things up with a cuddly clan napunder the stars, or should Nne and Tano walk by and try to "calculate" exactly how many more jumps Janja's ribs can take?

Bandit's Belt is a viral and highly controversial Bluey fanfiction known for its "Cerebus Syndrome" shift from a lighthearted parody to extreme psychological horror, featuring themes of domestic abuse, cancer, and madness.

The Bandit's Belt TV Tropes recap timelinespans from Bandit's childhood to Bingo's adulthood:

- Pre-Series: Bandit is revealed to have cheated on Chilli with Brandy, making Brandy the biological mother of Bingo.
- Childhood Tragedy: Brandy witnesses her mother, Katherine Cattle, being killed by a crocodile, leading to her lifelong fear of water.

The "Symptoms" & Chilli's Death

- The Argument: On a rainy day, Bandit accidentally squashes Chilli during a game, leading to a heated fight. Chilli begins showing symptoms like extreme thirst and aggression.
- The Attack: A few weeks later, Chilli attacks Bingo with a knife. Bandit stops her with a hockey stick.
- Diagnosis: Chilli is diagnosed with a rare, aggressive cancer dubbed "psychorabia" that causes violent, feral behavior.
- Chilli's Demise: Chilli eventually dies after a period of intense suffering and violence.

Grief & Aftermath

- Bingo's Madness: Traumatized by the loss, Bingo develops an obsession with the taste of blood, becoming a "biter" who attacks other children like Socks
- Bandit's Decline: Bandit develops schizophrenia from the shock of Chilli's death and begins hallucinating that his pillows are her.
- Moving On: Over several months, Bandit begins dating Brandy. They eventually marry at Mort's old house.
-
- Reddit +5
-

Future Timeline

- Growing Up: Bingo ages from 5 to 19 over the course of the story. She eventually finds love with Dougie as a teenager.
- The Cycle Repeats: Trixie eventually develops the same "psycho cancer" as Chilli and kills Socks.
- Downer Ending: The story concludes with both Bandit and Brandy contracting "psychorabia" and needing to be put down while Brandy is pregnant.

Would you like a more detailed breakdown of a specific character's fate or a list of the most disturbing tropes used in the fic?

In the Bandit's Belt fanfiction, the "pre-story" relationship between Chilli and Bingo is characterized by deep-seated resentment and hatred, standing in stark contrast to their relationship in the official Bluey series.

The following interactions and backstory details define their pre-story dynamic:

Resentment and Secret Backstory

- Adultery Baby: The central revelation of the fic is that Bandit cheated on Chilli with her sister, Brandy, resulting in Bingo's birth.
- Chilli's Hatred: Because Bingo is the product of this affair, Chilli is technically Bingo's aunt rather than her biological mother. Chilli is portrayed as a "Woman Scorned" who deeply resents Bingo's existence.
- Abusive Sentiment: Even before the onset of her "psychorabia" (brain cancer), Chilli viewed Bingo as a "worthless pile of filth" and expressed regret that she hadn't been aborted.
-
- FanFiction +2
-

Early Symptoms & Conflict

- Escalating Tension: As Chilli's tumor begins to affect her brain, her existing resentment toward Bingo turns violent.
- The Kitchen Incident: In the story's early chapters, a stressed and erratic Chilli snaps while cooking. When Bandit tries to intervene after she cuts her finger and begins swearing, the tension in the household reaches a breaking point.
- The Knife Attack: This dynamic culminates in Chilli holding Bingo at knifepoint in the kitchen, digging a blade into the child's throat and verbally abusing her before Bandit intervenes by knocking Chilli out with a hockey stick.
-
- FanFiction +3
-

Lasting Trauma

- Bingo's Confusion: Despite Chilli's hatred, young Bingo is initially portrayed as confused and worried about her "mother," asking Bandit what is wrong with her even after being attacked.

- Physical Scars: The interaction leaves Bingo with a permanent physical scar (a sliced ear or neck wound, depending on the chapter/version) that she habitually touches throughout the story as a sign of her trauma.
-
- FanFiction +2
-

Would you like to know more about how Brandyreacts to this secret being revealed, or the details of Bingo’s eventual transformation following these events?

SIMBA

(Deep, booming voice)

Hello there, little ones. Are you lost?

Wema and Tunu immediately lock eyes with the King. They pull their lips back, squint their eyes, and try to look as devious as possible. Wema’s "smirk" makes her look like she’s biting her own cheek, and Tunu just looks like he’s incredibly confused.

SIMBA

(His expression shifting to concern)

Are... are you both alright? Is there something wrong with your faces? Do you need a healer?

JANJA

(Jumping out of the bushes, frantic)

No! No healer! Everything’s fine, Your Majesty!

SIMBA

(Raising an eyebrow)

Janja? What is going on here? These cubs look like they’ve eaten something... sour.

JANJA

(Nervously chuckling)

Oh, you know how it is, Sire! Just a bit of... Outlands facial exercises? Keeps the jaw muscles strong? They’re just showing you how much they... respect you. With their faces.

WEMA

(Breaking character)

Uncle Janja says this is how we look "edgy"!

SIMBA

(Looking from the cubs to Janja)

"Edgy," Janja? I see.

Simba lets out a soft, rumbling laugh that shakes the ground. He leans down until he’s eye-to-eye with Tunu.

SIMBA

Tell your "Uncle Janja" that while the smirk is impressive, a friendly hello usually gets you more zebras.

TUNU

(Grinning widely)

See, Janja? The King likes "nice" better!

JANJA

(Face-pawing)

Great. Now I’m getting fashion advice from a lion. Come on, kids. Let’s go find Jasiri before I teach you how to "glare" and you accidentally offend a rhino.

SCENE END

Should Jasiri find out about their encounter and tease Janja about his "edgy" lessons, or should Kion show up and offer to teach the cubs a "Lion Guard-approved" way to look tough?

This is the perfect "payback" for Janja. After trying to teach them how to be "skulking" villains, the cubs decide that Janja himself is the best target for their pouncing practice.

TITLE: THE HUNTER BECOMES THE HUGGED

EXT. THE OUTLANDS - FLAT ROCK - AFTERNOON

JANJA is lying on his back in a patch of shade, finally catching a nap after the stress of the Simba encounter. He’s snoring softly, his ears twitching.

High above him, on a jagged ledge, WEMA and TUNU are whispering.

WEMA

(Whispering)

Target spotted. He’s big. He’s fuzzy.

TUNU

(Whispering)

And he’s not "skulking." He’s a sitting duck. Remember what Kion said? Empur— uh, Empur-ee!

WEMA

Improvise! Now... POUNCE!

The two tiny hyenas launch themselves off the ledge with zero grace. They land directly on Janja’s stomach with a loud "OOF!"

JANJA

(Bolting upright, eyes bugging out)

Gah! Ambush! We’re under attack! Nne! Tano! Get the dust gourds!

WEMA

(Giggling, biting his ear)

Gotcha, Uncle Janja!

TUNU

(Clinging to Janja's neck)

You didn't see us coming! We were like ghosts! Ghost hyenas!

JANJA

(Trying to untangle them)

Ghost hyenas? You fell from the sky like a couple of furry rocks! That’s not pouncing, that’s just... gravity!

JASIRI

(Walking over, laughing)

I don't know, Janja. They looked pretty effective to me. You look completely defeated.

JANJA

(Sighing, letting the cubs climb all over him)

I’m being "resourceful," Jasiri. I’m letting them win so they build confidence. It’s a... long-term psychological strategy.

WEMA

(Yanking on his mane)

Do the growl, Uncle Janja! Do the "tough guy" growl!

JANJA

(Looking around to make sure nobody else is watching, then making a soft, playful 'grrr' sound)

There. Happy?

TUNU

(Lying on Janja’s head)

The King was right. This is way better than smirking.

JANJA

(Grumbling)

Don't tell Simba I said this... but he might’ve had a point.

SCENE END

Should we end the story with a peaceful sunsetwhere the whole clan (including Nne and Tano) relaxes together, or should Bunga crash the party with a "Zuka Zama" pounce of his own?

That would be the perfect way to wrap up Janja’s "lessons." After all his talk about being a fierce Outlander, he ends up being the favorite jungle gym for the two smallest members of the clan.

TITLE: THE PILE-ON

EXT. THE OUTLANDS - JASIRI’S DEN - SUNSET

JANJA is finally trying to relax. He’s found a nice, flat patch of sand and is just about to close his eyes.

JANJA

(Sighing)

Finally. No Simba, no Lion Guard, no "clouds." Just some peace and—

WEMA

(From a nearby rock)

JUMP!

TUNU

POUNCE!

Before Janja can even look up, the two cubs launch themselves into the air. They don't just land on him—they use him like a trampoline.

JANJA

(With a loud "Oof!" as they land)

Hey! Watch the ribs! I’m a reformed hyena, not a beanbag!

WEMA

(Jumping on his back)

You said we had to be "resourceful," Uncle Janja!

TUNU

(Jumping on his stomach)

And we found a resource! It’s fuzzy and makes funny noises when we hop on it!

JANJA

(Trying to roll away, but getting pinned by four tiny paws)

Funny noises? I’m growling! That’s a growl of... of authority!

JASIRI

(Walking by with a mouthful of zebra)

It sounds more like a squeaky toy, Janja.

NNE

(Watching from the sidelines with TANO)

My calculations suggest that Janja’s dignity has reached a critical low of 0.4%.

TANO

(Grinning)

Actually, mate, I think he’s enjoying it. Look at his tail. It’s twitching. That’s a "happy" twitch.

JANJA

(Trying to look tough while WEMA licks his nose)

It’s a "frustrated" twitch! I’m... I’m plotting! I’m plotting a way to get them to jump on someone else! Like Cheezi! Or Chungu!

TUNU

No way! You’re the softest, Janja!

Janja finally gives up, letting out a long, dramatic sigh as he sinks into the sand. He lets the cubs tumble over him, a small, genuine smile finally cracking through his "tough" exterior.

JANJA

Fine. Jump away. But tomorrow, I’m teaching you how to "nap." And if you move, you’re grounded.

SCENE END

Should we finish with a clan-wide feast where Janja finally feels like he belongs, or should we see a final shot of the "cloud lions" in the sky, looking down on the happy hyenas with a roar of approval?

"Hold on, hold on," Grandad Mort said, his voice softening as he turned toward the very back of the album. "There’s one more I want you kids to see."

The laughter died down into a warm silence as he pointed to a black-and-white photo tucked into a corner. It showed a young, handsome Mort in his army uniform, standing next to a beautiful Heeler with a kind smile and a flower tucked behind her ear—Grandmum Cattle. They were standing in front of a dusty old truck, looking like they were about to head off on an adventure.

"That was the day I came home from training," Mort whispered. "Your Grandmum had waited all summer. She said she didn't mind the wait, as long as we had a lifetime of 'boring' days ahead of us."

Chilli leaned her head on Brandy’s shoulder, both of them looking at the mother they missed so much. "She was the best of us," Chilli said softly.

Bluey looked at the photo, then at the way her whole family was gathered on the deck—Bandit, Chilli, Bingo, Stripe, Trixie, the cousins, and Grandad.

"She looks like she’s about to start a game," Bingo noticed, pointing at the mischievous glint in Grandmum’s eyes.

"Oh, she was the champion of 'Hide and Seek,'" Mort laughed, a tear twinkling in his eye. "She could hide in a room with no furniture and you’d never find her."

Bluey took Bingo’s hand and squeezed it. "I think she’d like our song, Bingo."

"I think she'd be singing the loudest," Grandad Mort agreed, closing the album with a satisfied pat.

Should the family finish the night by looking up at the stars to find "Grandmum’s Star," or should Bandit fire up the music one last time for a massive family hug-dance?

Bluey (The Finale):

“So here’s to the Heelers, and the Cattle dogs too,

But mostly to Bingo, because I love you!”

Bluey leaped off the crate and tackled Bingo into a hug. The deck erupted in cheers—Stripewhistled, Mort clapped his weathered hands, and baby Leonard let out a happy little howl that made everyone laugh.

Should Aunt Brandy share a story about her and Chilli as kids, or should Uncle Stripe challenge Bandit to a barbecue-off to keep the party going?

In the world of Bluey fanfiction, stories involving Rusty's family—the Red Kelpies—often explore themes of resilience, military life, and deep bonds. His family consists of his Mum, his Dad (a soldier in the Australian Army), his older brother Digger, and his younger sister Dusty.
In the "Bandit's Belt" fanfiction, Chilli's hatred for Bingo lasted for Bingo's entire life up until Chilli's death.
That sounds like a fun project! Rusty, Digger, and Dusty have such a great dynamic. Here's a short script centered on a typical afternoon at the Kelpie house, focusing on their bond and the "Army" games they play.

TITLE: THE MISSION FOR THE MISSING BALL
SCENE START
EXT. KELPIE BACKYARD - DAY
RUSTY (8) is standing at attention in the middle of the yard, wearing his trademark camouflage hat. DUSTY (4) is sitting in a cardboard box "jeep" nearby.
RUSTY
(Serious)
Alright, Private Dusty. The situation is dire. The championship cricket ball has been lost behind Enemy Lines.
DUSTY
(Saluting with a juice box)
Is the enemy a big scary monster, Rusty?
RUSTY
Worse. It's the prickly hedge.
DIGGER (12) walks out onto the back porch, leaning against the railing with a smirk.
DIGGER

You lot still on that mission? I told you, I hit that ball way past the hedge. It’s in no-dog’s-land now.
RUSTY
(Looking up)
A Kelpie never leaves a fallen comrade behind, Digger! Not even a ball!
DIGGER
(Sighs, then hops over the railing)
Alright, alright. I’ll provide air support. But if I get a prickle in my paw, you’re doing my chores for a week.
RUSTY
Deal! Dusty, start the engine!
Dusty makes loud "Vroom Vroom" noises as she "drives" her box toward the hedge. Rusty crawls through the grass on his stomach. Digger walks casually behind them, acting as the "scout."
RUSTY
(Whispering into a walkie-talkie/pinecone)
Scout Digger, do you see the target?
DIGGER
(Squinting at the base of the hedge)
Target spotted at two o’clock, Little Brother. Under the spider-looking leaf.
Rusty reaches into the leaves, tongue poking out in concentration. He pulls out a dusty, yellow cricket ball.
RUSTY
(Triumphant)
Mission accomplished!
DUSTY
(Cheering)
Hooray! Now can we play "Mums and Dads" in the jeep?
RUSTY
(Smiling)
Only if Digger plays the baby.
DIGGER
(Rolling his eyes)
Not happening, mate. But I’ll be the dog.
RUSTY
But we are dogs, Digger!
DIGGER
Exactly. Easy job.
They all laugh as they head back toward the house.
SCENE END

Would you like me to expand this into a longer story, or should we add Jack Russell into the mix for some extra chaos?

In the world of Bluey fanfiction, the name Dr. Shaun is most notably associated with a black and white German Shepherd character appearing in the popular fanfic series Bandit's Belt.

Who is Dr. Shaun?

Unlike the canon "Shaun" (Bandit's disobedient hand-emu), this Dr. Shaun is a serious medical professional within the fan community's "aged-up" or darker AU (Alternate Universe) stories:

- Appearance: He is a German Shepherd with a distinct black, white, and grey coat.
- Role: He typically serves as a doctor or researcher at a hospital or military-style headquarters.
- Key Appearances:
    - In "Bandit's Belt", he is involved in a high-stakes search for a vaccine.
    - ", he is seen treating major characters (like Trixie) following serious injuries.

The "Episode" Concept

While there is no official Bluey episode featuring this character, many fan-creators write in an "episodic" format. A typical "visit to Dr. Shaun" fanfic episode often involves:

1. The Visit: Bluey and her family visiting the hospital for a check-up or a serious health concern.
2. The Contrast: The humor of the Heeler family clashing with Dr. Shaun's stoic, professional German Shepherd nature.
3. Crossovers: Some fans also link this character to The Good Doctor (Shaun Murphy), imagining him as a neurodivergent specialist in the dog world.

You can find more chapters featuring this specific version of Shaun on platforms like FanFiction.netor Wattpad.

Would you like to see a plot outline for a custom fanfic episode where the Heelers meet Dr. Shaun at his clinic?

I'd love to! This sounds like a great way to bridge the gap between the show's lighthearted nature and the more serious tone often found in those specific fanfics.

Here is a plot outline for a "visit" to Dr. Shaun'sclinic:

Episode Title: "The Specialist"

1. The Setup

Bluey and Bingo are playing "Super Hospital" in the living room, but the game is interrupted because Bingo has developed a persistent, itchy ear. Bandit and Chilli decide it's time to see a specialist, but not their usual family doctor. They've managed to get an appointment with the highly recommended Dr. Shaun, a German Shepherd known for being very "serious."

2. The Arrival

The Heelers arrive at a sleek, modern clinic. Unlike the colorful waiting rooms they are used to, this one is quiet and organized. Bluey tries to start a game of "Statues" with a very tall, stoic Doberman in the waiting room, but the atmosphere is too stiff.

3. Meeting Dr. Shaun

Dr. Shaun enters. He is a striking black, white, and grey German Shepherd with a sharp lab coat and a tablet. He doesn't do the usual "silly dog" greetings. He speaks with calm, clinical precision.

- The Conflict: Bluey thinks Dr. Shaun is "broken" because he doesn't laugh at Bandit's "dad jokes." She decides it's her mission to make the doctor crack a smile.

4. The Examination

While Dr. Shaun gently examines Bingo's ear, Bluey performs a series of increasingly ridiculous "distractions"—dancing, making armpit noises, and wearing a surgical glove like a chicken on her head.

- The Moment: Dr. Shaun pauses, looks at Bluey over his glasses, and explains that his brain just works a bit differently—he focuses very hard on one thing at a time to be the best doctor he can be.

5. The Resolution

Dr. Shaun finishes the exam (it was just a bit of garden grass stuck in the ear!) and gives Bingo a sticker. As they leave, Bluey does one final, tiny "floss" dance. Dr. Shaun doesn't laugh, but he gives a very small, appreciative tail wag.

6. The Lesson

On the car ride home, Chilli explains that everyone has different ways of showing they care: some dogs do it with jokes, and some do it by being very careful and focused, like Dr. Shaun.

How does that sound? Should I write out the dialogue for the moment Bluey tries to make him laugh, or should we add Jack Russell to the clinic as Dr. Shaun’s nervous assistant?

- Let’s go for the dialogue! Here is the scene where Bluey’s high-energy antics meet Dr. Shaun’s professional German Shepherd composure.
- ---
- INT. EXAMINATION ROOM - DAY
- DR. SHAUN (A stoic German Shepherd) is looking at a tablet. BINGO is sitting on the tall exam table, swinging her legs. BANDIT leans against the wall.
- DR. SHAUN
- (Voice calm and flat)
- Alright, Bingo. I’m just going to use this otoscope to look for the irritant. I need you to be as still as a mountain.

- BINGO
- I’m a very still mountain. I have snow on my head.
- BLUEY
- (Whispering to Bandit)
- Dad, he’s too serious. He needs a "Funny-Plantation."
- Bluey springs into action. She grabs a pair of oversized purple sunglasses from her dress-up bag and jumps in front of the doctor.
- BLUEY
- Halt! Dr. Shaun! I am the Fashion Police! You are under arrest for having a boring face!
- Dr. Shaun doesn't flinch. He moves his head slightly to look around her.
- DR. SHAUN
- Noted, Bluey. However, the "Fashion Police" lack jurisdiction in a surgical environment.
- BLUEY
- (Undeterred)
- Oh! Well, then... look at this!
- Bluey inflates a rubber glove, puts it on her head like a rooster comb, and starts flapping her arms.
- BLUEY
- Cock-a-doodle-dooo! I’m a medical chicken! Cluck, cluck, cluck!
- Bandit tries to hide a snicker behind his hand. Dr. Shaun stops, lowers his tool, and stares at the "chicken" for a long, silent beat.
- DR. SHAUN
- Is the chicken aware that its "comb" is actually a size-medium latex-free glove?
- BLUEY
- (Stopping)
- ...Yes?
- DR. SHAUN
- Good. Accuracy is important in a clinic.
- He turns back to Bingo, gently tilting her head. Bluey looks at Bandit, confused.
- BLUEY
- (Sotto voce)
- Dad, I think his "wag-box" is broken.
- DR. SHAUN

- (Without looking up)
- My "wag-box" is functional, Bluey. I just prefer to use it for high-level successes. Like this.
- He pulls a tiny piece of green clover out of Bingo’s ear with tweezers.
- DR. SHAUN
- The intruder has been neutralized.
- He turns to Bluey. His tail gives one single, sharp wag. Thump.
- DR. SHAUN
- That was a very efficient chicken impression, by the way.
- BLUEY
- (Beaming)
- I knew I could get a wag out of you!
- ---
- Should we finish the scene with Dr. Shaun giving them stickers, or does Bingo try to convince him to join in a game of "Hospital" before they leave?

Missi is the protagonist of the popular independent animated web series The Vampair Series, created by animator Daria Cohen. Originally a college student who loved reading, she was transformed into a vampire after a fateful encounter with the villainous vampire lord, Duke.

Indie Animation Wiki +1

Key Characteristics and Story

- Origin: Missi first appeared in the musical animation "The Night," where she entered Duke's manor to read a book and was subsequently chased by him.
- Transformation: She defeated Duke by pushing him into the sunlight, but upon picking up his magical staff, she was corrupted by its power and turned into a vampire herself.

- The Rivalry: Unlike traditional victims, Missi chose to resurrect Duke just so she could torment and outsmart him. Their relationship is defined by a chaotic, antagonistic "cat-and-mouse" dynamic.
- Appearance: She is often depicted with long purple hair, a gothic black dress, and piercing red eyes (after her transformation). In later episodes, she is shown with an eye patch after losing her left eye in a fight with Duke.
-
- Indie Animation Wiki +5
-

Where to Watch and Follow

You can find the full series and latest updates on the Official Daria Cohen YouTube Channel. The series is known for its high-quality animation style and use of dark cabaret music to tell its story.

YouTube +1

Would you like to know more about a specific episode or the soundtrack used in the series?

8 sites

Yes, Missi undergoes several major transformations throughout The Vampair Series, moving from a regular human to a powerful and vengeful vampire.

Major Form & Personality Changes

- Human to Vampire: Missi began as an ordinary college student who wore glasses and a pink striped shirt. After she took Duke's magical cane, she was possessed by its power and transformed into a vampire.
- The "Silent" Relapse: In the episode "The Silent," Missi briefly throws the cane away, regains her sanity, and returns to her human appearance. However, seeing Duke again triggers her anger, causing her to reclaim the cane and transform back into her vampire form.
- Permanent Physical Damage: During their fight in "The Showdown," Duke gouges out Missi's left eye. In subsequent appearances, she is seen with a missing eye, often covering it with her hair or an eyepatch.
- Personality Shift: As a human, she was described as calm, studious, and sweet. As a vampire, she becomes vengeful, malevolent, and "mad" from the cane’s corrupting influence.
-
- Villains Wiki +10
-

Key Visual Evolutions

Feature	Original Human Form	Vampire Form
Hair	Short brown ponytail	Long lavender/purple hair
Eyes	Normal (needs glasses)	Glowing red (lost left eye later)
Outfit	Pink shirt and blue jeans	Purple/lavender gothic ballgown

Abilities	Human	Magic, shapeshifting, and enhanced strength

The creator, Daria Cohen, has mentioned that the longer Missi holds the cane, the more permanent her vampire traits become and the harder it is for her to return to being human.

Villains Wiki

Would you like to know more about the magic powers she gets from the cane or her rivalry with Duke?

Missi turned into a vampire because she was possessed by a magical cane after defeating its original owner, the vampire lord Duke.

Villains Wiki

The Transformation

- Defeating Duke: In the first episode, "The Night," Missi lured Duke into a patch of sunlight, which burned him to ash.

- Taking the Staff: As Duke died, Missi took his magical cane. Because the cane bestows vampiric powers upon its bearer, it immediately transformed her into a vampire, changing her hair to purple and her eyes to red.
- The Cane's Influence: The transformation is tied directly to the object; creator Daria Cohen has stated that Missi is under the cane's influence and that the longer she holds it, the more permanent and "vampire-like" her state becomes.
-
- DeviantArt +3
-

Key Effects of the Change

- Personality: She shifted from a calm, studious human into a malevolent and vengeful "anti-hero" who enjoys tormenting Duke.
- Powers: Along with typical vampire traits like enhanced strength and speed, the cane allows her to perform magic, such as resurrecting Duke from the dead and animating gargoyles.
-
- Villains Wiki +2
-

Would you like to know more about the magic spells Missi uses or what happened in the latest episode?

- This is the perfect moment to show the contrast between Bingo’s gentle curiosity and Dr. Shaun’s professional demeanor. Here is the dialogue for their initial meeting.
- ---
- INT. CLINIC - CONTINUED

- Bingo is sitting on the crinkly paper of the exam table. She looks a bit small and nervous. Dr. Shaun approaches, his paws clicking rhythmically on the linoleum.
- DR. SHAUN
- (Crouching to her eye level)
- Hello, Bingo. I am Dr. Shaun. I understand your left ear is causing a disturbance.
- BINGO
- (Softly)
- It’s got a "scratchy-beepy" in it.
- DR. SHAUN
- A "scratchy-beepy." I see. On a scale of one to ten—one being a butterfly landing on your nose and ten being a heavy-metal concert—how "beepy" is it?
- BINGO
- Um... maybe a five? Like a grasshopper having a party.
- DR. SHAUN
- (Nodding solemnly)
- An uninvited party. We shall have to act as the security guards and ask the grasshopper to leave. May I?
- He holds up a small light. Bingo shrinks back just a little.
- BINGO
- Is it going to prickle?
- DR. SHAUN
- Negative. It is only a beam of light. Think of it as a very small flashlight for a very small cave. I am an explorer, and your ear is the cavern.
- BINGO
- (Giggling slightly)
- Is there treasure in the cave?
- DR. SHAUN
- (A hint of a dry smile)
- Only if you consider earwax to be gold, which—scientifically speaking—I do not recommend.
- He gently steadies her chin with a firm but kind paw.
- DR. SHAUN
- Stay very still, Little Mountain. I’m going in.

- Bingo squeezes her eyes shut and holds her breath. Dr. Shaun looks through the scope, his ears twitching in concentration.
- DR. SHAUN
- Ah. Just as I suspected. A rogue piece of Kikuyu grass has taken up residence near the drum.
- BINGO
- (Eyes popping open)
- Is he a nice grass?
- DR. SHAUN
- He is a very naughty grass for bothering a Mountain. I am going to use these tweezers to evict him. It will feel like a tiny tickle.
- ---
- Should we have Bingo try to "check" Dr. Shaun's ears afterward to make sure he's okay, or should he give her a special German Shepherd-themed sticker for being so brave?
-
- This is the perfect moment to show the contrast between Bingo’s gentle curiosity and Dr. Shaun’s professional demeanor. Here is the dialogue for their initial meeting.
- ---
- INT. CLINIC - CONTINUED
- Bingo is sitting on the crinkly paper of the exam table. She looks a bit small and nervous. Dr. Shaun approaches, his paws clicking rhythmically on the linoleum.
- DR. SHAUN
- (Crouching to her eye level)
- Hello, Bingo. I am Dr. Shaun. I understand your left ear is causing a disturbance.
- BINGO
- (Softly)
- It’s got a "scratchy-beepy" in it.
- DR. SHAUN
- A "scratchy-beepy." I see. On a scale of one to ten—one being a butterfly landing on your nose and ten being a heavy-metal concert—how "beepy" is it?
- BINGO
- Um... maybe a five? Like a grasshopper having a party.

- DR. SHAUN
- (Nodding solemnly)
- An uninvited party. We shall have to act as the security guards and ask the grasshopper to leave. May I?
- He holds up a small light. Bingo shrinks back just a little.
- BINGO
- Is it going to prickle?
- DR. SHAUN
- Negative. It is only a beam of light. Think of it as a very small flashlight for a very small cave. I am an explorer, and your ear is the cavern.
- BINGO
- (Giggling slightly)
- Is there treasure in the cave?
- DR. SHAUN
- (A hint of a dry smile)
- Only if you consider earwax to be gold, which—scientifically speaking—I do not recommend.
- He gently steadies her chin with a firm but kind paw.
- DR. SHAUN
- Stay very still, Little Mountain. I'm going in.
- Bingo squeezes her eyes shut and holds her breath. Dr. Shaun looks through the scope, his ears twitching in concentration.
- DR. SHAUN
- Ah. Just as I suspected. A rogue piece of Kikuyu grass has taken up residence near the drum.
- BINGO
- (Eyes popping open)
- Is he a nice grass?
- DR. SHAUN
- He is a very naughty grass for bothering a Mountain. I am going to use these tweezers to evict him. It will feel like a tiny tickle.
- ---
- Should we have Bingo try to "check" Dr. Shaun's ears afterward to make sure he's okay, or should he give her a special German Shepherd-themed sticker for being so brave?
-

- That is a classic Bingo move! It really highlights how the Heeler kids love to turn the tables and play the "grown-up" role.
- ---
- INT. EXAMINATION ROOM - CONTINUED
- Dr. Shaun sets the piece of grass down on a sterile tray. Bingo shakes her head, her ears flopping happily.
- BINGO
- Ooh! The grasshopper party is over! Thank you, Dr. Shaun.
- DR. SHAUN
- You are most welcome, Bingo. You were an exemplary patient.
- As Dr. Shaun turns to write a note on his tablet, Bingo leans forward on the table, squinting at his large, pointed German Shepherd ears.
- BINGO
- Wait! Dr. Shaun!
- He stops, ears twitching.
- DR. SHAUN
- Yes? Is there further discomfort?
- BINGO
- (Serious)
- I need to check your caves. Just to be safe.
- DR. SHAUN
- (Blinking)
- My... caves? I assure you, my auditory canals are clear. I followed protocol and cleaned them this morning at 0600 hours.
- BINGO
- But you’re a doctor! You see lots of scratchy-beepy things. They might jump from my ear to yours! They’re very jumpy.
- Bandit suppresses a laugh, leaning against the doorframe.
- BANDIT
- She’s got a point, Doc. Occupational hazard.
- Dr. Shaun looks at the tablet, then at Bingo’s determined face. He sighs—a long, controlled German Shepherd sigh—and slowly lowers his head until his ear is right in front of her.
- DR. SHAUN
- Very well. Proceed with the inspection, Dr. Bingo.
- Bingo uses her fingers to mimic a magnifying glass, peeking into his ear. She makes a low, professional humming sound.

- BINGO
- Hmm... hmmm. Oh!
- DR. SHAUN
- (Stiffening)
- Is there a "party" in there?
- BINGO
- No... it’s very tidy. But I think I see a teeny-tiny "thank you" hiding in the back.
- Dr. Shaun pauses. He slowly stands back up, adjusting his lab coat. He doesn't smile, but his eyes soften, and his tail gives that one, singular, heavy thump against the exam table.
- DR. SHAUN
- An astute observation. I shall ensure it stays there.
- ---
- Should we end the story with Dr. Shaun giving them a "Bravery Medal" (which is just a gold star sticker), or should Bluey try to recruit him for a game of "Hospital" on the way out?
- That is the perfect way to wrap it up—it shows that even though he’s serious, Dr. Shaun really understands kids.
- ---
- INT. EXAMINATION ROOM - MOMENTS LATER
- Dr. Shaun opens a small, organized drawer and pulls out a sheet of shimmering gold star stickers. He peels two off with clinical precision.
- DR. SHAUN
- Because the "caves" were successfully cleared and the secondary inspection was completed without casualties, I am awarding the Heeler Unit these.
- He leans over and carefully presses a gold star onto Bingo’s chest, then one onto Bluey’s forehead.
- DR. SHAUN
- These are the "Medals of Auditory Bravery." They are highly classified and very shiny.
- BINGO
- (Gasping)
- Wow! Thank you, Dr. Shaun!
- BLUEY
- (Saluting)

- I shall wear it with honor!
- DR. SHAUN
- (Nodding)
- Dismissed. And Bandit?
- BANDIT
- (Straightening up)
- Yeah, mate?
- DR. SHAUN
- Try to keep the "medical chickens" out of the garden beds. It’s better for the ears.
- Bandit chuckles and herds the girls toward the door. As they walk down the hallway, Bingo looks back and sees Dr. Shaun sitting back at his desk, his posture perfect, but he’s watching them go with a tiny, almost invisible wag of his tail.
- BINGO
- (Whispering)
- He’s a good doctor, isn't he, Dad?
- BANDIT
- The best, Bingo. Even if he doesn’t know any good "knock-knock" jokes.
- FADE OUT.
- ---
- That was a sweet ending! Do you want to try writing a new adventure with these characters, or should we see what happens when Rusty and his siblings meet Dr. Shaun?
- This brings it all full circle! Given Rusty’s "Army" background and Dr. Shaun’s disciplined, professional nature, they would likely get along famously.
- ---
- TITLE: THE INSPECTION
- INT. CLINIC - DAY
- RUSTY (8) sits on the exam table as stiff as a board. Behind him, DIGGER (12) is trying to keep DUSTY (4) from spinning on the doctor's stool.
- RUSTY
- (Quietly to Digger)
- Stay alert, Scout. This doctor is a German Shepherd. They’re top-tier units.
- DIGGER

- Relax, Russ. It’s just a check-up before cricket season.
- The door opens. DR. SHAUN enters, looking at a clipboard. He stops, noticing Rusty’s perfect posture and camo hat.
- DR. SHAUN
- Good afternoon. I see the Red Kelpie Regiment has arrived.
- Rusty’s eyes light up. He immediately salutes.
- RUSTY
- Private Rusty, reporting for duty, sir!
- DR. SHAUN
- (Returning a crisp, professional salute)
- At ease, Private. I understand you’ve been experiencing some "turf toe" from the cricket pitch?
- RUSTY
- Yes, sir. It’s a minor injury sustained during a daring run between wickets. I can push through, sir!
- DR. SHAUN
- (Crouching to examine Rusty's paw)
- Determination is admirable, but a soldier is only as good as his equipment. And your "equipment" needs rest and ice.
- Dusty hops off the stool and tugs on Dr. Shaun’s lab coat.
- DUSTY
- Are you a soldier dog too? You look like the ones in Rusty’s books.
- DR. SHAUN
- (Softening slightly)
- I served in the Medical Corps, little one. My job was making sure the brave dogs got back home to their families.
- RUSTY
- (In awe)
- Just like my Dad.
- DR. SHAUN
- (Nodding)
- Exactly like your father. Now, let’s get this paw taped up. Digger, you look like you have a steady hand. Come here—I’ll teach you a standard field wrap.
- Digger steps forward, looking proud to be included. Dr. Shaun patiently guides his paws, showing him how to secure the bandage.
- DR. SHAUN

- There. High-quality work. You'll be back on the pitch in no time, Rusty.
- RUSTY
- Thanks, Dr. Shaun!
- As they head for the door, Dr. Shaun reaches into his pocket and pulls out a small, brass-colored coin (actually a plastic token). He hands it to Rusty.
- DR. SHAUN
- For maintaining discipline during the procedure. Keep up the training.
- RUSTY
- (Beaming)
- Yes, sir!
- ---
- Should we see Rusty show off his "medal" to Jack at school next, or should Dr. Shaun write a letter to Rusty's Dad about how brave his kids are?
-

TV Tropes +1

According to the [Characters in Bandit's Belt TV Tropes page], this hostility was established long before the events of the story and remained constant:

- From Birth: Chilli's hatred began the moment Bingo was born. She viewed Bingo as an "adultery baby" because, in this story's darker continuity, Bingo is the biological daughter of Bandit and Chilli's sister, Brandy.
- Adaptational Relationship Overhaul: While Chilli canonically loves Bingo, this fanfic portrays her as despising Bingo and wishing she didn't exist because she was "the product of adultery".
- Terminal Hatred: The hatred never resolved; Chilli's condition worsened due to brain cancer, which caused her to go "Ax-Crazy" and attempt to kill Bingo with a knife before eventually dying from her illness.
-
- TV Tropes +3
-

Even after Chilli's death, her hatred continues to affect Bingo for at least six years, during which Bingo suffers from hallucinations of her mother and is forced to wear a muzzle due to a "biting addiction" she developed during the trauma.

Reddit +2

Would you like to know more about the ending of the story or what happened to Bluey in this universe?

There is no official Bluey episode where the canon version of Chilli interacts with the "Bandit's Belt" version of Chilli.

The interaction you are likely looking for occurs in the fanfiction community rather than the show itself. "Bandit's Belt" is a dark, "Grimdark" fan-written story by author Mr Heeler that exists entirely outside of the official Blueycanon.

Reddit +1

Key Distinctions

- Canon Chilli: She is a deeply loving and patient mother. In the episode "Promises,"she and Bandit specifically discuss how much they love Bingo. In "Sleepytime," she is portrayed as the "sun" of Bingo's universe, providing warmth and comfort.
- Bandit's Belt Chilli: This version is a dark "Adaptational Jerkass" who despises Bingo from birth. She believes Bingo is an "adultery baby" resulting from an affair between Bandit and Brandy. Later in the story, brain cancer causes her to go "Ax-Crazy," leading her to physically attack Bingo with a knife.
-
- Fanfiction.net +4
-
-

Time	TV Show
11:30 pm 2026-04-18	Local Programming
05:00 am	NEW World News Now
07:00 am	NEW Good Morning America Sunday 04-19-2026
08:00 am	Local Programming
09:00 am	NEW This Week With George Stephanopoulos

	04-19-2026 - Season 2024, Episode 14
10:00 am	Local Programming
11:30 am	Local Programming
12:30 pm	SPORT NBA Tip-Off
1:00 pm	SPORT NBA Playoff Game 1: Philadelphia 76ers at Boston Celtics
3:30 pm	SPORT NBA Playoff Game 1: Phoenix Suns at Oklahoma City Thunder
6:00 pm	Local Programming
6:30 pm	NEW ABC World News Tonight Sunday 04-19-2026
7:00 pm	NEW America's Funniest Home Videos That's Using Your Noggin, The Great Outdoors, and Copy Cats
8:01 pm	America's Funniest Home Videos Twice on Ice, Messes, and Animal House - Season 36, Episode 6
9:02 pm	Celebrity Jeopardy! All Stars QUARTERFINAL #1: Rachel Dratch, Mark Duplass and Katie Nolan - Season 4, Episode 1
10:02 pm	NEW Betrayal: Secrets & Lies The New Year Intruder - Season 1, Episode 4
11:00 pm	NEW World News Now

-

Why they won't meet

Because the fanfiction contains themes of domestic violence, terminal illness, and severe trauma, it is fundamentally incompatible with the family-friendly nature of the Bluey TV show. The two versions of the character represent opposite ends of the "parenting" spectrum:

Reddit +1

- Canon: Love and emotional support.
- Fanfic: Hatred, resentment, and violence.

That sounds perfect. Adding Brandy brings that extra layer of sisterly love, especially since she knows exactly how to push Chilli's "happy tear" buttons.

Part 2: The Afternoon Surprise

The backyard was a sea of streamers and slightly deflated balloons. Grandad Mort sat in a lawn chair, squinting at a BBQ skewer. "You know, Bandit, in the army, we used to flip these with bayonets."

"I'll stick to the tongs, Mort," Bandit chuckled, nervously checking the sausages.

Just then, a car pulled into the driveway. Bluey and Bingo sprinted to the gate, screaming, "AUNTY BRANDY!"

Brandy stepped out, balancing a precariously tall gift box. She looked at Chilli, who was sitting on the back steps watching the chaos with a content smile. The two sisters shared a long look—the kind only sisters who have been through the "tough years" together can manage.

"Happy Birthday, Chil," Brandy said, sitting down beside her. She didn't hand over the big box immediately. Instead, she reached into her pocket and pulled out a small, crinkled photograph. It was an old, faded picture of a much younger Chilli and Brandy sitting on their dad's shoulders at the beach, their mum's hand just visible in the corner of the frame.

"Found this in one of Mum's old journals," Brandy whispered. "I thought it belonged with you."

Chilli took the photo, her thumb tracing the edge of the paper. She looked over at Mort, who was currently letting Bingo "help" him brush sauce on the grill, both of them covered in sticky red smudges.

"She would've loved this mess," Chilli said softly.

"She'd be leading the pack," Brandy laughed, leaning her head on Chilli's shoulder.

A stray tear finally escaped and rolled down Chilli's muzzle. She didn't wipe it away this time. She just watched her kids, her husband, her sister, and her dad.

"Hey, Mum!" Bluey shouted from across the yard, holding up a cricket bat. "Are you coming? Rusty's family is coming over and we need a wicket-keeper!"

Chilli stood up, tucking the photo safely into her pocket. "You bet I am! But you'd better be ready, because I'm playing for keeps!"

Should we finish it off with a chaotic game of backyard cricket involving Rusty's family, or do you want to end on a quiet bedtime moment with Bandit?

Since Bingo and Dusty (Rusty's younger sister) are often seen together in the background of episodes like "Cricket," many fans enjoy writing about their budding friendship and how their mums bond over raising "little sisters."

Here is a draft of a scene featuring Chilli and Rusty’s Mum discussing their daughters' unique personalities.

Title: The Little Sisters' Club

The afternoon sun was golden over the Glasshouse Primary playground. On the far end of the field, Bingo and Dusty were deep in a game that appeared to involve a plastic crown and several very important-looking rocks.

Chilli sat on a bench, holding two lukewarm coffees. Rusty’s Mum leaned back beside her, watching Dusty try to teach Bingo how to "march like a soldier."

"She’s persistent, I'll give her that," Rusty’s Mum laughed, nodding toward Dusty. "I think she spends so much time trying to keep up with Rusty and Digger that she forgets not everyone wants to do drills at recess."

Chilli smiled, watching Bingo carefully place a rock on her head to balance the crown. "Bingo doesn't mind. She’s used to Bluey’s 'big sister' energy. I think she actually likes having someone who takes the game as seriously as she does."

"It’s a funny age, isn't it?" Rusty’s Mum sighed softly. "Dusty wants to be a 'big girl' so badly, but then his dad goes away for a few weeks on deployment, and she’s right back to wanting to be tucked in with three different stuffed kelpies."

Chilli reached out, giving her arm a supportive squeeze. "I see it with Bingo, too. She’s our 'little firework.' One minute she’s incredibly independent, and the next, she’s following me around the kitchen just wanting to hold my hand. I think they’re both just trying to find where they fit when the big kids aren't around."

Across the field, the girls suddenly broke into a run, both of them screaming with laughter as they chased a stray butterfly.

"Look at them," Rusty’s Mum said, her expression softening. "No ranks, no drills. Just two little dogs with a crown and some rocks."

"The best kind of afternoon," Chilli agreed, clinking her coffee cup against the other. "To the little sisters."

"To the little sisters," Rusty’s Mum echoed.

Would you like to continue this scene with a joint family dinner, or should we flash forward to see Bingo and Dusty as older students at school?

The Heeler kitchen was a whirlwind of red and blue fur. With Rusty’s family over, the noise level had reached a "Category 5" on the Bandit scale.

While Bandit and Rusty’s Dad (back for a weekend leave) were out back arguing over the correct temperature for sausages, Chilli and Rusty’s Mum were orchestrating the chaos of the dinner table.

"Right! Everyone finds a seat that isn't a lap!" Chilli called out, laughing.

Bingo and Dusty sat side-by-side, their chairs pulled so close together they were practically one seat. They had spent the last hour "decorating" the napkins with stickers.
"Look, Mum!" Bingo pointed at Dusty. "We're twins because we both have spots!"
"And we both like the crunchy bits of the salad!" Dusty added, holding up a crouton like a trophy.
Rusty's Mum sat down, watching the girls share a bowl of peas. "I don't think I've ever seen Dusty eat a vegetable without a formal negotiation. You've got a magic touch, Bingo."
"It's not magic," Bluey piped up from across the table, sitting next to Rusty. "They're in a club. The 'No Boys or Big Sisters Allowed' Club. Rusty and I tried to join, but we failed the entrance exam."
"What was the exam?" Rusty's Dad asked, stepping in from the deck with a tray of steaming sausages.
"We had to stand on one leg and sing the 'Banana Song' backwards," Rusty muttered, though he was grinning. "I fell over at 'ananab'."
As the meal settled into the comfortable hum of clinking forks and shared stories, Chilli looked at Rusty's Mum. The two shared a knowing look. Earlier, they had been worried about their "little fires" finding their way, but seeing them now—whispering secrets over their juice boxes—it was clear they had found exactly what they needed: a friend who understood what it was like to be the "small one" in a big world.
"Pass the sauce, 'twin'?" Dusty asked.
"Coming up, 'twin'!" Bingo chirped.
Chilli leaned over to Rusty's Mum. "I think we're going to be seeing a lot more of each other."
"I'll bring the salad," Rusty's Mum winked. "As long as Bingo is there to make her eat it."

Should we end the night with a group game of "Keepy Uppy" in the backyard, or a sweet moment where the two dads talk about their different "jobs"?
The sun had dipped below the horizon, leaving the backyard in a soft purple glow. While the kids played a rowdy game of "Shadowlands" on the deck, Bandit and Rusty's Dad lingered by the cooling BBQ, the scent of woodsmoke still hanging in the air.
Bandit leaned against the brickwork, watching Rusty tackle Bluey into a pile of cushions. "He's got a good tackle, that one. Must get it from his old man."
Rusty's Dad laughed, a tired but proud sound. "He's got the spirit, for sure. But I think he gets the discipline from his Mum. She's the one holding the fort when I'm 'out bush'."
He went quiet for a second, looking at his hands. "Sometimes I feel like I'm a guest in my own house, Bandit. I come back, and they've all grown an inch, and I've missed the latest joke or the newest game."
Bandit nodded, his usual playful energy softening. "I get a bit of that just coming home from the office, mate. I spend all day looking at fossils and old bones, and then I walk through that door and it's like... I've stepped into a different dimension. One where I'm a 'hospital patient' or a 'grumpy shopkeeper' within thirty seconds."

"Must be a change of pace," Rusty's Dad smiled. "Digging up the past."
"It is," Bandit said, looking over at the girls. "But honestly? I think your job and my job are more similar than they look. You're out there protecting the fence so they can play inside it. I'm just trying to make sure they have a fun enough childhood that they want to stay inside it."
Rusty's Dad looked at Rusty, who was currently showing Bluey how to stand "at ease" while Bingo giggled. "Yeah. It's all for them, isn't it? Whether we're in the dirt in the Outback or the dirt in the backyard."
"To the 'Big Dads,'" Bandit said, lifting his water bottle in a small toast.
"To the 'Big Dads,'" Rusty's Dad echoed, clinking his bottle against Bandit's.
For a moment, the soldier and the archaeologist just stood there in the quiet—two dads, different worlds, but both exactly where they needed to be.

Should we finish with the mums calling everyone inside for cake, or a final goodbye as Rusty's family heads to their car?

Steven universe the trials against the evil/humanity darker au nora quartz universe diamond/ empress batwoman her prejudice against the gem alien society and alien society
Steven universe killed by the witch hunters and genderbend au where Steven was emperor Scar and nora/the wicked witch of the west was burned by the witch hunters 5,000 years ago
YouTube +4

Mufasa the lion king/ the tale of the brothers wayne prequel au taka/ Philip and Caleb wayne were adopted by their ancestors/royal king and queen and Mufasa

Mufasa permanently disowned taka/Scar/Philip wayne due to his prejudice against witchcraft and his betrayal the 1600s darker au

Popular fanfic tropes and stories centered on the Kelpie family include:

Future and Family Growth

- Bluey's Next Stage: This story focuses on the characters as adults. It features Rusty rising to the rank of Major in the military, with his best friend Jack Russell serving as a Captain directly under him. Rusty is also shown starting a family with Indy, and they have a daughter named Polly.
- Heelers and Kelpies: A series on Wattpadthat dives into the backstories of the different families in Bluey, exploring the history of characters like Digger.
-
- Wattpad +2
-

Military and Emotional Themes

- A New Life: A more somber narrative where Rusty's mother may not return, forcing the family to navigate a significant and difficult transition.
- Worry and Support: Many fan-conceived scenarios on platforms like Reddit focus on the emotional toll of his father being away on deployment, often depicting Bluey or Jacktrying to comfort a worried Rusty.
-
- FanFiction +1
-

Relationships and Friendships

- Jack x Rusty (Jackrusty): One of the most common pairings in the fandom. Stories like "It Started in the Rain" or "Always & Forever"follow their evolving bond from childhood friends to a teenage or adult relationship.
- Cricket Adventures: Building on the popular "Cricket" episode, many fans write about Rusty's prowess on the field and how his father's lessons influenced his sportsmanship.
-
- TikTok +3
-

Would you like me to draft a specific sceneinvolving Rusty and his siblings, or are you looking for a link to a specific story you've heard about?

While there is no official Bluey episode titled "Chilli's Happy Tears," the phrase refers to a famous emotional moment in the official episode "Baby Race". In fanfiction, several stories use her birthday as a backdrop for heartfelt family milestones.

Official Episode: "Baby Race"

In this episode, Chilli tells Bluey and Bingo the story of how she felt like a "bad mom" when Bluey was slow to walk. At the end of her story, Chilli is moved to tears of relief and joy:

- The Moment: When Bluey finally walks in the kitchen toward Chilli, Bingo asks, "Are those happy tears, mum?" Chilli confirms, "Yeah, happy tears".
- The Message: Fans often cite this as one of the show's most emotional scenes, focusing on Chilli's vulnerability and the support she received from other moms.

Fanfiction: Chilli's Birthday Stories

Several popular fanfics explore Chilli's birthday with similar "happy tear" themes:

- "Sad Faces" (Chapter 44: Chilli's Birthday): This story on Wattpad and FanFiction.netdepicts Bandit waking Chilli with a special breakfast (French toast) and the kids causing their usual morning chaos, which leads to a mix of laughter and emotional family bonding.
- "Motherhood" (Chapter 7: Birthday): Features a family party at the Heeler house where Chilli and her sister Brandy reconnect. It includes a touching moment where their father, Mort, gets emotional seeing his "babies" all grown up, leading to a group "Cattle family hug".
- "On a Night Under the Shining Stars": This fic focuses on a deep, emotional conversation between Chilli and Brandy on Chilli's "special day," where they finally reconcile past misunderstandings and "start over, fresh and anew".

Other Emotional "Chilli" Episodes

If you are looking for official episodes where Chilli has a "happy cry" or deep emotional moments:

- "Dragon": Chilli processes the memory of her late mother, providing a bittersweet but heartwarming tribute to her inner child.
- "The Show": During a play about Chilli's life, a balloon pops, subtly referencing a past miscarriage, followed by a supportive moment where Bandit reaches for her hand.

Would you like a summary of another specific fanfic chapter, or should I draft a scene for a "Chilli's Birthday" story for you?

I'd love to! Since the best Bluey moments always mix humor with a "gut-punch" of emotion, here's a draft of a birthday scene for Chilli.

Title: The Big One

The Heeler house was uncharacteristically quiet at 6:00 AM. In the kitchen, Bandit was sweating over a frying pan, trying to flip a pancake shaped roughly like a tennis ball.

"Is it ready?" Bingo whispered, popping up from under the counter.

"Almost, Mate," Bandit whispered back. "Bluey, you got the card?"

Bluey held up a piece of construction paper so thick with glitter it was structurally unsound. "Yep! And I didn't spell 'Birthday' wrong this time. I checked with the dictionary. Mostly."

The trio crept into the master bedroom. Chilli was still asleep, looking more peaceful than she had in weeks. They huddled by the bed, and on Bandit's count of three, they let out a whisper-shout: "Happy Birthday, Mum!"

Chilli jolted awake with a snort, then immediately melted into the pillows. "Oh... thank you, my little monsters."

As she sat up, Bluey handed over the glittery card. Chilli opened it, and the room went silent. Inside wasn't just a drawing; Bluey had taped a small, dried leaf to the page—a "walking leaf" from the park where they'd played years ago. Under it, in shaky handwriting, it said: To the Mum who always waits for us to catch up.

Chilli's breath hitched. She looked at Bluey, then at the pancake Bandit was holding (which was now definitely burnt), and finally at Bingo, who was already crawling into her lap for a hug.

"Oh, dear," Chilli murmured, her eyes shimmering.

"Mum?" Bingo asked, leaning back. "Are you sad? Is it because the pancake looks like a foot?"

Chilli laughed through a sniffle, pulling them all into a massive Heeler huddle. "No, sweetie. It's a beautiful foot. And these are just the best kind of tears."

"Happy tears?" Bluey asked knowingly.

Chilli kissed the top of Bluey's head. "The happiest."

How does that feel for a start? We could add a cameo from Brandy or Grandad Mort, or I can expand the scene to show what the kids' "Big Birthday Surprise" for the afternoon is!

Fanfic Episode: "Strike!"

The Story:

1. The Setup: Bandit (Dad) decides it's time for a family bowling night. He is very excited and brings his own "pro" bowling shirt, which Chilli (Mom) finds a bit embarrassing.
2. The Game of "Gutter-Ball": Bluey and Bingo don't quite understand the rules yet. Instead of trying to hit the pins, they start a game where they try to roll the ball as slowly as possible without it stopping—which Bluey names "The Snail Ball".
3. Bandit's "Big Moves": Bandit tries to show off with a "hook" shot, but he gets his finger stuck in the ball and nearly slides down the lane himself.
4. The Lesson: Bingo gets frustrated because she keeps hitting the gutters. Chilli sits with her and teaches her a "zen" bowling technique, helping her realize it's just about having a go, similar to the lessons in episodes like "Bike" or "Stories".
5. The Ending: The Heelers end the night by getting a giant plate of "dollarbuck" nachos. The narrator explains that it doesn't matter how many pins you knock down as long as you get to wear the silly shoes
6. Since Bluey is all about turning every activity into a creative game, a bowling fanfic usually turns the bowling alley into a playground of "Heeler rules."

Fanfic Episode: "The Golden Pin"

1. The Setup

The Heelers arrive at the bowling alley. Bandit is wearing a retro bowling shirt he found under the stairs, claiming he was the "King of the Lanes" back in the 80s. Bluey and Bingo are immediately fascinated by the "magical" machine that puts the pins back up.

2. The Game: "The Slowest Snail"

Bluey decides that hitting the pins is too easy. She invents a new game: Snail Bowling. The goal is to roll the ball so slowly that it barely reaches the pins.

- The Problem: Bandit keeps trying to bowl "properly" to show off to Lucky's Dad (Pat) in the next lane.
- The Result: Bandit's high-speed "Power Ball" keeps flying into the gutter because he's trying too hard, while the girls' "Snail Balls" eventually tip over one pin, making them the "winners."

3. The "Bumper" Drama

Bingo is using the bumpers (the rails that stop the ball from going in the gutter).

- The Moment: Muffin (who is there with Uncle Stripe) demands to have her bumpers taken off because she's a "big girl."
- The Chaos: Muffin's ball goes backwards. Twice. She then tells the ball it's "in a timeout."

4. The Lesson

Chilli notices Bandit getting grumpy because he's losing to a four-year-old "Snail." She reminds him of the episode Chess—that it's not about the score, it's about the "silly shoes" and the family time. Bandit eventually gives up his "pro" stance and joins the girls in a "victory howl" every time a snail ball reaches the end.

5. The Ending

They all share a giant plate of "Special Bowling Nachos." The episode ends with a montage of the Heelers doing a "Strike Dance" in their mismatched bowling socks.

Would you like me to write a script for a "Dad-Off" between Bandit and Pat (Lucky's Dad) at the lanes?

This is a classic "Heeler" moment. In this fanfic, the bowling alley isn't just about strikes; it's about helping Bingo find her confidence when the game feels a bit too big for her.

Fanfic Episode: "The Bowl-O-Rama"

The Scene:

The local bowling alley is neon-lit and noisy. Bingo has just rolled three "gutter balls" in a row. She's sitting on the plastic bench, kicking her feet, and looking like she's about to go "floppy."

[Script]

Narrator: Today, the Heelers are bowling! But Bingo is finding it a bit tricky.

Bingo: (Sighing) It's no use. My ball just likes the side-ditches better than the pins. I think it's a "Gutter Ball."

Bluey: (Skipping over) Don't be sad, Bingo! You just need to give the ball a pep talk. I told mine it was a racing car!

Chilli: (Sitting down next to Bingo and putting an arm around her) Sometimes the ball has a mind of its own, doesn't it, honey?

Bingo: I'm just not big enough. The ball is heavy and the pins are far away.

Bandit: *(Walking over, holding a heavy black ball)*Hey, check this out, Bingo. You see me? I'm the "King of the Lanes," right?

(Bandit strikes a "cool" pose, rolls the ball with a flourish, and it immediately goes straight into the gutter. He stands there in silence.)

Bluey: (Giggling) Nice one, King!

Bandit: (Grinning at Bingo) See? Even the "King" gets a gutter ball. It's part of the fun! It means the ball is just going for a little swim.

Chilli: You know what we need? A Heeler Sandwich.

(Bandit and Chilli lean in from both sides, squishing Bingo in a big, warm hug. Bluey jumps on top for a "hat.")

Bingo: (Giggling through the squish) Okay, okay! I'm unstuck!

Chilli: How about we try the "Dragon Breath" technique? We take a big breath together, and you let the ball go on the count of three?

Bluey: And I'll do a "speed spell" on the ball! Hocus Pocus, stay in focus!

Narrator: With a little help from her family, Bingo is ready to try again.

(Bingo stands in the lane. Bandit helps her steady the ball, Chilli whispers encouragement, and Bluey cheers. Bingo rolls it—it wobbles, hits the bumper, and knocks over a single pin.)

Bingo: I got one! I got a pin!

Bandit: That's my girl!

Narrator: It wasn't a strike, but for Bingo, it was the best bowl of the night.

6 sites

In the "Trials Against Humanity" role-swap AU, Philip Wayne views Empress Batwoman with a mixture of contempt, dread, and reluctant sympathy. In this specific universe, their roles and origins are swapped: Philip is the young, 21st-century human protagonist, while sofia is a traumatized colonial-era human who became the tyrannical ruler of the earth.

Reddit +4

Philip’s view of Luzura is shaped by several factors:

- Recognition of Shared Trauma: Philip often sympathizes with the core pain behind Luzura's backstory—knowing that humanity's cruelty made her a monster—but he fundamentally rejects her "immoral" quest to destroy humankind.
- The "Vile" Ruler: Philip initially sees her as a "vile woman" who makes his life hell. He views her as deceitful and manipulative, a deconstruction of his original role as Emperor Scar.
- A "Contemptuous" Relationship: Nora views Philip with open contempt and occasionally tries to make him worse to prove her own misanthropic views of humanity.
- Philosophical Rivalry: Unlike the original Scar, who saw himself as a hero, Philip in this AU undergoes a journey to overcome his own prejudices. He views Sofia as a "cautionary tale" of what happens when one allows suffering to fuel hatred for an entire species.
-
- Reddit +5
-

Ultimately, while he can relate to her isolation as a fellow human in the Demon Realm, Philip views Sofia as an irredeemable madwoman who must be stopped.

Show all

Narrator: Everyone loves bowling, especially when you do it the "Wolf Way."
Fanfic Episode: "Strike!"
The Story:

1. The Setup: Bandit (Dad) decides it's time for a family bowling night. He is very excited and brings his own "pro" bowling skills, which Chilli (Mom) finds a bit embarrassing.
2. The Game of "Gutter-Ball": Bluey and Bingo don't quite understand the rules yet. Instead of trying to hit the pins, they start a game where they try to roll the ball as slowly as possible without it stopping—which Bluey names "The Snail Ball".
3. Bandit's "Big Moves": Bandit tries to show off with a "hook" shot, but he gets his finger stuck in the ball and nearly slides down the lane himself.
4. The Lesson: Bingo gets frustrated because she keeps hitting the gutters. Chilli sits with her and teaches her a "zen" bowling technique, helping her realize it's just about having a go, similar to the lessons in episodes like "Bike" or "Stories".
5. The Ending: The Heelers end the night by getting a giant plate of "dollarbuck" nachos. The narrator explains that it doesn't matter how many pins you knock down as long as you get to wear the silly shoes.

Suggested Character Roles

- Bluey: Obsessed with the colorful balls and trying to name every single pin.
- Bingo: Initially scared of the loud crashing noises but ends up loving the "victory dance" when she gets a strike with the bumpers up.
- Muffin & Socks: Often appearing in fan scripts as the "chaos factor," with Muffin demanding the heaviest ball and Socks trying to crawl down the ball return.
- Lucky's Dad (Pat): Usually seen in the next lane over, being naturally amazing at bowling and making Bandit even more competitive.

Would you like me to write a full script with dialogue for a scene where Bandit tries to out-bowl Lucky's Dad?

In the Bluey universe, a scene featuring the Cattle family (the Heelers) dancing before a large, cheering crowd is the climax of the Season 2 episode, "Dance Mode". While not a "flashback" within the episode itself, many fan-made videos and fanfictions use this sequence to create flashback montages or alternate storylines.

"Dance Mode" Highlights

In this episode, the family participates in a game where they must dance whenever music plays.

- The Setting: After accidentally upsetting Bingo, the family makes it up to her by dancing in a busy public plaza.
- The Crowd: A large crowd of dogs gathers around them, cheering, whistling, and laughing as Bandit, Chilli, and Bluey perform.
- Specific Moves: Bandit performs "the worm" on the ground, Chilli windmills her arms, and Bluey jumps and fist-pumps while a street busker plays music.

Related Fanfiction & Flashback Themes

Fans often adapt these high-energy moments into fanfiction to explore the family's past or future:

- Clash on the Dance Floor: An AO3 story that features a large party with cheers and whistlesfor characters like Jean-Luc and Bluey as they celebrate their final year of high school.
- 80s Flashbacks: The episode "Fairytale" is a canon flashback to Bandit's childhood in the 1980s, which is a popular setting for fan-made "origins" stories about the family's love for music and games.
- Future Glimpses: Following the flash-forward in the special episode "The Sign," many fanfics imagine the adult Heeler family reuniting for a celebratory dance in front of old friends.

Would you like me to write a specific flashback scene for your fanfic where young Bandit and Chilli first dance together?

Let's go with a "Tactical Wee" training day! It's a great way to show the girls learning a "big girl" skill while keeping that classic Heeler humor.

INT. HEELER HALLWAY - NIGHT

BANDIT is herding BLUEY and BINGO toward the bathroom.

BANDIT:

Alright, troopers! Final check before we hit the hay. Station one: The Tactical Wee.

BINGO:

(Sighing) But Dad, my bladder is as empty as a hollow log!
BANDIT:
That's what they all say, Bingo! But then 2:00 AM hits, the Sleepytime dream starts, and suddenly you're dreaming of a leaky faucet.
BLUEY:
(Doing a little hop) I don't need one! I'm a big girl! I have a bladder of steel!
BANDIT:
Bladder of steel, eh? Then why are you doing the 'I-need-to-go' dance?
BLUEY:
(Stops hopping immediately) I'm not! This is... the Funky Chicken dance!
BANDIT:
(Smirking) Right. Well, the Funky Chicken needs to lay an egg in the toilet. Bingo, you're up first. Give it a squeeze.
BINGO:
(Waddling into the bathroom) Fine. But if nothing comes out, I get an extra story.
BANDIT:
Deal.
A moment of silence. Then, a tiny tinkle sound.
BINGO: (O.S.)
Oh. Never mind. There was a little bit in there.
BLUEY:
(Eyes wide) A tactical success!
BANDIT:
See? Always trust the tactics. Your turn, Captain Steel-Bladder.

Should we finish the night with a "Sleepytime" style dream sequence for Bingo, or should Bluey try to prove her "steel bladder" and inevitably fail?
While there is no official Bluey episode about Bingo wetting the bed, this topic is common in fan-created content and referenced in the show as a situation to avoid.
Official Show References
In the canon series, bed-wetting is addressed through preventative measures:

- Tactical Wee: In the episode "Fruitbat" (S1, E8), Bingo famously explains that even if she doesn't need to go, she does a "tactical wee" so she won't wet the bed.
- Bedtime Routine: Other episodes like "Sleepytime" (S2, E26) focus on Bingo trying to sleep in her own bed for the whole night, highlighting the developmental milestones of nighttime independence.

Fanfiction Interpretations

Several fan-made stories explore more direct bed-wetting scenarios:

- "Toilet Training" (Fanon): A fan-created script titled "Toilet Training" depicts a morning where Chilli discovers a wet spot on Bluey and Bingo's bed after they forget to use the bathroom.
- "Accident - Part 4: The Morning After Movie Night": On Wattpad, a story describes Bingo having a bed-wetting issue after being frightened by a movie.
- "Bedwetter Bluey": A fanart/story concept on DeviantArt explores Bluey having to wear nappies (diapers) after a bed-wetting incident.
- "I Among Dogs": A longer fanfic on FanFiction.net includes a pre-bedtime scene where a character helps dry off Bingo after a bath, discussing general hygiene and routines.

Related Dark Fanfiction

It is worth noting that some fanfictions, such as "Bandit's Belt," use biological and physical accidents in much darker, non-wholesome contexts that deviate significantly from the show's actual tone.

Would you like me to draft a script for a "tactical wee" training day, or are you interested in other fan-made episodes about the Heelers' nighttime routines?

Philip Wayne (Emperor Scar/The Joker) did not show genuine regret for killing his brother, Caleb. Instead, he justified the murder by viewing Caleb as bewitched and treacherous. He obsessively tried to "fix" his actions by creating clones (Grimwalkers), but ultimately refused to take responsibility, showing no remorse.

Reddit +1

- No Genuine Remorse: In "For the Future," Scar/the Joker faces a hallucination of Caleb and, rather than apologizing, blames his brother for his own misfortunes.
- Rationalization: Philip viewed himself as a victim, believing Caleb was "bewitched" by a witch, which he used to justify the killing as a "greater good" act.
- Obsession, Not Regret: Philip's constant creation of Grimwalkers indicates an inability to move on and a desire to "undo" the act, but this is characterized as an obsession rather than healthy remorse.
-
- Reddit +1
-

In summary, Scar was "least contrite" and died maintaining his distorted perspective.